Stadium Expansion

Commonwealth Stadium has been expanded for the 1999 season. The project will enclose both ends of the stadium, install two large Diamond Vision video boards, and add 40 suites. The stadium is being expanded at a cost of $24 million, with the total number of seats expected to be approximately 68,000.

Double Trouble in the Backfield

Anthony White and Derek Homer have combined for 4,016 rushing and receiving yards in the last two seasons, more than any running back tandem in the Southeastern Conference. Pictured is Homer (42) blocking for White in the Outback Bowl. More than 40,000 Wildcats fans made the trip to Tampa, providing the first sellout in Outback Bowl history.

Daring Defense

The Next Mission

On the Cover

Halfback Anthony White and linebacker Jeff Snedegar are leaders of the 1999 Wildcats.

- A new stadium expansion.
- A new offensive line.
- A new "go-to guy" at wide receiver.
- A new kick returner.
- A new quarterback.

There will be plenty of changes with the University of Kentucky football team in the coming season.

Fortunately, however, not everything will be new. Several familiar faces return on UK's up-and-coming defense as defensive coordinator Mike Major has patiently constructed a unit built around speed, quickness, and a thirst for the big play.

"The Next Mission" for Kentucky football is for the defense to continue its progress while Coach Hal Mumme develops replacements for the '98 offense that generated more yards and more points than any team in school history.

One part of the mission is accomplished already - the selling of season tickets. Even though the expanded stadium adds 10,000 seats, the extra tickets were quickly snapped up by an eager public that is captivated by Mumme's exciting style of football.

Having played in the Outback Bowl last season - Kentucky's first New Year's Day appearance in 47 years - the Wildcats now have their sights set on consecutive bowl appearances for the first time since 1983-84.

Telephones

The Commonwealth Stadium press box is equipped with eight courtesy telephones with long-distance capabilities for use by the media on a first-come, first-served basis. The UK Media Relations Office strongly suggests each media outlet with deadline restrictions should order its own individual telephone line. The official visiting radio broadcast network personnel should be designated in writing by the visiting team's sports information director or athletics director. Four phone lines will be made available, including two in the locker room area, at a cost to be determined by Mike Dodson of Host Communications (606) 226-4678.

Networks wishing to install additional telephone lines, either in the press box booth or locker room, can do so by contacting John Fuller of the UK Phone Services Department at (606) 257-7727.

Postgame interviews

UK Coach Hal Mumme will conduct his postgame press conference in the Wildcat Den, located under the north grandstand in the UK football office complex. Mumme begins his postgame press conference approximately 15 minutes following the conclusion of the contest. The media entrance to the Wildcat Den is located in the northwest corner (nearest flagpole) of Commonwealth Stadium.

The Kentucky locker room is CLOSED to all members of the media. UK players requested for interviews are brought to the Wildcat Den following the conclusion of Mumme's press conference. Interview cards are distributed in the press box during the second half of the contest in order for members of the media to request Wildcats players.

The visitors' locker room is located at the southwest corner of Commonwealth Stadium. A press conference area is located just outside the visitors' locker room entrance. The visiting coach and players generally conduct their respective post-game comments from that area.

Stats 'n' Stuff

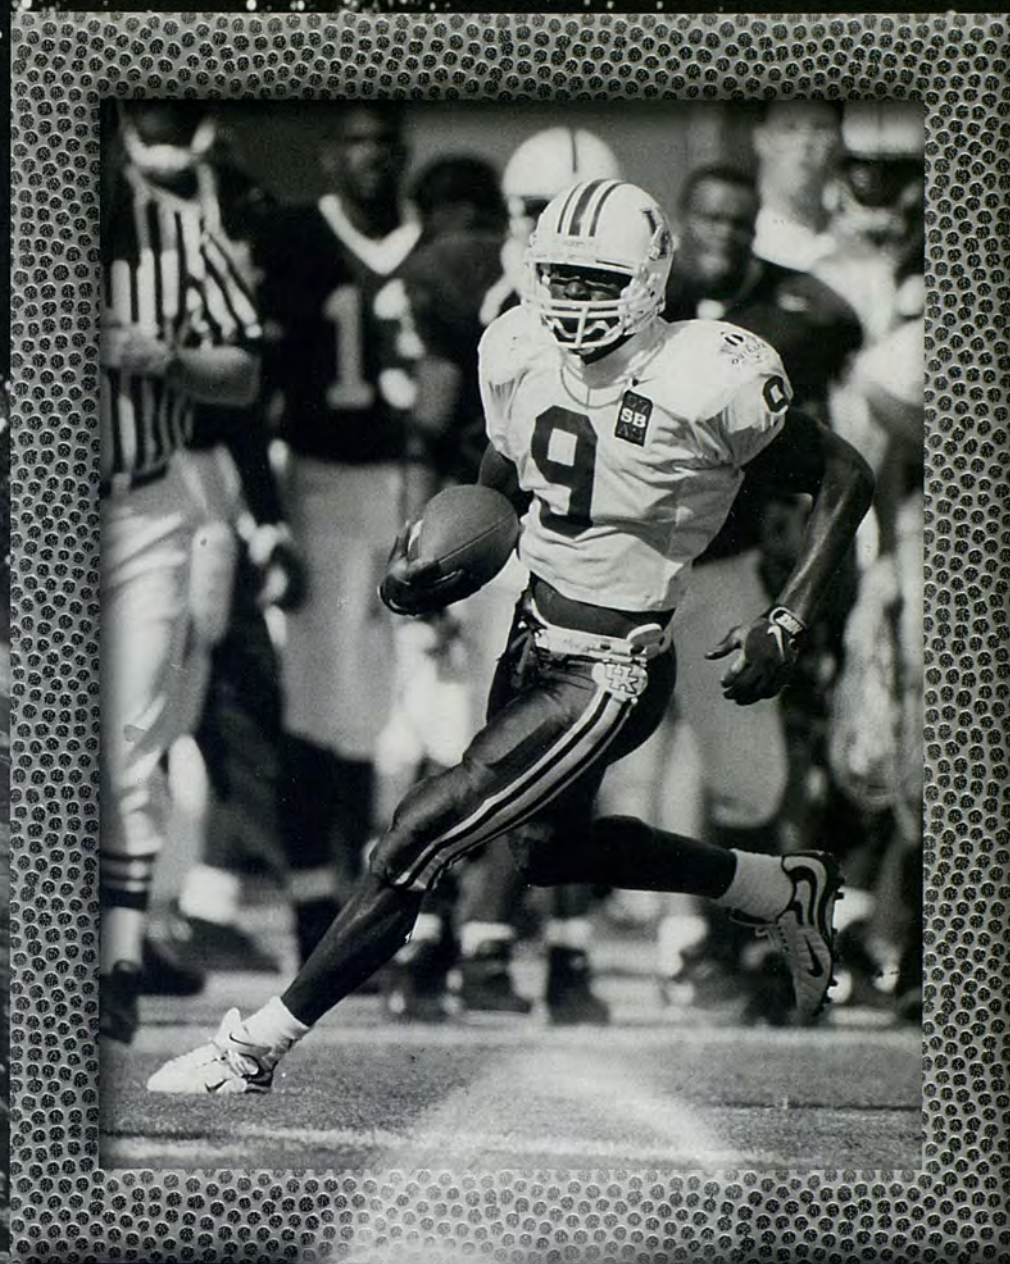

The UK Media Relations Office will provide a complete pregame packet (including facts sheets, flip card, and game program) approximately 30 minutes prior to kickoff. A complete running play-by-play, drive charts and team and individual statistics are made available at the conclusion of the contest. Quotes from coaches and players of both teams are also provided.

A FAX service is also available. Statistics and play-by-play may be accessed after the game via fax-on-demand. Contact the Media Relations Office (606) 257-3838 for details.

Continuing improvement on defense and retooling the most productive offensive machine in school history are on the drawing board as the Kentucky football team prepares for "Air Raid '99: The Next Mission."

Excitement for the new campaign runs high as football fever burns in the Bluegrass. Kentucky comes off a 7-4 regular season that was topped by a trip to the Outback Bowl. Season tickets are sold out for newly expanded Commonwealth Stadium, which now seats approximately 68,000 fans.

Coach Hal Mumme will undertake his third mission at UK with a relatively young squad. Just 11 starters, plus the starting kicker, are back from last season, and only 11 scholarship seniors are on the roster.

Most of that experience is concentrated on defense, where the picture is the brightest it has been for third-year defensive coordinator Mike Major. Major's aggressive, attacking defense is built on speed and quickness, and while there is still room for improvement, the coaching staff believes that it has assembled enough swiftness to be more competitive.

"I think we'll be improved on defense," Mumme said. "Last year we gave up 31.7 points per game and I hope we can continue our improvement and get down in the 20s."

The defensive line was revamped in the off-season in order to get the best front four on the field. The starting line features three seniors, tackles Gordon Crowe and George Massey, along with end Anwar Stewart, all of whom have been starters or key reserves during their careers. At the other end, imposing sophomore Dennis Johnson was a Freshman All-American last season and has received preseason All-America mention this year.

The starting linebackers return intact with senior Jeff Snedegar and junior Marlon McCree on the outside and junior John Rader in the middle. Several impressive young reserves challenge the regulars for their starting roles and give UK its deepest linebacking corps in years.

The secondary has no seniors, but three players with significant starting experience return. Junior Willie Gary is back at free safety after missing most of the 1998 season because of injury. Strong safety David Johnson was an immediate hit in his debut campaign, earning Freshman All-America honors. Steady junior Eric Kelly is back at one cornerback post. Kelly's partner at the other corner is junior Kenneth Grant, who looked good in spring practice but is mostly untested in game conditions. Depth in the secondary is unproven, but appears to have potential.

"We're still a young defense but we're a lot more experienced (than last season)," Mumme said. "If we can solve some of our depth problems in the secondary, we ought to be pretty good."

Experience is somewhat limited on offense, where Mumme must replace eight starters, including departed All-Americans at quarterback and wide receiver.

"We're going to be young," Mumme said. "We have a lot of new starters, so it takes time to learn to play together. I think we can do something akin to 1997, when we had more experienced players but everybody was playing this offense for the first time."

The new offensive squadron leader is sophomore quarterback Dusty Bonner, who redshirted last season after serving as the backup in 1997. Bonner won the job with a sterling spring, completing 65.4 percent of his passes in the four scrimmages with 14 touchdowns and one interception.

Bonner will throw to some veteran talent at the receiver spots. Wide receivers Quentin McCord, Jimmy Robinson and Garry Davis, and tight end James Whalen, Jr., each caught at least 23 passes a year ago. Sophomores Dougie Allen and Vincent Harrison impressed during the spring at wide receiver, as did young tight ends Bobby Blizzard and Chase Harp.

The strength of the offense appears to be at running back, where senior Anthony White and junior Derek Homer are back for their third season together. White and Homer have combined for 4,016 rushing and receiving yards over the past two seasons, more than any duo in the Southeastern Conference. Each is capable as a runner or pass receiver.

The big question is up front, where the Wildcats will field a new offensive line after the departure of five senior starters from a year ago. The tentative lineup features two juniors and three sophomores, left tackle Matt Brown, left guard Aaron Daniel, center Nolan DeVaughn, right guard Josh Parrish, and right tackle Omar Smith.

Despite all the new faces on offense, Mumme was pleased with spring practice and is quite optimistic about that unit's chances for success.

"We expect the same things out of our offense that we've always expected around here," Mumme said. "We expect to score a lot of points and move the ball a bunch."

Special teams also have some rebuilding. Senior Andy Smith is the new punter and new punt and kickoff returners must be chosen. On the plus side, junior kicker Seth Hanson is back, along with senior long snapper Jimmy Haley.

(Returning players only; incoming freshmen will be added to the depth chart in August; returning starters in ALL CAPS)

The team sustained significant losses at wide receiver with the departure of three seniors, including All-American Craig Yeast. However, nine lettermen return, including four wideouts who caught at least 13 passes last season, so numbers don't appear to be a problem. The challenge will be for this young unit to play with the proficiency of the '98 group.

Jimmy Robinson, the starter at the "H" receiver, is the only senior among the wide receivers. He caught 26 passes for 285 yards and two touchdowns last year and should be a greater factor in the coming season ... Junior Quentin McCord is the leading returning wide receiver after snaring 37 passes for 435 yards and three touchdowns last season. He'll start at "Z," has excellent speed, and is elusive in the open field ... Davis and soph Dougie Allen have carried on a spirited contest at the "X" and are likely to share the position in 1999. Davis caught 23 passes last season, including five touchdowns. Allen caught 13 balls a year ago and his performance in the spring skyrocketed.

Reserves include junior Jermaine White (four catches for 107 yards and two touchdowns last season) and sophs Vincent Harrison (3-109-2), Neal Brown (2-10-0), Mike Beirne (1-3-0), and Mitt Crowe (3-18-0 in 1997). Harrison was impressive in the spring, although his playing time was limited because of his duties as the starting shortstop on the baseball team. The coaching staff is eager for a full look at him in August ... Crowe is back after a redshirt season ... White, Brown, and Beirne provide depth, although any or all of the three could be redshirted ... Four talented freshmen will have the opportunity to break into the playing rotation.

Coach Mumme ...

"That's an area of strength for us. Quentin McCord had a great season last year, except for the games he missed with an injury. We think he's going to make a great flanker. In the spring, Vincent Harrison really came on even though we only had him for three workouts. He's a guy with a knack for making plays. We're pretty solid at flanker. Mitt Crowe had a good spring and is kind of our utility receiver. We'll probably redshirt some of the other guys.

James Whalen, Jr. leads a talented list of UK tight ends. Whalen caught 23 passes for 239 yards and three touchdowns last season.

"At split end, Garry Davis and Dougie Allen each had an excellent spring. We have some talented freshmen coming in that we'll look at. We'll probably redshirt Neal Brown. He had a good spring, we just need him to get stronger.

"Jimmy Robinson is the slot receiver. He's a senior and a proven player. We're hoping he can stay healthy for us all season. We expect big things out of him. Alex Herman and Edgar Gantt also worked there in the spring."

Tight Ends

TE	James Whalen, Jr.	6-4	231	Sr-2L
	Bobby Blizzard	6-7	264	Fr-HS
	Chase Harp	6-4	220	Fr-RS
	Cheddi Acham	6-3	215	Sr-1L

In terms of talent and depth, this could be the most formidable position on the team, even though last year's starter, Jimmy Haley, has moved to defensive tackle ... Senior James Whalen caught 23 passes for 239 yards and three touchdowns last year. A former wide receiver, he has worked hard to gain the size and strength necessary to carry out the blocking assignments. His receiving skills make him an inviting target ... Bobby Blizzard entered UK in January and in spring practice showed the ability that made him a high school All-American. Development in the weight room and some additional experience could make him an outstanding player ... Chase Harp moved from quarterback to tight end in the spring and showed an immediate aptitude for the position. He'll see playing time ... Senior Cheddi Acham is capable, but is caught in the numbers logjam. Most of his playing time comes on special teams ... Incoming freshman Derek Smith, one of the nation's top high school prospects, brings more talent and depth to the position.

Coach Mumme ...

"Tight end is a strength for the team. First of all, James Whalen has done a terrific job for us. He's put on some weight and I think he's going to have a terrific senior season. He's also a good guy to help tutor Bobby Blizzard and Chase Harp and our incoming freshman, Derek Smith. We have four really good tight ends and we plan to use them all extensively."

Offensive Tackles

LT	Matt Brown	6-5	298	So-1L
	Roger Sullivan	6-4	251	Jr-Tr
RT	Omar Smith	6-3	291	Jr-1L
	Matt Burke	6-6	288	Fr-RS

Kentucky must replace both starters at tackle, including All-SEC performer Kris Comstock ... Sophomore Matt Brown was thrust into action last season when Jonas Liening was injured. Brown started the last three games, plus the Outback Bowl, and received Freshman All-America and Freshman All-SEC recognition. He's rapidly developing into a good pass blocker and is expected to be a mainstay of the line for the next three seasons ... Junior Omar Smith, coming off a redshirt year, begins the preseason as the starter at right tackle ... The backups are Roger Sullivan, a transfer from Valdosta State, and redshirt freshman Matt Burke, neither of whom have seen major college game action. Burke also could see time at left guard ... Incoming freshmen could contend for immediate playing time.

Coach Mumme ...

"We really think Matt Brown can be a great left tackle for us and look forward to him having a long career as a starter for us. He did a good job stepping in for us last year. At right tackle, we want Omar Smith to step up a notch in his play. He needs a good summer of work. He'll be pushed by Matt Burke and some of the freshmen that come in."

Offensive Guards

LG	Aaron Daniel	6-3	273	Jr-2L
	Matt Burke	6-6	288	Fr-RS
	Jerry Legrand II	6-1	295	So-Sq
RG	Josh Parrish	6-6	318	So-1L
	Tramaine Gaines	6-4	304	Fr-RS

New starters must be found, as both regular guards from last season have departed ... Sophomore Josh Parrish is set at right guard. He saw spot duty last season, then played most of the Outback Bowl after Jeremy Streck was injured in the first series ... Left guard is the only real question mark in the line going into preseason practice. Junior Aaron Daniel led redshirt freshman Matt Burke at the end of the spring, but the situation is far from settled. The coaching staff would like to see one of them rise and claim the spot in August ... Redshirt freshman Trammie Gaines broke one foot last fall, then the other foot during spring practice. The coaches like his potential, but, obviously, he must remain injury-free in order to be a contributor ... Walk-on Jerry Legrand joined the team during the spring ... An incoming freshman could get a chance at winning the starting role at left guard or seeing action as a reserve.

Coach Mumme ...

"We feel that Josh Parrish has come a long way at right guard and is going to be a really good one. Left guard is still open. We have Aaron Daniel penciled in now, but it could be Matt Burke or it could be Trammie Gaines or it could be a freshman. That position will be decided in August."

Centers

C	Nolan DeVaughn	6-5	312	So-1L
	Derrick Johnson	6-2	292	So-1L

Kentucky must find a new center and the coaches believe that sophomore Nolan DeVaughn will fill the bill capably. DeVaughn started at center in the Outback Bowl and played well ... Derrick Johnson moved from defensive tackle to center during the spring. He was playing well until he suffered a fracture/dislocation of his ankle. He should be ready to go in August.

Coach Mumme ...

"We think Nolan DeVaughn is going to be a good center. We like what we see in him. We have to work on the backup position. Derrick Johnson got hurt in the spring, so he didn't get much work. We could move Aaron Daniel in there. It's a role he's had before. We're also looking at making a center out of one of the freshmen. But we really feel good about the starter."

Quarterbacks

QB	Dusty Bonner	6-2	208	So-1L
	Mike Scipione	6-6	233	Fr-RS
	Mark Perry	6-2	191	Jr-Sq
	Corry Doyle	6-0	176	Jr-Sq

Sophomore Dusty Bonner won the Kentucky quarterback derby in the spring. In the four spring scrimmages, Bonner completed 85 of 130 passes (65.4 percent) for 1,291 yards, 14 touchdowns, and one interception. He showed good poise and mobility, along with a knack for reading defenses. He saw limited duty as Tim Couch's backup in 1997, completing 10 of 14 passes for 114 yards, and redshirted last year ... Redshirt freshman Mike Scipione is the backup. He has excellent size and arm strength ... Walk-ons Mark Perry and Corry Doyle are likely to handle the junior varsity team and be available for varsity duty if needed, although Doyle might redshirt ... Freshman signee Jared Lorenzen, Kentucky's 1998 "Mr. Football," will add more talent to the position when he arrives in August.

Coach Mumme ...

"We feel really good about Dusty Bonner. Dusty does a lot of intangibles really well. He has a strong, quick release and has good feet. I like the way he developed during the spring. The other thing about Dusty is that he's a winner. He knows how to win games and has a calmness, an unflappable personality that makes him the best person to follow a guy like Tim Couch. That (following Couch) could be a problem for the next person, but for Dusty I think it won't be.

"In Mike Scipione, I think we have a quality backup. He put some heat on Dusty during the process. He's a raw talent, he just needs some time to develop. Corry Doyle will probably redshirt this year and Mark Perry will be our third quarterback and the JV quarterback."

Fullbacks

FB	Derek Homer	5-11	196	Jr-2L
	A. J. Simon	5-11	231	Sr-2L
	Artose Pinner	5-11	204	Fr-HS
	Martez Johnson	5-10	185	So-1L
	Mike Kamphake	6-0	209	So-1L

Multi-talented junior Derek Homer led the team in rushing last season with 716 yards, averaging 5.2 yards per carry, with seven touchdowns. He has four 100-yard rushing games in his career. He caught 41 passes for 239 yards a year ago. Blitzers enter at their own peril, because he has become a punishing blocker as well ... Senior backup A. J. Simon is used primarily as a blocker ... Freshman Artose Pinner enrolled in January and went through spring practice. He showed excellent balance, as he rarely goes down on the first hit ... Sophomores Martez Johnson and Mike Kamphake give the position good depth, although it is hoped that both will be able to redshirt this season.

Coach Mumme ...

"We'd like to see Derek Homer have a 1,000-yard season. That's our goal for him. He's matured in his two years and had some great plays for us. We want him to consistently be a really good player. He's the best blocker we have in terms of pass protection. He's great at catching balls out of the backfield and turning them into big gains. We're looking for the right run combinations so that he can consistently rip off 100-yard games.

"A. J. Simon is one of our better lead blockers. He's a good utility player, a real hard worker, and does a good job with our special teams. Artose Pinner will probably play some this season so we can get him some experience. We're going to try to redshirt Mike Kamphake and Martez Johnson. We think they're both going to be great players but we'd like to see them get a bit bigger and stronger."

Halfbacks

HB	Anthony White	6-1	195	Sr-2L
	Kendrick Shanklin	5-9	168	So-1L

Versatile Anthony White has gone over the 1,000-yard mark in combined rushing and receiving yardage in each of the past two seasons. He rushed for 437 yards and two touchdowns last season while leading the nation's running backs in pass receptions with 78 catches for 582 yards and one TD. He is one of only 19 players in NCAA Division I-A history who have gone over the 1,000-yard mark in career rushing yardage and career receiving yardage. He has the ability to make tacklers miss in the open field ... Sophomore Kendrick Shanklin was much improved during the spring and is expected to play a significant role as White's understudy.

Coach Mumme ...

"I want Anthony White to have a great year running the ball but I also want him to have a great year catching the ball. He's a threat to do anything back there. He had a great spring and is bigger, stronger, and a step quicker than he's ever been. We look for him to have a great senior season."

"Kendrick Shanklin is an exciting player. I look for him to have a big role. He can play either running back position and also line up as a slot receiver."

Defensive Tackles

DT	GORDON CROWE	6-3	293	Sr-3L
	JIMMY HALEY	6-3	250	Sr-3L
	Richard Hardin	6-6	261	So-1L
DT	George Massey	6-3	285	Sr-3L
	John Robinson	6-4	282	Fr-RS
	Patrick Wells	6-3	255	Fr-RS

Kentucky's defensive interior has been reshuffled following the graduation of both starting tackles ... Senior Gordon Crowe, who made 17 tackles last season as a starting defensive end, returns to the tackle position he played as a reserve in 1996-97. He gives the team good quickness at tackle ... Senior George Massey steps into the other starting tackle slot. He has been a top reserve the past three seasons and made 22 tackles last season, including a pair of quarterback sacks ... Senior Jimmy Haley, who started at tight end last season, moved to tackle in the spring. He made a good showing, especially for a newcomer to the position, and definitely will be in the playing rotation ... Sophomore Richard Hardin and redshirt freshmen John Robinson and Patrick Wells provide depth this season and must get ready to inherit the primary roles in 2000 after the departure of the three seniors at the top of the depth chart.

Senior Anwar Stewart returns to game action after sitting out last season. He was a big-play performer at defensive end in 1997.

Coach Mumme ...

"The experiment with Jimmy Haley went real well and we kind of consider both him and Gordon Crowe as starters; there's very little difference between those two. That will be a good combination for because it gives us two guys with size and speed who can make plays. Richard Hardin is a promising young player who just needs some maturity and more work in the weight room."

"At the other tackle spot, George Massey had a good spring and has played for us. John Robinson came on in the spring and we're hoping he'll have a good fall camp and continue to improve."

Defensive Ends

DE	Anwar Stewart	6-3	238	Sr-2L
	Grayson Smith	6-1	241	Jr-2L
	Chris Demaree	6-4	235	So-1L
DE	DENNIS JOHNSON	6-7	255	So-1L
	Matt Layow	6-4	245	Jr-2L
	Adrian Patton	6-4	234	So-1L

Anwar Stewart returns to active duty after being ineligible last season. Stewart was a big play performer in 1997, making four quarterback sacks in a reserve role. He was a force in the spring and his return enabled the defensive staff to move Gordon Crowe back to tackle ... Sophomore Dennis Johnson already is a fixture at the other end. He made 26 tackles last season, including a couple of quarterback sacks and a number of other big plays, despite being significantly impaired by an injured wrist. He was chosen second-team Freshman All-America. With a year of experience, a healed wrist, and an off-season in the weight room, the sky is the limit for Johnson, who has already been chosen a preseason All-American by the College Football News internet site ... Junior Matt Layow gives the team a dependable, experienced reserve. He made 15 tackles last season, including a sack, and intercepted a pass at Florida and returned it for a touchdown ... Junior Grayson Smith made 12 tackles as a reserve end last season but missed the spring while recovering from off-season knee surgery ... Sophs Chris Demaree and Adrian Patton hope to work their way into playing time.

Coach Mumme ...

"We're glad Anwar Stewart is back. He's a force to be reckoned with. He made some big plays in '97 and has put on about 10 or 15 pounds since then. He'll give us a good complement to Dennis Johnson at the other end. Behind them, we have some quality depth. Grayson Smith is coming off a knee injury but he gave us some good snaps last year. Chris Demaree is a promising sophomore and Matt Layow had some big plays for us last year. We feel Adrian Patton will be a great player in the future."

Linebackers

OLB	JEFF SNEDEGAR	6-2	243	Sr-3L
	Jamal White	6-3	218	So-1L
	Lee Wesley	6-0	218	Sr-3L
MLB	JOHN RADER	6-5	250	Jr-2L
	Ryan Murphy	6-2	233	So-1L
	Matt Schneider	6-3	224	So-1L
OLB	MARLON MCCREE	6-1	205	Jr-2L
	Ronnie Riley	6-2	215	So-1L
	Chris Gayton	6-2	208	So-1L
	Morris Lane	6-1	204	Fr-RS

Kentucky goes into the preseason in great shape at linebacker, with all three starters returning and quality depth at every position ... Senior Jeff Snedegar plays with remarkable intensity and is the emotional leader of the defense from his strongside linebacker position. He enters his third season as a starter with 202 tackles in his career, including 20 tackles for loss and seven quarterback sacks ... Snedegar is backed by soph Jamal White and senior Lee Wesley. White looked like a budding star in the spring and Wesley, a starter in 1997, does a solid job when called upon.

Junior John Rader is the incumbent at middle linebacker after accounting for 39 tackles last season, but he was pushed hard in the spring by sophomore Ryan Murphy. Murphy, redshirted last year, made 34 tackles as a frosh in '97. Their competition in preseason practice should be a doozy ... Soph Matt Schneider also has shown potential. He could be a special teams performer.

Speed is of the essence at the weakside linebacker and the Wildcats have plenty of it. Junior Marlon McCree accounted for 55 tackles last season and led the team in tackles for loss (11) and quarterback sacks (seven). He has become a daring blitzer and, as a former safety, also provides excellent pass coverage ... Soph Ronnie Riley is cut out of the same mold as McCree. He had 18 tackles last season, including three for losses, and played well when subbing for McCree in the Outback Bowl ... Soph Chris Gayton and redshirt freshman Morris Lane moved up from safety during the spring and each made a good impression on the coaching staff.

Coach Mumme ...

"The linebacking corps is really a strength for us. Jeff Snedegar, John Rader, and Marlon McCree were the starters last year and they're all back, but all of them are being pushed. Jamal White had an outstanding spring. You look at that spot and you have Snedegar, White, and the guy who started in '97, Lee Wesley, all stacked at one position, so that's definitely a strength."

"At middle linebacker, it's the same thing with John Rader and Ryan Murphy. Ryan actually had a better spring than John, so that will be an interesting race in the fall."

"Same thing at the weakside linebacker

... Marlon McCree had a great season last year, but Ronnie Riley played a lot for us and he had a good spring, as did Morris Lane and Chris Gayton. We're very deep at linebacker and we feel really good about those positions. We also have three freshmen coming in who are exciting players."

Cornerbacks

CB	ERIC KELLY	5-11	192	Jr-2L
	Jeremy Bowie	5-10	181	Jr-2L
CB	Kenneth Grant	6-0	203	Jr-2L
	Nick Heald	5-9	176	So-Sq

Junior Eric Kelly is a returning starter at one cornerback and made six pass breakups last season. He continues to make steady improvement and has developed into a reliable cover corner. He had two pass interceptions in the spring scrimmages and returned both for touchdowns ... Junior speedster Kenneth Grant begins fall drills as the starter at the other corner. He made good progress during the spring and game experience should continue his rapid development.

Junior Jeremy Bowie is the only experienced reserve, but a troublesome shoulder could force a redshirt season. He had four pass breakups and an interception last year ... Walk-on Nick Heald provides depth, but this is an area where incoming freshmen could make a rapid move.

Coach Mumme ...

"Eric Kelly and Kenneth Grant got all the reps in the spring. We're very comfortable with them. Behind them, we don't feel very comfortable. We're going to have to count on some freshmen to come in and play. There is a chance that Jeremy Bowie will recover from his shoulder surgery and won't need to be redshirted, but we'll have to play that by ear and see what happens. Corner is definitely a spot where we're going to get some young help."

Safeties

SS	DAVID JOHNSON	6-0	198	So-1L
	Patrick Wiggins	6-0	193	So-Tr
	Anthony Kelly	5-11	189	So-1L
	Joel Bryan	5-10	206	So-Tr
FS	Willie Gary	5-10	190	Jr-2L
	Anthony Wajda	6-4	189	So-1L
	Billy King	6-2	202	So-Sq

The safety positions should be a strong suit for the Wildcats in 1999 ... Strong safety David Johnson was a first-team Freshman All-American last season after accounting for 53 tackles, four pass breakups, two interceptions, and a host of critical plays. He's a heady player with a knack for being around the ball ... Sophomore Patrick Wiggins, a former quarterback at Cumberland (Ky.) College, is available after sitting out a transfer season. He looked good in the spring, as did soph Anthony "Champ" Kelly, so the Wildcats appear to have serviceable reserves.

The outstanding play of sophomore Anthony Wajda at free safety was one of the pleasant stories of the spring. Wajda got his opportunity while Willie Gary rehabilitated a knee injury suffered last season vs. Florida. In fact, Wajda played so well that the coaches are considering moving Gary to cornerback to help there ... Gary, a junior, had been a starter since his arrival on campus and is a fine player in his own right. He was a Freshman All-American while making 82 tackles in 1997. He'll see action somewhere.

Coach Mumme ...

"Anthony Wajda had an outstanding spring at free safety and we feel comfortable with him. Willie Gary is recovering from a knee injury, but we'll just have to see how it goes. We'll redshirt him if he's not ready.

"David Johnson and Patrick Wiggins did a great job at the other safety spot. Champ Kelly had a good spring going until he pulled a hamstring and missed the last 10 days of spring. We've got a little more depth at safety than at corner, but it's still a spot where a freshman could contribute some."

Special Teams

K	SETH HANSON	6-2	192	Jr-2L

	Dougie Allen	5-10	172	So-1L
PR	Kendrick Shanklin	5-9	168	So-1L
SNAP	Jimmy Haley	6-3	250	Sr-3L

Junior Seth Hanson is a two-year starter on UK's field goals and extra points. He made 11-of-15 field goals last season and his 73.3 field goal percentage was third-best in the Southeastern Conference. He scored 81 points, most-ever by a Wildcats kicker, and set four other records for extra points made and attempted. The highlight of his season was making the game-winning 33-yard field goal on the final play of UK's 39-36 win at LSU ... Sophomore Marc Samuel is slated to handle kickoffs, as he did in 1997, but an injury forced a redshirt season last year.

Senior punter Andy Smith gets his chance following the graduation of Jimmy Carter. Smith punted very well in the spring, averaging 60.3 yards on three punts in the spring game. He does have game experience Junior cornerback Kenneth Grant (36) and sophomore safety Anthony Wajda (24) take on greater roles this season in the Wildcats' secondary.

- as a transfer from Western Kentucky, he averaged 37.4 yards as the Hilltoppers' starting punter as a freshman, way back in 1995.

With opponents kicking away from Craig Yeast last season, sophomore Kendrick Shanklin got plenty of action on kickoff returns. He looks to improve his average of 12.2 yards per return ... Soph Dougie Allen also returned kickoffs in the spring and looked good in doing so ... UK signed several excellent freshman kick returners who will get their chance in August.

Shanklin handled punt returns in the spring and appeared to be a sure-handed punt catcher ... Again, this is an area where freshmen could challenge in preseason camp.

Senior Jimmy Haley is an accurate long snapper on punts and placekicks. He enters his second season in that role.

Coach Mumme ...

"We're happy with Seth Hanson. We thought last year's effort was pretty good and he improved some this spring, got stronger. I'm very pleased with Andy Smith. He has a really strong leg and he does a nice job of kicking the ball toward the sideline. Marc Samuel had a good spring and will probably be the kickoff man. He showed some added strength in his leg.

"Dougie Allen was the biggest surprise in the spring. He'll be a kickoff return guy. Kendrick Shanklin did a nice job fielding punts in the spring. We have three really talented return guys coming in, so we'll also take a look at them."

Stadium Expansion

Commonwealth Stadium is in the process of expansion, the first major seating addition since the stadium was constructed in 1973.

The stadium is being enclosed on both ends and will bring capacity to approximately 68,000 seats, an increase of 10,000. UK also is adding 40 suites, 10 in each corner of the stadium, and two giant Diamond Vision video boards are being constructed. The cost of the project is approximately $24 million.

The drive for expansion has been fueled by demand for tickets. In the two seasons under Coach Hal Mumme, nine of Kentucky's 12 home games have been sold out and the other three were near sell-out status.

Youth Will Be Served

Following the departure of 20 seniors, plus junior quarterback Tim Couch, the Wildcats will be a relatively young team in 1999.

Kentucky's projected roster numbers only 11 seniors and 15 juniors among the team's 84 scholarship players.

The coaching staff must replace 11 departed starters, plus a new punter and kickoff/punt returner.

UK to Have New Quarterback

Quarterback is obviously a prominent position in Coach Hal Mumme's "Air Raid" offense and Kentucky will have a new one this season following Tim Couch's departure to the NFL.

Sophomore Dusty Bonner finished the spring as the starting quarterback. Bonner has limited collegiate experience, having completed 10 of 14 passes for 114 yards as a backup in 1997. Redshirt freshman Mike Scipione is No. 2 on the depth chart. Another player will enter the fray in August as freshman signee Jared Lorenzen, Kentucky's "Mr. Football" in 1998, joins the Wildcats.

The player winning the job will step into a heritage of success. All four of Mumme's previous collegiate starting quarterbacks, Dustin Dewald at Iowa Wesleyan, Chris Hatcher and Lance Funderburk at Valdosta State, and Tim Couch at UK, earned first-team All-America honors by the conclusion of their careers.

Over the past two seasons as Mumme's starting quarterback, Couch completed 763 of 1,100 passes (69.4 percent) for 8,159 yards and 73 touchdowns.

"Air Raid" on the Scoreboard

Hal Mumme's "Air Raid" offense has made a national impact during the coach's two years at Kentucky.

Last season, Kentucky ranked second nationally in passing offense (412.2 yards per game), third in total offense (534.2 yards per game), and eighth in scoring (37.9) points per game.

Kentucky set school records for total offense with 5,876 yards and scoring with 417 points. The Wildcats paced the SEC in six offensive categories, including scoring and total offense.

Senior Gordon Crowe returns to defensive tackle after playing end last season.

Schedule Notes

If Kentucky wins the Connecticut game, the Wildcats can count the victory toward the minimum of six necessary to qualify for a bowl game. Because the Wildcats won seven games in 1998, the win over Eastern Kentucky was not claimed toward the minimum needed to be a bowl qualifier. An NCAA rule allows Division I-AA teams to count a victory over a I-AA team for bowl qualification once every four years ... This will be the first game between Kentucky and Connecticut ... Two Wildcats opponents have new coaches in 1999. The new UConn coach is Randy Edsall, former defensive coordinator at Georgia Tech. Edsall took over for Skip Holtz, who left to join his father, Lou Holtz, the new coach at South Carolina ... Kentucky will play at Mississippi State on a Thursday night, Nov. 4, on ESPN. The game will be UK's third appearance on the ESPN Thursday night series. UK won at South Carolina, 21-17, in 1993 and lost at Auburn, 41-14, in 1994.

1998 Highlights

Sparked by the most prolific offense in school history and an improving defense, Kentucky posted numerous highlights and milestones during the 1998 season:

- Kentucky's seven wins were the most since 1984;
- Kentucky played in a New Year's Day bowl game for the first time since Jan. 1, 1952;
- Kentucky broke or tied eight NCAA records, 26 SEC records, and 68 school records;
- Kentucky made eight appearances on regional or national television, a school record;
- Kentucky swept its regular-season non-conference opponents for the second consecutive season;
- Kentucky defeated two eventual bowl teams, Louisville and Mississippi State;
- Kentucky's victory at Louisiana State was the team's first win on the road against a ranked opponent since 1977; and
- Kentucky went 5-1 at home, the team's best mark since the 1987 team also went 5-1 at home.

"Black Flag" Defense

Defensive coordinator Mike Major calls his unit the "Black Flag" defense, giving his players the mindset of never surrender.

Despite fielding eight new starters during the 1998 season, the Kentucky defense still managed to improve its scoring defense by 1.2 points per game and its total defensive yardage by 6.2 yards per game, compared to 1997.

The Kentucky defense did its part to help the Wildcats rank among the national leaders in scoring. The defense scored six times during the 1998 season, including four touchdowns, one safety, and a two-point defensive PAT return.

The 1998 season marked several milestones for the Kentucky defense. UK totaled 88 tackles behind the line of scrimmage (including sacks and running plays), the most ever for statistics available since 1985. Another goal for the UK defense was to improve on third-down conversions and the Wildcats did just that. UK limited its opponents to a conversion rate of 28.9 percent, second in the SEC. The Wildcats also ranked third in the SEC in quarter-back sacks with 29.

Kentucky's opponents completed just 48.8 percent of their passes. It was the first time that UK held its opponents to less than 50 percent completions since the 1979 season.

Blocking kicks also is a priority. During UK's two seasons under Major, Kentucky has blocked seven kicks, including five field goals, one punt, and one extra point.

Charting the Tendencies

Kentucky has a 12-11 record in two seasons under Coach Hal Mumme. Here are some tendencies that have emerged that generate success for the Wildcats. Kentucky's record when:

- UK scores 30+ points: 11-2
- Opp. scores less than 23 points: 5-0
- UK loses 0 or 1 turnover: 6-1
- UK is plus or even in turnover margin: 6-1
- UK rushes for more yards than opponent: 6-2
- UK holds opponent to less than 100 rushing yards: 5-0

Wildcats Notebook

• Coach Hal Mumme has a 12-11 record in his two seasons as the head man of the Wildcats. The last UK coach to have a winning record after his first two seasons was Blanton Collier in 1954-55.

• UK had 18 players on the SEC Academic Honor Roll in 1998. UK has led or tied for the league lead in most players on the SEC Honor Roll in 10 of the last 15 years.

• Two new assistant coaches have been added for 1999. Scott Highsmith is the new wide receivers coach. Chris Hatcher has been promoted from graduate assistant to full-time assistant. He will coach the quarterbacks and assist Highsmith with the receivers.

• Coach Hal Mumme believes in the value of walk-on players. In two years as head coach of the Wildcats, Mumme has awarded full scholarships to 12 walk-ons, including five current Wildcats - wide receiver Garry Davis, halfback A. J. Simon, punter Andy Smith, defensive end Grayson Smith, and tight end James Whalen, Jr.

• The UK cheerleaders won an unprecedented ninth national championship at the 1999 Universal Cheerleaders Association competition in January. The Wildcats cheerleaders also have won the last five national titles, 1995-99.

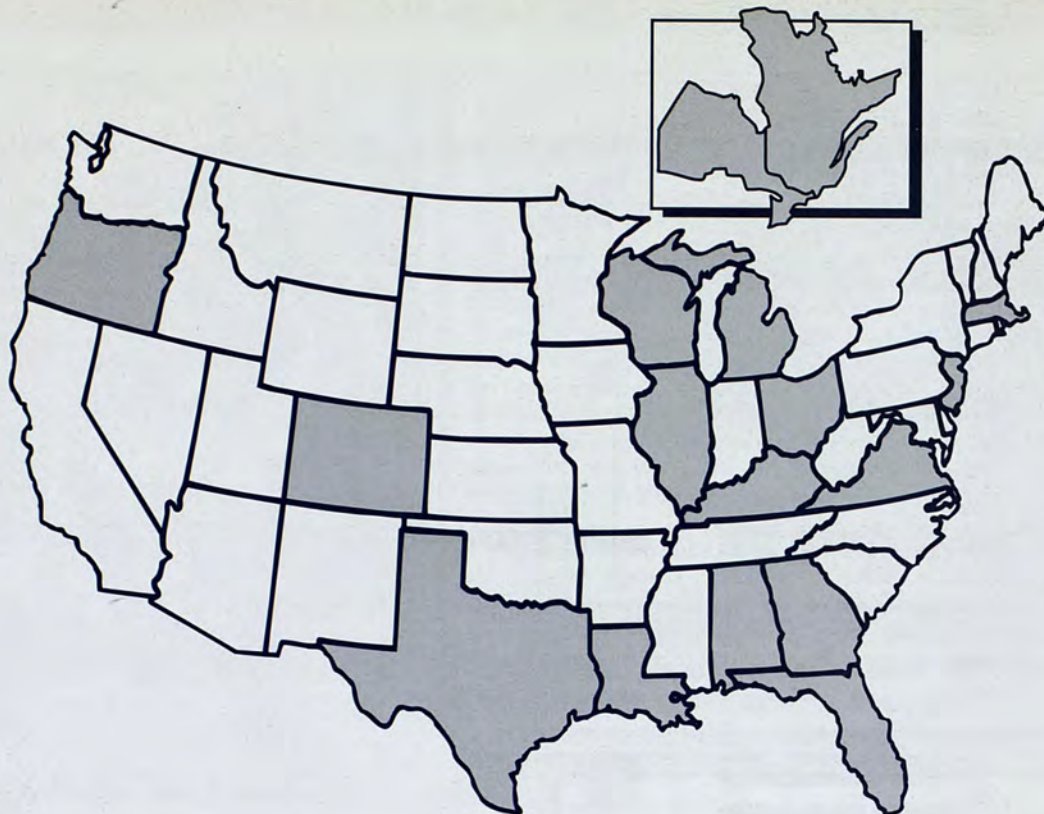

Running Backs are Double Trouble, Top Combo in SEC

Kentucky running backs Anthony White and Derek Homer have been double trouble for Wildcats opponents.

As the starting running backs for the Wildcats over the past two seasons, White and Homer have accounted for more than 4,000 rushing and receiving yards - 4,016 to be exact - more than any running back combination in the Southeastern Conference.

At right is a chart of the top three running back combinations during the 1997 and 1998 seasons.

The Coaches

The Wildcats celebrate after last season's victory that clinched bowl eligibility. Coach Hal Mumme has won more games than any UK coach in his first two seasons since Blanton Collier in 1954-55.

"It has come that far this fast. Saturday nights with Hal. What a blast."

These words, written in the Louisville Courier-Journal following a dramatic overtime win against Alabama in 1997, tell the story of what Hal Mumme has done as head football coach of the Kentucky Wildcats.

In two short years, Mumme's mix of winning football, passing wizardry, fourth-down gambles, and daring defense have produced an unprecedented level of football enthusiasm in the Bluegrass.

Mumme returned Kentucky to the bowl scene in 1998 by leading his Wildcats to a 7-4 regular-season record - the school's best since 1984.

The '98 season had numerous highlights. The 68-point explosion in the season opener at Louisville, followed by a 52-point outburst against Eastern Kentucky, marked the first time in 84 years that the Wildcats scored 50 points in consecutive games.

"Air Raid '98" also produced a 39-36 victory at Louisiana State, the team's first road win over a ranked opponent in 21 years. UK's 37-35 win over Mississippi State clinched bowl eligibility for the Wildcats, followed by a 55-17 Senior Day sendoff versus Vanderbilt.

The Wildcats finished the season with a school-record 417 points. Kentucky ranked second in the nation in passing offense, third in total offense, and eighth in scoring. Kentucky's bold, aggressive defense accumulated 88 tackles behind the line of scrimmage, a school record for statistics available since 1985.

Quarterback Tim Couch totaled seven NCAA records, 14 Southeastern Conference marks, and 26 school standards. Couch was named first-team All-America and was a finalist for the coveted Heisman Trophy and Davey O'Brien National Quarterback Award. Wide receiver Craig Yeast became the leading pass receiver in Southeastern Conference history.

The season was topped when the Wildcats reached their goal of "1-1-99" by playing Penn State in the Outback Bowl. It was Kentucky's first New Year's Day appearance since 1952. More than 40,000 Kentucky fans were in attendance, giving the

Head Coach Hal Mumme

Outback Bowl its first sellout, and indicating the intensity of the fan following that Mumme has helped build.

Mumme's brand of football excitement was foretold when he was introduced as the Kentucky coach on Dec. 2, 1996. UK Athletics Director C. M. Newton - a former basketball coach - described his hire in hoops terms.

"I told Hal that what we're looking for here is someone who will press, fast break, and shoot the threes on grass ... I also gave Hal the challenge of putting the fun back into Kentucky football," Newton said.

It took Mumme only one quarter to fulfill his boss's directive.

In the season opener against archival Louisville, the Wildcats stunned the Cardinals with a 21-0 blitzkrieg in the opening period. Soon, the Governor's Cup trophy returned to Lexington via a 38-24 Wildcats victory.

Mumme's first SEC triumph was one for the ages. Kentucky defeated Alabama for the first time in 75 years with a 40-34 overtime win. After the victory, the Commonwealth Stadium fans stormed the field and tore down the goal posts, the first time in stadium history that the Wildcats supporters had been so frenzied.

Indeed, the fans have been an integral part of the Mumme story. When he was hired, Kentucky fans took an immediate liking to their personable new coach. Local songwriters wrote ballads about him ... fans wore "Mumme masks" to the games ... and even before the first game was played, Lexington Mayor Pam Miller renamed a street alongside Commonwealth Stadium "Hal Mumme Pass." ("I didn't know if it was an honor or an order," Mumme quipped.)

Pass he did, and the turnaround was immediate. The Wildcats zoomed from 109th in the nation in total offense in 1996 to sixth nationally in Mumme's first season. NCAA records, Southeastern Conference records, and school records went by the wayside. Single-game and single-season attendance records were smashed, and in their wake, Commonwealth Stadium is being expanded to accommodate approximately 68,000 fans.

By the end of the '97 season, Kentucky had won five games. Since 1938, only two Wildcats coaches - legendary Paul "Bear" Bryant and eventual NFL head coach Blanton Collier - posted a better first-year record than Mumme.

Mumme's achievements were rewarded when his peers in the American Football Coaches Association elected him the GTE Region 2 Coach of the Year. Having won the same award in 1996, Mumme became one of only five coaches to win the regional coach of the year award in consecutive years at different schools. Mumme was picked as the Nike Clinics Coach of the Year in 1998. Mumme also was rewarded with a contract extension following the 1997 and 1998 seasons.

And, there's every reason to expect that success will continue. Mumme's 1998 and 1999 recruiting classes were ranked among the nation's top 25.

Mumme came to UK from Valdosta (Ga.) State University, where he was head coach from 1992-96. He guided the Blazers to five consecutive winning seasons and compiled a record of 40-17-1. He took the Blazers to the NCAA Division II playoffs in 1994 and 1996 and advanced to the quarterfinals (final eight) each time.

Mumme's teams achieved numerous milestones during his years at VSU. Five consecutive winning seasons is the longest streak in school history. The Blazers were ranked in the national top 20 consistently, including a No. 1 ranking at one point in the 1996 season. VSU finished second or higher in the Gulf South Conference in four of the five seasons, including the school's first conference championship in 1996. The '94 and '96 playoff appearances are the only ones in school history. Twenty-six Blazers were named first-team all-conference under Mumme.

In 1992, Mumme's first squad at Valdosta State went 5-4-1. The 1993 season saw the Blazers go 8-3, the second-highest single-season win total in school history. In that season, VSU broke 66 school records, 22 conference records, and seven national marks.

The 1994 season was a breakthrough campaign for Mumme. His team set a school record for wins with an 11-2 mark. During the regular season, VSU posted a 31-14 upset of Central Florida, Sports Illustrated's pre-season national champion in Division I-AA. It was VSU's first victory over a Division I-AA team. The Blazers' first national playoff entry began with a victory over Albany State before losing in the quarterfinals in overtime, 27-24, to eventual champion North Alabama. VSU was ranked sixth in the nation in the final poll, the first top 10 final ranking in school history. Along the way, VSU broke 80 school records, 35 conference records, and seven national marks. Quarterback Chris Hatcher (now a UK assistant coach) was the Gulf South Conference Player of the Year and won the Harlon Hill Award as the Player of the Year in Division II. Mumme was chosen Georgia Coach of the Year by the Georgia Sports Hall of Fame.

Despite the loss of 20 starters, and a schedule that included four top-20 teams away from home and a Div. I-A team on the road, Mumme was able to put together a 6-5 record in 1995. The Blazers returned to national prominence in 1996 with a 10-3 record, including a playoff victory. Valdosta State won its first conference championship and Mumme was named Conference Coach of the Year. Mumme was honored by his peers as in the American Football Coaches Association as the Region 2 Coach of the Year.

Throwing the football has been Mumme's trademark. From 1991-94, Hatcher passed for 11,363 yards and 121 touchdowns and he continues to hold several national records for passing and total offense. Hatcher's successor, Lance Funderburk, threw for 7,932 yards and 64 touchdowns in his last two seasons. Funderburk was runner-up for the 1996 Harlon Hill Award and played in the East-West Shrine Game — only the fourth Division II player ever to be selected for that all-star contest. Funderburk also played in the Kelly Tires Blue-Gray Classic.

The running game also got its share of attention under Mumme. From 1992-94, running back Dominique Ross rushed for 3,237 yards and 36 touchdowns. Ross also set a Gulf South Conference record with 256 rushing attempts. In 1996, Vontrell Mitchell rushed for 1,355 yards.

During his tenure at VSU, Mumme's defenses were known as bold, combative units. Mumme's 1994 team allowed a school-record low of 162 points, despite playing more games than any season in school history. Andre Hampton set a school career record with 36 sacks. Antonio Edwards notched 34 sacks as a Blazer and was named Gulf South Conference Player of the Year in 1992.

Mumme arrived at Valdosta from Iowa Wesleyan College, where he orchestrated a complete turnaround in the NAIA school's football fortunes from 1989-91. Mumme inherited only three returning players from the '88 group that had posted an 0-10 record. The immediate reversal began with a 7-4 record in 1989. In 1990, Iowa Wesleyan went 8-4, followed by a 10-2 mark in 1991.

All three of Mumme's IWC teams made a postseason appearance. The 1989 team played in the inaugural Steamboat Classic. In 1990, the Tigers played once again in the Steamboat Bowl, and posted a victory. The 1991 team made the first national playoff appearance in school history and lost in the quarterfinals.

With the help of star quarterback Dustin Dewald, Mumme's 1990 team led the NAIA in passing offense and the 1989 and 1991 teams finished second nationally in passing. Dewald and Valdosta's Chris Hatcher are two of only eight quarterbacks in collegiate history who have thrown more than 100 touchdown passes in their careers.

In three years, Mumme's Iowa Wesleyan teams posted a 25-10 record. He was named NAIA District Coach of the Year following the 1989 and 1991 seasons. Mumme now has a career mark of 77-38-1 in 10 seasons as a collegiate head coach.

Born March 29, 1952, in San Antonio, Texas, Hal Clay Mumme graduated from Thomas Jefferson High School in Dallas. He was a wide receiver at New Mexico Military Institute for two seasons, then played at Tarleton State, a Division II school in Stephenville, Texas. He graduated from Tarleton in 1975 with a degree in history. Mumme's debut as a coach came at Moody High School in Corpus Christi, Texas, from 1976-78. He was head coach at Aransas Pass (Texas) HS in 1979.

Mumme entered the collegiate ranks as the quarterbacks and receivers coach at West Texas State in 1980-81. He was the offensive coordinator at Texas-El Paso from 1982-85. While at UTEP, he developed a relationship with Brigham Young head coach LaVell Edwards, who had a profound impact on Mumme's offensive philosophy.

After leaving UTEP, Mumme became head coach and athletics director at Copperas Cove (Texas) HS. He coached at Copperas Cove from 1986-88 before moving to Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, for the head coaching position at Iowa Wesleyan.

Mumme and his wife, June, have three children: Matt, Karen, and Leslie. June is a survivor of breast cancer and has been very active in fundraising and cancer education. In 1998, she wrote a book - "Play the next Play" - chronicling the Mummes' lives together and her battle with the disease.

Hal Mumme and wife June accept the 1997 GTE Region 2 Coach of the Year Award as voted by the American Football Coaches Association. Making the presentation (at right) was C.M. Newton, UK Director of Athletics.

Coach Hal Mumme has had notable success in the development of quarterbacks. Here are some of Mumme's quarterbacks and their achievements during his years as a collegiate assistant and high school head coach:

Victor Magee

West Texas, 1981

Newcomer of the Year in the Missouri Valley Conference; played professionally in the Canadian Football League.

Sammy Garza

Texas-El Paso, 1983-85

Set school record for completion percentage; enjoyed an 11-year career in the National Football League and the Canadian Football League.

James Ritchey

Copperas Cove High School, 1988

Ritchey was a center until Mumme converted him to quarterback; Ritchey went on to Stephen F. Austin University and was a rookie with the Houston Oilers in 1996.

Here are Mumme's four quarterbacks during his term as a collegiate head coach:

Dustin Dewald

Iowa Wesleyan College, 1989-91

Played for Mumme at Copperas Cove High School, then earned NAIA All-America honors under Mumme at Iowa Wesleyan.

Chris Hatcher

Valdosta State, 1992-94

A two-year All-American, he won the Harlon Hill Award as the national player of the year in NCAA Division II.

Lance Funderburk

Valdosta State, 1995-96

Earned All-America honors and was runner-up for the Harlon Hill Award; now plays with Montreal in the CFL.

Tim Couch

Kentucky, 1997-98

Earned first-team All-America honors and was a finalist for the Heisman Trophy as a junior in 1998; broke seven NCAA records, 14 SEC records, and 26 school records; gave up his final season of eligibility to enter the NFL draft; was the No. 1 pick in the 1999 draft, taken by the Cleveland Browns

Hal Mumme has had four starting quarterbacks in his 10 seasons as a collegiate head coach and all four have earned first-team All-America honors.

Q: What are your thoughts on the 1999 team?

A: "We're going to be a young football team this year. Fortunately, a lot of the guys on defense have played, so we have some experienced youth. Offensively is where we have the biggest strides to make. We have a lot of new players on offense and we have to develop into a cohesive unit. I think we made a lot of progress on that during the spring."

Q: What are the positives on offense?

A: "The number one thing is that they have this youthful enthusiasm about everything. The players also have a base of knowledge about the offense, even though they do not have the on-the-field experience. And, we have some 'go-to' guys at the receivers and backs positions, such as Derek Homer and Anthony White, Garry Davis and Quentin McCord."

Q: Talk about how Dusty Bonner won the quarterback job in the spring.

A: "Dusty had a great spring. He completed between 65 and 70 percent of his passes in the pass 'skel' (skeleton) and team period and all of that was against the number one defense. He only threw two interceptions in all of his drills, which is a good sign, and he threw numerous touchdown passes. I really like his quick release and his quick feet. I also like the way he has come along in terms of leadership. We are very pleased with him. I think he'll be a more-than-adequate replacement for Tim (Couch)."

Q: Will you do anything differently with the offense with a young quarterback instead of a veteran?

A: "No, not really. We are still going to go out and play the same game. We may change the formations and things like that because we have different people to work with, but in terms of style of play everything is going to stay the same."

Q: You have to replace your entire starting offensive line. How did the new line do during spring practice?

A: "We were very happy with the progress of the line during the spring. Coach (Guy) Morriss brought them along as far as they could go. From the first week of practice until the end, they got a lot better. We're happy with four of the five spots right now. We would like to see our left guard spot step up a little; not that they are playing badly, we want a little more production out of those guys."

Q: Do you think your running backs are underrated?

A: "I think that because of the nature of our offense, our backs are underrated. If you look at Anthony White and Derek Homer together, they have had two years in a row in which they have made 2,000 yards between the two of them (see chart p. 19). They are really good players."

Q: Despite fielding eight new starters, the 1998 defense was better than 1997. Tell us about that improvement.

A: "Despite all the new starters, we gave up fewer points than the previous season. We ranked second in the conference in third-down conversion defense and third in sacks. We also finished in the middle of the pack in rushing defense, which is what we really wanted to improve on. If we make that kind of improvement again, we can help make up for an inexperienced offense."

Q: What are your goals for the defense?

A: "First, we need them to get stronger in the off-season. We have good speed and what we need is more strength. We know they can run, we know they will hit, and we know they like to hit. The biggest thing is our staying power and our strength, things we really have to improve."

Q: What do you see as being the strengths of the defense this season?

A: "Speed up front is one thing. Now we have some depth at linebacker. We can go three-deep at all positions with guys who have played some and we feel comfortable putting out there. We can almost do that on the D-Line and I think that depth is really going to be a strength for us."

Q: What is your biggest concern on defense?

A: "Depth at cornerback is probably our biggest Achilles' heel. (Starters) Eric Kelly and Kenneth Grant got so many reps during the spring that their confidence level went up and their efficiency went up. They would be difficult to replace if we lost either one of them. Hopefully, we'll be able to get Jeremy Bowie back, but he is 'iffy' with that (injured) shoulder. (Free safety) Willie Gary can also play corner and we recruited well at that position, so it's not like we're going to be void of talent. Our backups just don't have a lot of experience playing corner."

Q: How did playing in the Outback Bowl help the program?

A: "It brought us a lot of national attention. We had the third-highest rating of all the bowl games on cable television this year. That tells you that we got the word out, across the nation, that Kentucky football is back. It carried over to signing day. If you look at the number of All-Americans we signed and the players we got from around the country, you can really see a difference in this year's signing class."

Q: What are your thoughts on the stadium expansion?

A: "Obviously, it is a great tribute to the people of Kentucky that we are able to do this. There is tremendous support and the most shocked people in America were the people at the Outback Bowl when 40,000 Kentucky fans showed up and gave them their first sellout. It wasn't a shock to us because we knew that would happen. We're just very thankful to be coaching here."

Q: At the conclusion of the 1998 season you were rewarded with a new contract. What were your feelings about that?

A: "The first thing is that I really appreciate that Coach (C. M.) Newton and Dr. (Charles) Wethington gave me the opportunity to coach at Kentucky. They have really extended themselves to try to make our staff happy and keep us together. You have to give tribute to our administration for what they've done and their commitment to build football here."

"Mummeball" Coach Hal Mumme is known for his unconventional ways. Here are some examples of his off-the-beaten-path approach known as "Mummeball":

"Air Raid" Offense Uses the Pass to Set up the Run

Mumme's "Air Raid" offensive system is a ball-control offense that uses a short passing attack to set up the running game.

Here's how the Wildcats have ranked nationally in some major offensive categories in the year before Mumme's arrival (1996) and in his two seasons at UK.

Year	Passing Offense		Total Offense		Scoring
	Yds. Per Game	Natl. Rank	Yds. Per Game	Natl. Rank	PPG	Natl. Rank
1996*	119.0	105th	217.8	109th	12.6	110th
1997	365.4	2nd	474.0	6th	31.6	26th
1998	412.2	2nd	534.2	3rd	37.9	8th

*the year before Mumme's arrival

An interesting by-product of Mumme's offense has been time of possession. Usually a passing offense is thought to be a detriment to time of possession, but UK still led the SEC in that category in 1998 with a time of 32:55 per game.

"Go For It!"

One of the most exciting plays in football is "going for it" on fourth down, and Mummeball provides plenty of such excitement.

In 1997, the Wildcats went for it 38 times on fourth down, making 21, including three out of four on fake punts. Including the bowl game, UK made 17 of 39 fourth-down tries in 1998, once again converting three of four on fake punts.

Another interesting stat is the fact that, over two seasons, UK has gone for it 77 times and punted 80 times.

How have the fourth-down gambles worked out? Here is a chart:

4th Down	Att.	Made	Eventual Results	Failed	Eventual Results
1997	38	21	15 TD, 0 FG for UK	17	5 TD, 0 FG for opponents
1998	39	17	9 TD, 2 FG for UK	22	5 TD, 2 FG for opponents
Totals	77	38	24 TD, 2 FG for UK	39	10 TD, 2 FG for opponents

Why does Mumme choose to go for it on fourth down so often?

"One of our team goals is to have fun and the players enjoy going for it," Mumme explains. "It's also evolved from running this kind of offense and it's different each game depending on who we're playing. We go into each game with a plan, and the harder the opponent, probably the more times we're going to do it. Sometimes we feel we need four chances to make it, but we're going to make it.

"It's just a philosophy. We've always had the idea that we are going to keep attacking. I don't think you can preach 'attack' all the time with the kids and then as a coach go out there and not do it."

"Other teams are said to be in 'four-down territory' at certain times," wrote columnist Chuck Culpepper of the Lexington Herald-Leader. "For Mumme, America is four-down territory."

Limited Hitting in Practice

Full-scale hitting and tackling in practice is limited to four days a year, the four scrimmages during the spring. Otherwise, hitting in practice is limited to work on technique and upper-body contact. There is no tackling to the ground during practice and no scrimmages in the August pre-season camp.

"We're not going to get anybody hurt if we can help it," Mumme says. "Why get hurt during the week when you're going to play on Saturday?"

"Hal Mumme is as aggressive a head coach as there is in America," said ESPN announcer Charley Steiner.

"BLOCK THAT KICK!" With the emphasis given by defensive coordinator Mike Major, Kentucky has blocked seven kicks in the last two seasons, including this blocked field goal that helped the Wildcats defeat Alabama in 1997.

The approach has paid off with fewer injuries and significantly fewer players who have had to miss games. For example, only four players on the two-deep depth chart missed a game because of injury in 1997 and just eight players missed a game because of injury in 1998. By comparison, a total of 18 players on the two-deep depth chart missed at least one game because of injury in 1996 under a conventional practice system.

"Mummeball is more classroom than battlefield," wrote John Clay of the Lexington Herald-Leader. "The head coach is not a Schwarzkopf but an alchemist, busy turning ordinary metals into gold."

"Other teams are said to be in 'four-down territory' at certain times," wrote columnist Chuck

Culpepper of the Lexington Herald-Leader.

"For Mumme, America is four-down territory."

Open Practices

Practices are open to the fans and media. "I think the guys like crowds," Mumme says. "I know when I played, I liked to perform in front of crowds. I think it makes them practice better."

As for the fear of having his plays stolen, Mumme replies, "There aren't many secrets anymore. Everybody pretty much knows what everybody else is doing."

Angled Punting

UK's punts are designed to go near the sideline or out of bounds, a strategy that has greatly limited returns against the Wildcats and has improved the team's net punting.

UK's net punting was 32.7 yards per punt in 1996 under the previous coaching staff. With Mumme's angled punting, UK improved its net punting to 37 yards per punt in 1997 and 37.4 yards per punt in 1998. UK opponents had only 70 yards in punt returns in 1998.

"Look at the guy on the other end of the field (returning the punt)," Mumme says. "It's usually the best athlete on the other team and in this league it means that his future is N-F-L. Now, some of the guys I'm sending down to tackle him, their future is C-P-A. That's not a good matchup!"

Daring Defense

The "Black Flag" Kentucky defense blitzes often as the Wildcats go for big defensive plays.

The approach paid off last year with 88 tackles behind the line of scrimmage (QB sacks plus tackles for loss on running plays), the most ever for a Kentucky defense dating back to available statistics since 1985.

The players are coached to go for the big play. For instance, instead of simply trying to tie up the opposing offensive linemen, the UK defensive linemen are taught to think "sack the quarterback" on every play, then adjust to the run.

The blitzing linebackers also do their share of damage. For example, linebacker Marlon McCree led the team in sacks last season with seven and tackles for loss on running plays with 11. Linebacker Jeff Snedegar was second on the team in TFL with seven and also added four sacks.

"We tell our players, 'Don't just stop a play, make a play!'" defensive coordinator Mike Major says.

"GO FOR IT!" Garry Davis scores on a 79-yard touchdown pass on a 4th-and-21 fake punt. Kentucky has gone for it on fourth down 77 times in two years under Hal Mumme.

Tom Adams enters his third season on the University of Kentucky football staff and his second in charge of the entire Wildcats defensive line.

Following the graduation of both starting defensive tackles, Adams revamped his line during spring practice. Senior Gordon Crowe, who started at end in 1998, has moved to tackle.

Crowe will team with fellow senior George Massey at the tackle spots. The starting ends are sophomore Dennis Johnson, along with senior Anwar Stewart, who returns to the team after being ineligible to play last season. The Wildcats' line is continuing to grow in athleticism.

The play of Adams' 1998 defensive line helped the Wildcats total 88 tackles behind the line of scrimmage, most for a Wildcats team in statistics available since 1985. UK's 29 quarterback sacks ranked third in the Southeastern Conference. Dennis Johnson was named second-team Freshman All-America by The Sporting News.

Adams coached the defensive ends in 1997. Under Adams' guidance, Bamidele Ali ranked third in the SEC in quarterback sacks with seven, even though Ali was in his first season as a defensive lineman. UK's ends notched 17 of UK's 21 sacks.

Adams came to UK from Southern Methodist University. While at SMU, Adams coached the defensive line for three years and the defensive tackles one year, including 1993 All-Southwest Conference performers Chad Patton and Adam Voyles.

From 1985-92, Adams guided the defensive line at Sam Houston State. In his final season at SHSU, Adams' defensive line helped set a single-season school record with 47 quarterback sacks. In 1991, Sam Houston State won the Southland Conference and made the NCAA I-AA playoffs. Adams coached seven all-conference players and one All-American at Sam Houston State.

Adams got his first full-time coaching position at Wharton County (Texas) Junior College, where he led the offensive and defensive lines from 1982-85.

Adams played his college football at Rice. He won the team's Most Valuable Defensive Lineman Award in 1979 and 1980 and was the team captain during his senior season. He spent the 1981 season as a student assistant coach with the Owls' defensive line. He completed his bachelor's degree, with a double major in psychology and physical education, in 1982.

Adams and his wife, Rita, have three children - son Branch (16), and daughters Brandi (6) and Beth (4).

Claude Bassett, UK's recruiting coordinator since the new coaching staff's arrival in 1997, has assumed two additional responsibilities in 1999.

Following the retirement of Jack Fligg, Coach Hal Mumme named Bassett the director of football operations. Bassett now handles many of the administrative tasks necessary to run a college football program.

During spring practice, Bassett also took charge of the Wildcats kickers and punters. For the 1999 season, Bassett has junior Seth Hanson returning as the starting kicker and will break in a new punter, senior Andy Smith.

Bassett has produced noteworthy results in his original assignment of recruiting coordinator. Bassett's first two full years as recruiting coordinator produced nationally ranked classes. The 1998 recruiting class was ranked in the nation's top 20 by CNN/SI, PrepStar magazine, and the Tampa Tribune. The class was highlighted by the signing of Dennis Johnson, the National High School Player of the Year.

The 1999 signing class was rated in the top 25 nationally by Rivalnet. Bassett and the Wildcats coaches believe that this class could prove to be their best because of the depth of outstanding players.

Bassett is in his 24th season of coaching. He came to UK from Memorial High School in McAllen, Tex., where he was head coach from 1994-96. He took over a program that had been winless for two years prior to his arrival. By Bassett's second season, Memorial had improved to a 10-1 record, the first time that the school had won more than six games in one year. It also marked the school's first entry in the rugged Texas Class AAAAA playoffs.

Bassett coached under LaVell Edwards at Brigham Young University from 1983-93 as the Cougars compiled a record of 103-37-2 (.732), won eight Western Athletic Conference championships, and a national championship in 1984. He coached the offensive line from 1983-86 and the linebackers from 1987-93.

At BYU, Bassett was responsible for recruiting quarterback Ty Detmer, who still holds 58 NCAA records for passing and total offense. BUY had two Outland Trophy winners and 13 All-Americans (including six consensus All-Americans) during his years there.

Bassett was the offensive coordinator at Mountain View HS in Mesa, Ariz., from 1980-82. Mountain View won the Class AAA (highest classification) state championship in 1980 and 1982. Bassett began his coaching career while he was an undergraduate student at Brigham Young. He was an assistant coach at Spanish Fork (Utah) HS and Pleasant Grove (Utah) HS. He graduated from BYU in 1978. During his college years, Bassett also served a two-year Mormon church mission in Italy.

Claude and his wife, Leslie, have four children - Jed (21), Annette (20), Camille (18), and Rebecca (16). Jed will be a freshman on the UK football team this year after returning from a two-year Mormon church mission in El Salvador.

To contact Bassett, call (606) 257-3611. His fax number is (606) 323-3639. His e-mail address is bassett@pop.uky.edu.

With the return of Anthony White and Derek Homer, 1999 should be another productive season for UK running backs coach Tony Franklin.

During the last two seasons, White and Homer have produced 4,016 rushing and receiving yards, more than any other set of SEC running backs. White has become one of only 19 players in NCAA history who have more than 1,000 rushing yards and 1,000 receiving yards in a career. Last season,

White ranked ninth in the nation with 78 pass receptions. He led the nation's running backs in catches and broke his own single-season school record for pass receptions by a running back. He had 108 rushing yards and 117 receiving yards against South Carolina, becoming the first player in school history to eclipse the century mark in both categories in the same game.

Homer also has proven to be a double-duty threat. He led the team in rushing last season with 716 yards. In 1997, he was named to the Freshman All-SEC team by the Knoxville News-Sentinel.

Franklin also has helped develop A. J. Simon into a dependable role player and is working to bring along talented youngsters to the nucleus already in place.

Prior to UK, Franklin spent 15 of the previous 18 years as a head coach or assistant at six high schools within Kentucky. Franklin has been head coach at Mercer County HS (1996), Calloway County HS (1989-91), and Murray HS (1983-85). Franklin's stops as an assistant include Mayfield HS (1993-95), Calloway County HS (1988), Daviess County HS (1981-82), Owensboro Catholic HS (1980), and Murray HS (1979).

As a head coach, Franklin led Mercer County to the 1996 playoffs. At Calloway County, he coached quarterback Pookie Jones, the state's 1989 "Mr. Football." Jones signed with Kentucky and became the Wildcats' starting quarterback. Franklin made significant improvements in the program during his time at Murray and was nominated by his coaching peers for the Kentucky Coach of the Year Award. Franklin's teams set records for passing at all three schools where he was head coach.

Another highlight of his high school coaching career came at Mayfield, where he was an assistant coach for the 1993 and 1995 state championship teams. Franklin also was nominated for the Ashland Oil Teacher of the Year Award while at Mayfield.

In 1986-87, he was president of Scouting Report of Texas, Inc., a company which helped more than 200 high school seniors obtain college scholarships. Franklin built the No. 2 organization among 38 nationwide franchises.

Franklin, a native Kentuckian, was an all-state running back/linebacker at Caldwell County HS.

He signed at Murray State and was the team's leading rusher as a freshman in 1976. He played two years at MSU before injuries ended his career. Franklin graduated from Murray with a degree in history and political science and obtained a master's from MSU in education and history.

Tony and his wife, Laura, have three daughters: Chelsea (14), Caroline (11), and Caitlin (10).

When Hal Mumme was choosing a new offensive coach last December, he didn't have to go far. Mumme looked to his own staff and promoted Chris Hatcher from graduate assistant coach to a full-time assistant's position.

Hatcher will coach the Wildcats quarterbacks, a role he has handled the last two seasons, and also will help Scott Highsmith

- in 1994 and led the Blazers to the first national playoff appearance in school history. He continues to hold several national records for passing and total offense.

Hatcher spent the 1995 season as a student coach at VSU before moving to Central Florida.

Hatcher and his wife, Lori, are natives of Macon, Ga. Hatcher was an all-state quarterback and baseball shortstop at Macon's Mt. de Sales Academy. Chris is working on his master's in kinesiology and health promotions at UK.

coach the UK receivers. Hatcher has a big job ahead of him in 1999 as a new signal-caller, Dusty Bonner, takes over the position formerly held by Tim Couch.

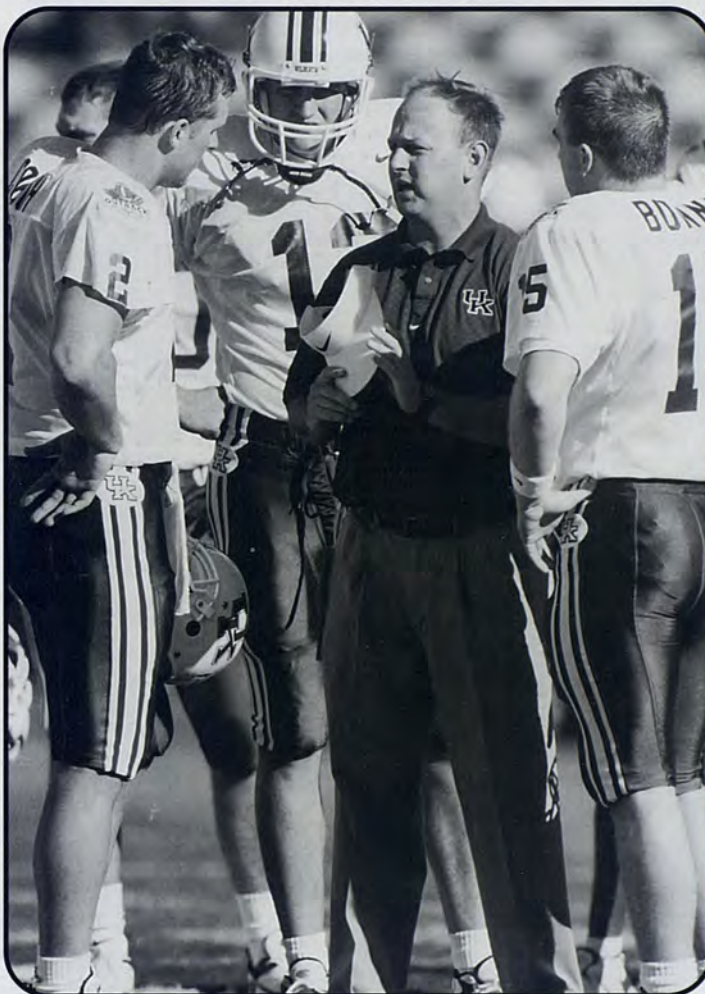

A former player under Mumme, Hatcher helped Couch learn and prosper in the "Air Raid" offense. In his two seasons under Hatcher's guidance, Couch threw for 8,159 yards and 73 touchdowns. Couch broke seven NCAA records, 14 Southeastern Conference records, and 26 school records. He was named first-team All-America in 1998 and was a finalist for the Heisman Trophy. He was the No. 1 pick of the 1999 National Football League draft as selected by the Cleveland Browns.

Hatcher also has been head coach of the new UK junior varsity team, leading the JV to a 2-3 record in each of the first two seasons of the program's existence.

Hatcher came to UK from the University of Central Florida, where he was in charge of the quarterbacks and tight ends in 1996. Hatcher coached Daunte Culpepper during Culpepper's sophomore year, his breakout season on the national scene.

Hatcher had a unique perspective on the 1999 NFL draft, having personally coached two of the top draft picks. In addition to Couch's status as the No. 1 selection, Culpepper was taken as the 11th pick in the first round by the Minnesota Vikings.

Hatcher was the starting quarterback at Valdosta State University from 1991-94, including the last three seasons under Mumme. During his career (including playoff games), Hatcher completed 1,047 of 1,529 passes for 11,363 yards and 121 touchdowns. He won the Harlon Hill Award - signifying the national player of the year in Division II

Quarterbacks and Receivers

Scott Highsmith, a long-time associate of Hal Mumme and a veteran coach in the Texas high school ranks, joined Mumme's Kentucky staff in February and will coach the wide receivers.

Highsmith will coach a good mix of experienced players and youngsters. Three key receivers are gone from last year's team, including All-American Craig Yeast, but senior Jimmy Robinson and juniors Quentin McCord and Garry Davis should provide leadership for the returning wideouts. Highsmith also will guide four freshmen who have outstanding potential.

"I've known Scott for a long time and have always wanted to have him on the staff," Mumme said. "Scott brings a lot to the table. He's coached at some very high profile high school programs and will also help our recruiting in Texas. He's a great teacher, very similar in style to (former UK receivers coach) Mike Leach, and when Mike left, the guy I wanted to coach our receivers was Scott."

Highsmith has an extensive background in Texas high school coaching, having spent the past 20 years as an assistant coach at five schools. His teams won six district championships and made several trips to the state playoffs.

Highsmith came to UK from Bryan (Tex.) HS, where he coached from 1992-98. Additional stops include R. L. Turner HS in Carrollton, Tex., in 1979-80, Denton (Tex.) HS in 1981, Kilgore (Tex.) HS in 1982-85, and Terrell (Tex.) HS in 1986-91.

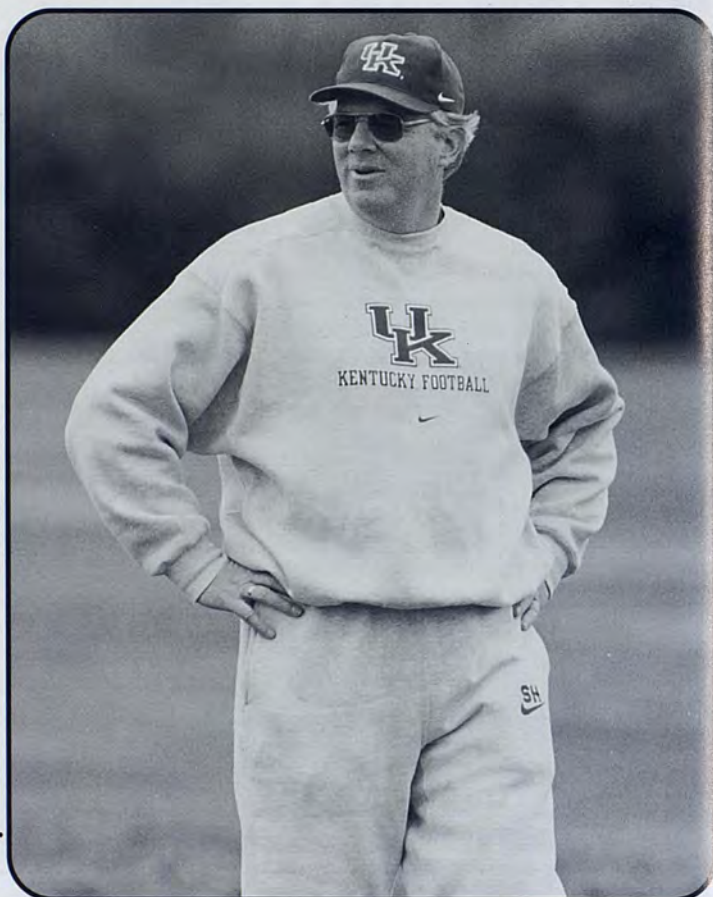

Highsmith has helped send numerous players into the collegiate ranks. While at Terrell HS, Highsmith coached defensive back Darius Johnson, who went on to be an All-Big Eight performer at Oklahoma and currently plays for the Denver Broncos. Mike Kazmeirski, currently a defensive tackle at Texas A&M, played for Highsmith at Bryan HS.

Born in Borger, Tex., Highsmith played football and basketball and ran track at Farmersville (Tex.)

HS. He attended the University of Texas at Arlington and was a three-year letterman, playing running back and wide receiver. Highsmith and Hal Mumme first met as roommates during the 1972-73 school year at UTA.

Highsmith transferred to Howard Payne University in Brownwood, Tex., where he finished his bachelor's degree while working as a student coach. He coached two years in junior high school before taking the job at Turner HS.

Highsmith and his wife, Kathy, have a 17-year-old daughter, Kathryn.

Tim Keane is in his third season as coach of the Kentucky cornerbacks and gives extensive experience to the Wildcats defensive staff as a 26-year veteran of collegiate coaching.

Keane will be in charge of a young group of 'Cat corners in 1999, with no seniors among his cover men. Junior Eric Kelly, who had six pass breakups a year ago, is a returning starter at one corner. Two more juniors, Jeremy Bowie and Kenneth Grant, have some game experience. Grant is a former offensive player whom Keane has converted into a defender.

Keane successfully achieved the same task a year ago when he took senior wide receiver Marvin Love and turned him into a cornerback. Love emerged as the top pass defender for the bowl-bound Wildcats and notched 10 pass breakups during the season, the third-highest single-season total in school history. Keane's tutelage helped Love develop to the point that he was quickly signed as a free agent by the NFL's St. Louis Rams following the 1999 NFL draft.

During the 1998 season, Keane's cover 'Cats helped limit opponents to a completion rate of 48.8 percent. It was the first time that UK held opponents to less than 50 percent completions since the 1979 season.

Keane came to UK from Louisiana Tech, where he coached defensive backs from 1995-97. Keane helped develop All-America cornerback Willie Smith, who led the nation in interceptions in 1995 and also was a two-year All-Big West selection.

As a team, Tech improved from 3-8 to 5-6 to 6-5 during Keane's three campaigns.

Prior to his stint at Tech, Keane coached the secondary at Tennessee from 1990-92. Tennessee posted a 27-8-2 record during that time, won the 1990 SEC championship, and played in the Sugar, Fiesta, and Hall of Fame Bowls.

Safety Dale Carter was consensus All-American in 1991 and a two-year All-SEC choice. Cornerback Jeremy Lincoln was a first-team All-SEC pick in 1991. Both Lincoln and Carter are playing in the National Football League. Keane also helped develop safety Jason Parker, who was named to the Freshman All-SEC team in 1992.

For 18 seasons prior to coaching at Tennessee, Keane coached at his alma mater, Arkansas State. He began as receivers and quarterbacks coach in 1972 and moved to the secondary in 1974. He was defensive coordinator from 1981-89.

Under Keane's guidance as the coordinator, Arkansas State led Division I-AA in total defense in 1985. His 1988 unit led Division I-AA in turnover ratio. Arkansas State advanced to the I-AA playoffs from 1984-87 and finished as the national runner-up in 1986. Six of his Arkansas State defensive backs went on to play in the National Football League.

Keane was a three-year letterman at quarterback for ASU from 1965-67.

Following his graduation in 1968, Keane began his coaching career at the junior high level. He was an assistant football coach at North Little Rock (Ark.) High School in 1970-71 before returning to Arkansas State. He earned a master's at ASU in 1973.

Keane has a 15-year-old daughter, Ashley.

Mike Major is in his third season building the Wildcats' defense as defensive coordinator and linebackers coach.

Having taken over a defensive unit that was low on numbers and SEC-level talent, Major has patiently invested two seasons in teaching his system and recruiting the number of quality players needed to make it work. While there is still plenty of progress to be made, Major returns seven starters for the 1999 season, along with some experienced reserves at end and linebacker.

Despite the youth and lack of numbers, Major's defenses still have been able to post some accomplishments over the previous two seasons. Last year, UK ranked second in the SEC in third-down conversion defense and third in quarterback sacks. UK defenders made 88 tackles behind the line of scrimmage (combining sacks and tackles for loss on running plays), the highest total ever in statistics available since 1985. The Wildcats limited opponents to a completion percentage of 48.8, UK's best single-season mark since 1979. Blocking kicks also has been a priority, and in two seasons the Wildcats have blocked seven kicks, including five field goal tries.

The play of Major's linebackers also should continue to improve. Ten lettermen are back at linebacker, including all three starters. Senior Jeff Snedegar is the leading returning tackler and juniors Marlon McCree and John Rader enter their second season as regulars. McCree led the Wildcats in sacks and tackles for loss last season.

Major came with Coach Hal Mumme from Valdosta State, where he was the defensive coordinator from 1991-96.

As a position coach, Major guided the linebackers four years and the defensive backs during the 1993 season. The Blazers had a 40-17-1 record during those five years and advanced to the NCAA Division II playoffs in 1994 and 1996.

Major's defense set a school record in 1994 by allowing only 162 points - the fewest in VSU history. His defensive units led the Gulf

South Conference in numerous statistical categories and achieved top 10 national rankings for defense. His teams posted six shutouts in five years. VSU had produced only four shutouts in the 10 years preceding Major's arrival.

Nine VSU defensive players were named first-team All-GSC under Major's tutelage. Antonio Edwards was GSC Defensive Player of the Year in 1992 and went on to become a starting defensive end for the Seattle Seahawks. Four other Major-coached Blazers also signed professional contracts, including tackle Artie Ulmer, who was selected in the 1997 NFL draft by the Minnesota Vikings.

"Since I work so closely with the offense, I need a defensive coordinator I can turn it over to and trust," Mumme said. "There's nobody I trust on the sidelines more than Mike. He's a true student of the game and is a perfectionist. He's also great at making adjustments during the game."

Major earned his bachelor's degree from Stephen F. Austin in 1973 and also holds a master's from SFA. Major's coaching career began at several high schools in Texas, including Moody HS in Corpus Christi, where he first coached with Mumme. He also was with Mumme one year as an assistant coach at Texas-El Paso. Major rejoined Mumme at Copperas Cove (Texas) HS from 1986-88 and was the defensive coordinator at Iowa Wesleyan in 1989. Major helped transform Iowa Wesleyan from an 0-10 team to a 7-4 team in his one season there. Major was an assistant coach for two years at Stephen F. Austin before going to Valdosta State.

Mike and his wife, Laura, have two sons, Patrick (19) and Jordan (17).

Mike Major

Defensive Coordinator, Linebackers

Guy Morriss, UK's assistant head coach and offensive line coach, has perhaps the toughest assignment on the Wildcats coaching staff in the coming season.

Morriss has the formidable task of replacing all five starters from the 1998 offensive line but the calm Texan is just the coach for such a challenge. He has six returning lettermen available, along with two redshirt freshmen and four freshman signees.

Morriss' 1998 line was the power plant for the UK offense that set single-season records for points and total offense. Kentucky has ranked in the nation's top 10 in passing offense and total offense in both seasons that Morriss has been with the team. In 1996, the year before Morriss' arrival, UK finished 109th in the nation in total offense.

Among Morriss' players, guard John Schlarman was a first-team All-Southeastern Conference selection in 1997 and tackle Kris Comstock earned first-team All-SEC honors in 1998. In addition, tackle Matt Brown was chosen third-team Freshman All-America by The Sporting News last season.

Although Morriss is in his third season at Kentucky, this will be his fourth year of experience in the Southeastern Conference. Morriss coached the offensive line at Mississippi State in 1996. One of his Bulldog tackles, Brent Smith, garnered first-team All-SEC honors and was a second-round selection of the Miami Dolphins in the National Football League draft.

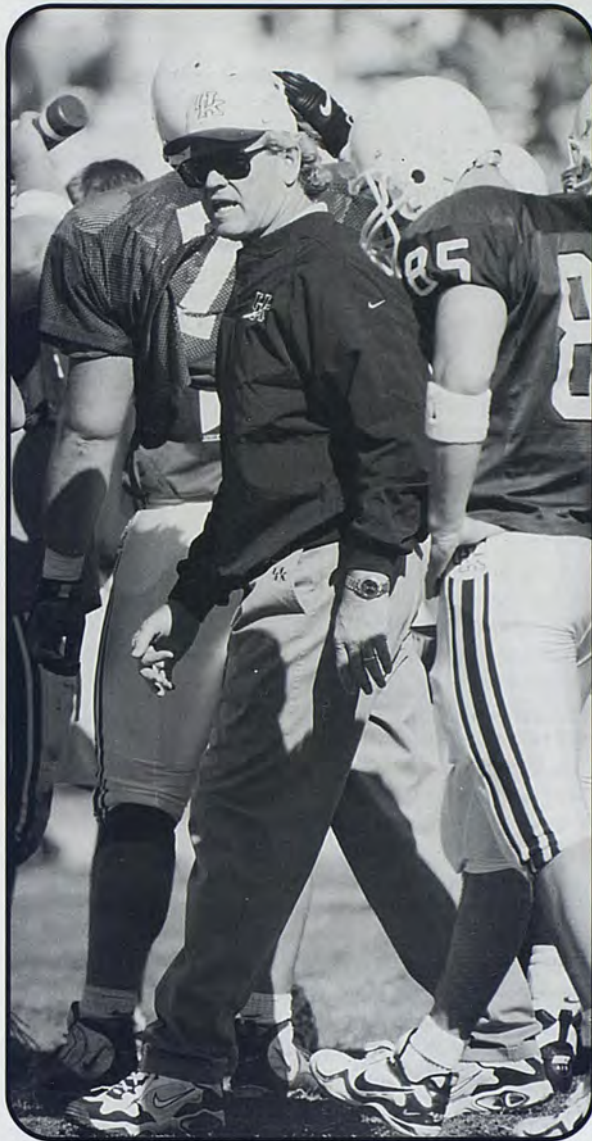

Offensive success is nothing new for Morriss, who has 18 years of NFL experience, 15 years as a player and three as a coach.

After his days as an All-Southwest Conference guard at Texas Christian University, Morriss went on to a 15-year career in the NFL. He spent 11 years with the Philadelphia Eagles and four with the New England Patriots. He was an All-Pro selection in 1981 and played in two Super Bowls.

Morriss began his coaching career with the Patriots in 1988-89. He was the offensive coordinator at Mansfield (Tex.) HS in 1991, then joined forces with Coach Hal Mumme at Valdosta State in 1992-93. He returned to the professional ranks with the Arizona Cardinals in 1994 and the Canadian Football League's San Antonio Texans in 1995.

Guy and his wife, Jackie, have five daughters - adult children

Colleen, Melanie, and Kerry, along with Savannah Rae (12), and Austin Leigh (10).

Darrell Patterson, who is in his third season as the safeties coach at Kentucky, has seen his players win numerous individual honors.

Last season, free safety Jeff Zurcher led the team in tackles in his first season as a starter. Strong safety David Johnson made numerous big plays - four of which had a direct impact on Wildcats victories - and capped his season by being named first-team Freshman All-America by The Sporting News.

In 1997, strong safety Tremayne Martin earned second-team All-Southeastern Conference honors by the league coaches and The Associated Press. Free safety Willie Gary was named first-team Freshman All-America by The Sporting News.

Gary and Johnson return for the 1999 season and are expected to anchor the secondary. Two sophomore lettermen, Anthony Kelly and Anthony Wajda, give the team some experienced depth at the safety slots and sophomore transfer Patrick Wiggins is expected to be a contributor.

A native of Canonsburg, Pa., Patterson was an all-state linebacker in high school. He was named the 1979 Southwest Conference Newcomer of the Year at Texas Christian University and was an All-SWC linebacker during his career at TCU (1979-82). He is the all-time leading tackler at TCU and ranks 15th in NCAA Division I-A history with 544 stops.

Patterson was a sixth-round pick of the New York Giants in the 1983 NFL draft. He was with the Giants and Buffalo Bills before enjoying a seven-year career in the Canadian Football League. Patterson played for Winnipeg from 1984-87 and helped lead the Blue Bombers to the 1984 Grey Cup championship. He played for Hamilton from 1988-90 and the Tiger-Cats were the Grey Cup runners-up in 1989.

Patterson began his coaching career in 1991 as an assistant coach who helped the British Columbia Lions advance to the playoffs. After a year with the Lions, he entered the collegiate ranks at Akron in 1992-93 as an assistant under Coach Gerry Faust. With the Zips, Patterson coached outside linebackers, nickel backs, and special teams. There, he helped develop New York strong safety Victor Green, who was second in the AFC in tackles in 1996, and linebacker Jason Taylor, who was selected in the third round of the 1997 NFL draft by the Miami Dolphins.

Patterson returned to the CFL in 1994 as special teams coordinator and defensive line coach for Ottawa. The Rough Riders advanced to the game. In 1995 he coached the running backs as Navarro went 8-2.

Grey Cup semifinals and two of his players - ends John Cropke and Dave Benefield - were named to the All-CFL team.

In 1995-96, Patterson was at Temple University in Philadelphia, Pa. He coached the defensive line for the Owls.

Darrell and his wife, Julie, have a son, Michael (9), and daughters Monika (5) and Meghan (4).

Dykes also coached running backs on the high school level at Pearce High School in Richardson, Tex., in 1994. He got his start in coaching as a baseball coach at Monahans (Tex.) HS in the spring of 1994.

White Makes Elite List

UK halfback Anthony White is one of only 19 players in Division I-A history who have reached the 1,000-yard mark in rushing and receiving in a career.

White has 1,196 rushing yards and 1,051 receiving yards as a Wildcat. Entering his senior season in 1999, White can add to those totals. A realistic goal would be the 1,500-yard mark in rushing and receiving. Only two players in I-A history, Stanford's Darrin Nelson and Brad Muster, have reached the 1,500-yard mark in each category.

Here is the list of 1,000-yard rushers and receivers, in order of year achieved:

Kentucky 68, Louisville 34

Sept. 5, 1998

Kentucky got its season off to a flying start as the Wildcats won the inaugural game in Papa John's Cardinal Stadium with a 68-34 win over Louisville.

The Wildcats rolled up school records for total offense (801 yards), passing yardage (571), first downs (37), and passing first downs (24) while scoring the most points in a game since 1951. Kentucky also tied its own SEC record with eight touchdown passes.

Junior quarterback Tim Couch led the offense by completing 29 of 39 passes for 498 yards, seven touchdowns, and no interceptions.

Couch broke the SEC record for total offensive yards per play by averaging 11.9 yards on his 42 rushing and passing plays. Couch also tied his own SEC records for touchdown passes in a game with seven and touchdown responsibility (rushing and passing) in a game with seven.

Couch broke his own school records for total offensive yardage (498) and passing yardage (498). He was named National Player of the Week by the College Sports News internet service and on the CNN/SI and The Sporting News internet fan polls.

Senior wide receiver Craig Yeast caught nine passes for a career-high 150 yards and two touchdowns. Sophomore fullback Derek Homer paced the ground game with 123 yards and one touchdown on 19 carries.

The UK defense played better than the score might indicate. The Wildcats allowed 286 yards and 18 points through the first three quarters before going exclusively with reserves in the final quarter.

Kentucky 31, Indiana 27

Sept. 19, 1998

Special teams and defense sparked a second-half comeback as Kentucky rallied to defeat Indiana, 31-27, in Commonwealth Stadium.

Trailing 27-10 with less than six minutes remaining in the third quarter, Matt Mumme hit Garry Davis with a 79-yard touchdown pass on a fake punt on 4th-and-21.

Early in the fourth quarter, freshman strong safety David Johnson knocked loose a fumble that was recovered by George Massey. Two plays later, Tim Couch hit Anthony White with a 48-yard touchdown pass to pull the Wildcats within 27-24.

On Indiana's next possession, Dennis Johnson and Marlon McCree disrupted a shovel pass that was intercepted by John Rader and returned for a 46-yard touchdown. That made the score 31-27 and the Wildcats hung on the rest of the way.

Couch led the offense by completing 38 of 53 passes for 301 yards and one touchdown, but suffered a career-high four interceptions as the Wildcats turned it over six times. White caught nine passes for 92 yards, including the TD play. Derek Homer led the ground game with 65 yards on 11 carries.

Although Kentucky scored its most points against Florida since 1974, the Wildcats were defeated 51-35 by the Gators in "The Swamp."

Tied at 14 in the second quarter, the Gators gained the advantage with three touchdowns in a span of 2:22. The Wildcats pulled within 13 points in the fourth quarter, but a Florida drive and field goal late in the fourth quarter put the game away.

Tim Couch completed 40 of 61 passes for 404 yards and three touchdowns. He broke the UK career records for passing yardage and total offense.

Craig Yeast caught six passes for a school-record 206 yards and two touchdowns. His average of 34.3 yards per catch also was a UK single-game record. He had a 100-yard kickoff return and 97-yard pass reception for touchdowns that were the longest plays in school history. He added a 74-yard touchdown reception. All totaled, Yeast had 331 all-purpose yards.

The Wildcats defense struggled at times against the Gators but also made some big plays. Defensive end Matt Layow had a six-yard interception return for a touchdown, the third consecutive game that the Wildcats defense had scored a TD. Linebacker Marlon McCree had six tackles for loss, breaking the single-game school record.

Oct. 3, 1998

For the second consecutive week, Kentucky played valiantly on the road against a top-25 ranked team, but the Arkansas Razorbacks pulled out a 27-20 victory in Little Rock.

Kentucky built a 20-7 lead in the third quarter on the strength of Tim Couch touchdown passes to Craig Yeast, Quentin McCord, and Lance Mickelsen. However, Arkansas rallied for the win, with the game-winning score coming on a 10-yard pass from Clint Stoerner to Hubert Loudermilk with 9:31 left in the game.

Couch completed 47 of 67 passes, both SEC single-game records. He threw for a school-record 499 yards and three TDs. Kevin Coleman had six catches for a career-high 105 yards. Anthony White caught 10 balls for 77 yards and Quentin McCord nabbed eight aeriels for 76 yards and one TD.

The Wildcats also came up with some big plays on defense. Freshman strong safety David Johnson had the first interception of his career, ending a string of 137 consecutive attempts without an interception by Stoerner. Freshman Dennis Johnson blocked a field goal.

Kentucky 33, South Carolina 28

Oct. 10, 1998

Tim Couch threw for three touchdowns and Anthony White went over the 100-yard mark in both rushing and receiving as Kentucky outlasted South Carolina, 33-28, during the Wildcats' Homecoming game.

Couch completed 29 of 42 passes for 315 yards, including TD tosses to Craig Yeast, Garry Davis, and Kevin Coleman. He was not intercepted.

White rushed for 108 yards and also caught eight passes for 117 stripes, accounting for a total of 225 yards. He became the first player in school history to go over the century mark in rushing and receiving in the same game.

Quentin McCord went 80 yards for a touchdown on a reverse on UK's first offensive play. A 30-yard Seth Hanson field goal near the end of the first half gave UK a 17-14 lead at intermission. UK held the lead for the remainder of the game, but never was able to put away the pesky Gamecocks.

A 29-yard TD pass from Couch to Coleman in the fourth quarter, plus a defensive safety, gave the Wildcats a 33-21 lead. The Gamecocks scored with 56 seconds remaining, but the Wildcats were awarded the onside kick and ran out the clock.

The Kentucky defense made some big plays. The Wildcats sacked the quarterback six times, including three by Marlon McCree. McCree also notched a safety - UK's first since 1996 - by sacking Phil Petty in the end zone during the fourth quarter.

Kentucky 39, Louisiana State 36

Oct. 17, 1998

Seth Hanson made a 33-yard field goal as time expired as Kentucky defeated No. 21-ranked Louisiana State, 39-36, in Baton Rouge.

Taking the ball at their own 24-yard line, with the score tied at 36 with two minutes to go, the Wildcats seemed to be playing for overtime with a pair of running plays into the line. But, on third-and-12, Quentin McCord ran an end-around and broke loose for 38 yards. A 14-yard pass from Tim Couch to Jimmy Haley put the Wildcats in position for the field goal and Hanson drilled the game-winner right down the middle.

Kentucky never trailed in the game but was unable to put away the Tigers until the final play. Trailing 36-22 in the fourth quarter, LSU rallied to tie the score before the heroics by McCord and Hanson.

Couch led the Wildcats by completing 37 of 50 passes for 391 yards and three touchdowns. Craig Yeast caught seven passes for 122 yards and two touchdowns. Derek Homer rushed for 60 yards on 11 carries and Anthony White ran for 43 yards and two touchdowns.

The Wildcats' defense had four quarterback sacks and six other tackles for loss while limiting LSU to only 74 rushing yards.

The victory was UK's first road win over a ranked opponent since 1977.

Georgia 28, Kentucky 26

Oct. 24, 1998

Kentucky missed a chance to knock off ranked opponents in consecutive weeks by falling to Georgia, 28-26, in Commonwealth Stadium.

Kentucky jumped out to a 10-0 lead in the first quarter. However, the Wildcats missed an opportunity by being held on downs after driving to the Georgia one-yard line. The Bulldogs seized the momentum and scored touchdowns on each of their next four possessions to take a 28-20 lead in the third quarter.

Kentucky drove for another touchdown, but missed the tying two-point conversion. The Wildcats regained the ball with two minutes remaining and drove to the Georgia 32-yard line, but a bad snap on the game's final play ruined a possible game-winning field goal attempt.

Kentucky outgained Georgia, 530 yards to 332. Tim Couch completed 34 of 46 passes for 326 yards and two touchdowns. Craig Yeast caught eight passes for 100 yards and two touchdowns and Kevin Coleman caught six balls for 100 yards. Derek Homer (91 yards, one TD) and Anthony White (76 yards) each enjoyed good days in the ground game.

Quarterback Quincy Carter completed 10 of 14 passes for 147 yards and two TDs. He also ran for 114 yards and a touchdown.

Kentucky 37, Mississippi State 35

Nov. 7, 1998

Trailing by 11 points in the third quarter, Kentucky rallied with three consecutive touchdowns, then held on for a 37-35 victory over Mississippi State in Lexington.

Led by running back James Johnson, who rushed for 209 yards and two touchdowns during the game, State built a 29-18 lead in the third quarter.

However, Kentucky rallied behind quarterback Tim Couch, who led the Wildcats to scoring drives of 48, 72, and 87 yards, giving UK a 37-29 lead.

MSU bounced back with its own touchdown, cutting the lead to 37-35 in the fourth quarter, but defensive tackle Mark Jacobs stopped the Bulldogs' Wayne Madkin on a two-point conversion try.

UK took over with 3:24 remaining. Couch guided the Wildcats to two first downs and ran out the clock to preserve the victory.

Despite suffering a sprained thumb in the first quarter, Couch completed 35 of 45 passes for 338 yards and two touchdowns. He also ran for a touchdown.

Running back Derek Homer had one of his best games by rushing 10 times for 130 yards and two touchdowns. Kevin Coleman led the receivers with eight catches for 103 yards and one TD. Craig Yeast caught six for 87 yards and a touchdown.

Kentucky 55, Vanderbilt 17

Nov. 14, 1998

A 31-point third-quarter explosion gave Kentucky all the offense it needed on this record-setting day, as UK blasted Vanderbilt 55-17 in Commonwealth Stadium.

Craig Yeast led the record parade by catching a school-record 16 passes for an SEC-record 269 yards and two scores. With the 16 grabs, Yeast broke the SEC career record for pass receptions. Yeast also rolled up 306 all-purpose yards during the game, breaking the school career record for all-purpose yardage.

Tim Couch was 44 of 53 on the day for 492 yards and five scores. With his performance, Couch broke SEC single-season records for total offensive yardage, passing yardage, and completions.

The Wildcats defense held Vanderbilt to 285 yards of total offense and claimed three fumbles. Part of the third-quarter rumble was a sack by Dennis Johnson that caused a fumble, which Marlon McCree returned 22 yards for a touchdown. It was the sixth time this season that the Kentucky defense put points on the scoreboard.

With the win, UK improved to 7-3, 4-3 in the SEC. The seven wins are the most for a UK team since 1984, and the four SEC wins are the most since 1993.

As a team, Kentucky rolled up five more Southeastern Conference single-season records, along with 10 additional Kentucky team records.

The Outback Bowl

Jan. 1, 1999

Playing on New Year's Day for the first time in 47 years, the Kentucky Wildcats jumped out to an early lead, but the Penn State Nittany Lions rallied for a 26-14 victory in the Outback Bowl in Tampa, Fla.

Although the game was played in Tampa, the Wildcats certainly felt at home. Heavy ticket demand gave the Outback Bowl its first sellout ever, as more than 40,000 UK fans were packed among the 66,005 patrons in Raymond James Stadium.

Kentucky got on the board first with 7:36 remaining in the first quarter. At the PSU 36-yard line, under heavy pressure, quarterback Tim Couch lofted a rainbow into the end zone that wide receiver Lance Mickelsen caught for a touchdown.

Later in the opening period, UK stretched the lead to 14-3 with a 64-yard drive, capped by a 16-yard TD pass from Couch to halfback Anthony White. Key plays on the drive included a 22-yard pass from Couch to wide receiver Kevin Coleman and a 30-yard aerial to Mickelsen.

From the second quarter, however, Penn State chipped away. Quarterback Kevin Thompson hit flanker Joe Nastasi with a 56-yard touchdown bomb. A second field goal from Travis Forney narrowed the UK advantage to 14-13 at halftime.

The Nittany Lions took the lead for good in the third quarter on two more field goals by Forney, giving him four on the day. Penn State put the game away in the fourth quarter with a 19-yard end-around TD run by Chafie Fields.

Meanwhile, the PSU defense shut out the Wildcats the last three quarters. Kentucky continued to move the ball, but three scoring opportunities came up empty - one on an interception, one on a missed field goal, and the other when the Wildcats were held on downs.

Kentucky actually outgained Penn State, 441 yards to 420. UK might have done even better, but the Wildcats' offensive line was missing three senior starters, all of whom were replaced by freshmen.

Couch paced the attack by completing 30 of 48 passes for 336 yards and two TDs, completing his streak of at least 300 passing yards and at least one TD pass in every game this season. Running backs Anthony White and Derek Homer caught seven balls each. White totaled 101 yards on the day, with eight rushes for 61 yards and seven receptions for 40 yards.

Apioneer in the integration of higher education and athletic competition, the Southeastern Conference stands ready to advance intercollegiate athletics into the 21st century.

Throughout its 65-year history, the SEC has provided leadership on the vital issues facing intercollegiate competition. In 1993, the member institutions adopted The Principles of Gender Equity. Committed to increasing the quantity and quality of women's athletic opportunities, each school will provide at least two more women's intercollegiate programs than the number of men's.

Faced with the task of conference realignment after competing with 10 members since 1966, the SEC welcomed the University of Arkansas on Aug. 1, 1990, and the University of South Carolina on Sept. 25, 1990. Joining charter members Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, LSU, Mississippi, Mississippi State, Tennessee and Vanderbilt, on July 1, 1991, Arkansas and South Carolina became the first schools added in conference history.

SEC schools began athletic competition with one another over 100 years ago as members of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association. Seven institutions (Alabama, Auburn, Georgia, Georgia Tech, North Carolina, Sewanee and Vanderbilt) attended the SIAA organizational meeting of faculty representatives, called by Dr. William L. Dudley of Vanderbilt, in Atlanta Dec. 22, 1894.

Kentucky joined the SIAA in 1895. By 1920, the SIAA had 30 members and the larger schools, including Kentucky, reorganized as the 14-member Southern Conference. By 1928, the SC grew to 23 members and realignment occurred again.

The 13 members west and south of the Appalachian Mountains reorganized as the Southeastern Conference at the annual SC meeting of Dec. 8-9, 1932, in Knoxville. The 10 coast members remained in the Southern Conference. Dr. Frank L. McVey of Kentucky was elected president of the new conference whose charter members were: Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Kentucky, Louisiana State, Mississippi, Mississippi State, Sewanee, Tennessee, Tulane and Vanderbilt. (Sewanee withdrew Dec. 13, 1940, Georgia Tech on June 1, 1964, and Tulane on June 1, 1966.) McVey held an informal meeting of the school presidents in Birmingham Feb. 10, 1933, then the first full meeting in Atlanta Feb. 27.

The office of the commissioner was formed in 1940 in Jackson due to the great amount of detail work developing, especially in recruiting and eligibility. Former Mis-issippi Governor Martin S. Connor took office as commissioner Aug. 21, 1940. Connor later became ill and the secretary of the conference, Dean N.W. Dougherty of Tennessee, served as acting commissioner during the fall of 1946.

The office moved to Birmingham with the appointment of Bernie H. Moore as the second full-time commissioner on Feb. 21, 1948. Moore, a former LSU coach, guided the SEC to national respect in his 18-year tenure.

A.M. (Tonto) Coleman succeeded Moore upon his retirement April 1, 1966. The Alabama native, who was reared in Texas and experienced in athletic coaching and administration, served six and a half years.

Dr. H. Boyd McWhorter, then Dean of Arts and Sciences at Georgia and secretary of the league since 1967, accepted the position upon retirement of Coleman Aug. 1, 1972. Under his leadership the SEC experienced unparalleled growth. In McWhorter's first year the SEC distributed $1.57 million and 14 years later (1986) the league distributed $15 million in revenue to the member institutions.

Dr. Harvey W. Schiller, an Air Force colonel and faculty chair at the U.S. Air Force Academy, followed McWhorter upon retirement, taking office Sept. 15, 1986.

Roy F. Kramer succeeded Schiller on Jan. 10, 1990. Kramer, who has served on numerous NCAA committees, joined the league office after spending 12 years as athletic director at Vanderbilt.

The first SEC champions were crowned in 1933 in baseball, basketball, football and outdoor track. The leagues inaugural championship event was a basketball tournament in Atlanta Feb. 24-28, 1933. Records show the first men's team title for cross country was awarded in 1935, while golf and swimming were added in 1937. The league later began hosting championships in tennis (1938) and indoor track (1957).

In the 1979-80 academic year SEC championships for women were recognized in basketball, tennis and volleyball. The following year golf, gymnastics, swimming and track and field were added. Soccer was added in 1993 and softball began in 1997. The administration of women's athletics officially came under the auspices of the conference office on Sept. 1, 1984.

The SEC currently regulates nine men's sports and 11 women's sports: Men - baseball, basketball, football, golf, swimming, tennis and track (cross country, indoor and outdoor). Women's - basketball, golf, gymnastics, soccer, softball, swimming, tennis, track (cross country, indoor and outdoor) and volleyball.

The University

Coach Hal Mumme and Athletics Director C. M. Newton (above) share a happy moment following a Wildcats victory. Newton tentatively plans to retire in the summer of 2000. He is one of the most influential persons in collegiate athletics and has been called "the best athletics director in America" by ESPN analyst Dick Vitale.

Dr. Charles Wetbington Jr., (below) President of the University of Kentucky, is highly involved in the national athletics scene. Wetbington is chair of the NCAA Executive Committee and is a member of the NCAA Division I-A Board of Directors.

The University of Kentucky was founded in 1865 as a land-grant institution, and the present name dates to 1916.

The campus in Lexington has 673 acres and is located just south of downtown. It consists of a graduate school, the University hospital and 16 colleges. The colleges are: allied health professions, architecture, arts and sciences, agriculture, business and economics, communications and information studies, dentistry, engineering, education, fine arts, human environmental sciences, law, medicine, nursing, pharmacy and social work. The graduate school offers 96 master's degree programs and 60 doctoral programs.

Enrollment on the campus in Lexington is more than 30,000 and includes students from every Kentucky county, every state, and more than 100 foreign countries. Full-time faculty numbers 1,833. Approximately 98 percent of the full-time faculty hold the highest possible degrees in their field. UK's faculty and staff attract more than $130 million annually in grants, gifts and contracts; and the University has been designated a Research University I by the Carnegie Foundation — one of just 59 such public universities in the country.

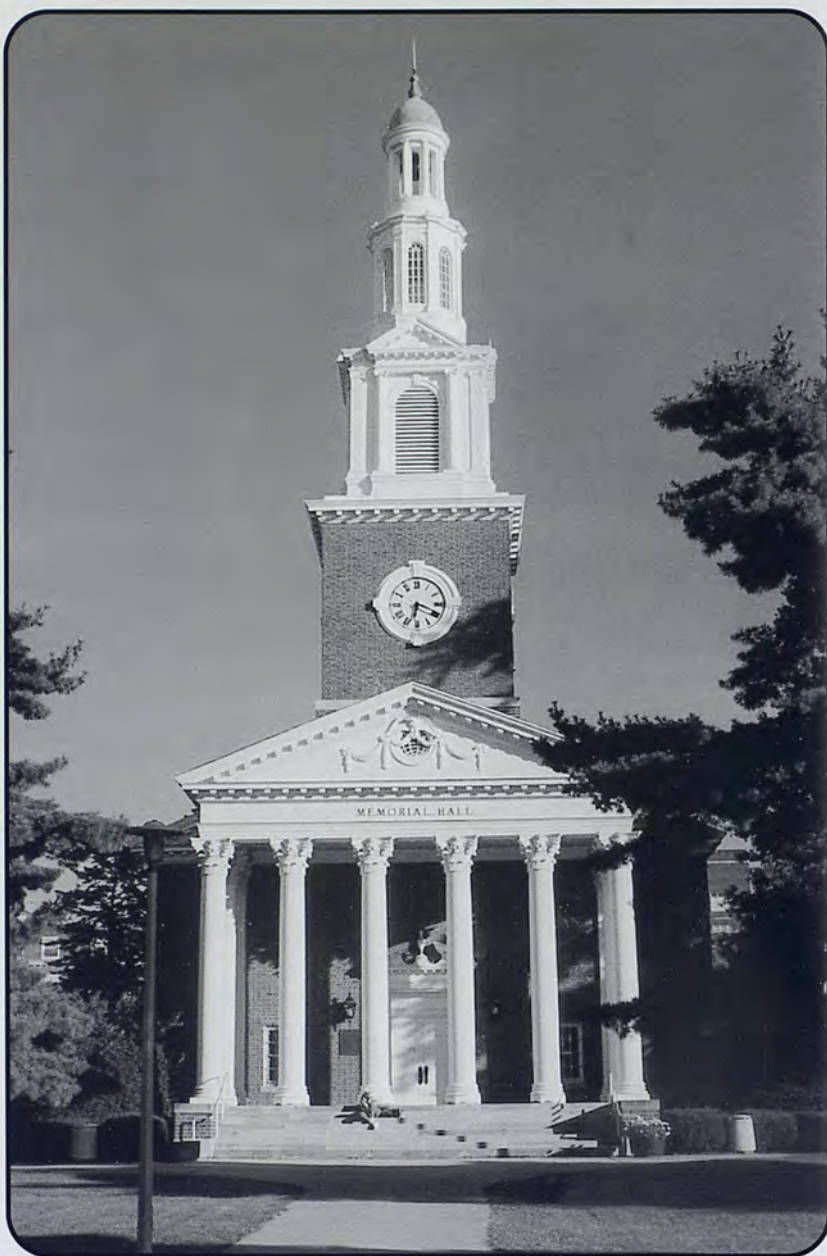

The University attracts excellent students. The average ACT score for first-year students is four points above the national average.

The number of UK alumni is more than 160,000. Private support from alumni and friends of the University exceeds $45 million annually.

The new William T. Young Library is a library of tomorrow for Kentuckians of today. The $58 million structure is a repository of knowledge as well as a symbol of the University's commitment to academic excellence. It is a building that appeals to the eye and the intellect.

"Public buildings, especially libraries, should be something above the ordinary," says President Charles T. Wethington Jr. "We wanted this building to make a statement about the importance of a library. I feel we have done that."

This library, he adds, is a symbol to our students and faculty, now and later, and to all Kentuckians that academic excellence is our top priority, and that we "are committed to becoming one of the nation's top 20 public research universities."

In addition, UK maintains 23 research centers which conduct applied research in areas as diverse as tobacco and health, aging, cancer, toxicology, equine health, mineral production, manufacturing systems, and public policy.

Several excel in the services offered to the public. The Center for Manufacturing Systems has assisted more than 500 small and mid-sized industrial firms in Kentucky. The Gluck Equine Research Center is recognized as one of only three of its kind in the world, offering continuing research into diseases of the horse.

The UK College of Medicine is consistently ranked among the top schools nationally in the quality of primary care training. The UK College of Pharmacy is ranked third in the country by U.S. News and World Report and is one of the few pharmacy schools in the country with the capability of developing a drug "from bench to bedside" because of its drug product evaluation unit.

The University is in the process of developing the Coldstream Research Campus, a 750-acre complex designed to attract high-tech companies desiring ties to the University. Negotiations are under way to execute leases with developers to construct several new commercial facilities on the research campus.

(Editor's note: The contract of Athletics Director C. M. Newton expires in the summer of 2000 and he has tentative plans to retire. His biography has been expanded to include some of Newton's reflections on his 50-plus years in athletics.)

The remarkable career of one of the finest persons and most capable administrators in intercollegiate athletics could close a significant chapter in the summer of 2000, as C. M. Newton has tentative plans to retire as Director of Athletics at the University of Kentucky.

Newton is in his 11th year in his current role, which began with his hiring on April 1, 1989. With a lengthy, impressive list of credentials and a sparkling reputation for integrity, Newton was brought on board at a crucial time in the history of UK athletics.

Newton's term of service at Kentucky has been marked by athletic and academic achievement, dedication to rules compliance, the addition of three sports, expansion of facilities, and growth in revenues in response to the increasing financial pressures of collegiate athletics.

Newton's first task, however, was to calm the troubled waters of the men's basketball program beset by controversy in the late 1980s. He succeeded far more quickly than anyone imagined.

"From a competitive standpoint, the key in my coming to Kentucky was to have men's basketball succeed in a short period of time," Newton said. "The catalyst was Rick Pitino and all Kentuckians should thank him for what he did."

Coach Pitino put a breathtaking 180-degree spin on UK men's basketball, instantly returning the Wildcats to competitiveness, and within three years the team reached the final eight of the NCAA Tournament.

Newton's long-term focus, of course, was far beyond the immediate need experienced by men's basketball. He has established four cornerstones for UK athletics: 1) win; 2) complete compliance to NCAA and SEC rules; 3) keep the student-athlete at the heart of the program; and 4) do everything with class.

As he looks back on his tenure in the Bluegrass, Newton sees a number of athletic successes. The football team is coming off its first New Year's Day bowl appearance in 47 years. Newton's hiring of Coach Hal Mumme, and the exciting play of the Wildcats, has unleashed a lightning bolt of enthusiasm for the UK football program.

The men's basketball team has made four consecutive trips to the final eight of the NCAA Tournament, including national championships in 1996 and 1998. As chairman of the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament Committee, Newton had the pleasure of handing the '98 trophy to Tubby Smith, who was Newton's hand-picked successor to Pitino.

Newton chose Bernadette Mattox to rebuild the women's basketball program, a decision that has proved fortuitous. Mattox has made steady progress, and in 1999, the Wildcats reached the second round of the NCAA Tournament, the team's first appearance in the tourney in eight years.

Newton has overseen the addition of the softball team and the men's and women's soccer teams and several of the non-revenue sports have achieved national distinction. Upgrading of facilities has been a continual theme, and the 1990s have seen expansion of the baseball stadium, acquisition of a golf course, construction of the soccer/softball complex, building of a new tennis stadium, and construction of the Nutter Field House, a multi-functional facility that serves the needs of several Wildcats teams. UK is also in the process of expanding Commonwealth Stadium.

The rapid development of facilities, addition of new teams, and Newton's insistence on first-class support of all sports has sparked a budget that has grown from $11.6 million in 1989-90 to $36 million in his final year. Yet, financially speaking, UK Athletics is healthier than ever, enabling the UKAA to also assume responsibility for paying the $3.2 million a year necessary to retire the construction bonds of the University's new William T. Young Library.

The triumphs on the field and the growth in facilities and budget speak for themselves. However, when asked about his time at Kentucky, Newton is equally gratified at developments "behind the scenes."

"I'm very proud of what we've done in compliance," said Newton, as Kentucky has maintained a clean record under his leadership. "Bringing in John Bostick (Newton's longtime assistant basketball coach) set a model for compliance which we have been able to continue."

"I'm also very proud of the attention we have given to the student-athlete through our CATS program, not only with academic support, but also with the life-skills programs, community service, career development programs, and so on. We've also been able to provide the facilities that student-athletes need, especially the Nutter Field House, which benefits the entire University community in addition to our athletics teams.

"Those are the kinds of things that make you feel good."

Newton's successes were acknowledged earlier this year when he was named Regional Athletics Director of the Year by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA). He was one of four finalists for the National Athletics Director of the Year Award.

With retirement on the horizon, Newton's career has come full circle. His first exposure in intercollegiate athletics came at the University of Kentucky in the fall of 1948. It was then he began weaving a rich tapestry of experiences that have made him a Renaissance man in intercollegiate athletics, a tapestry with threads of student-athlete, professional athlete, coach, game official, military man, professor, conference administrator, national administrator, rules chairman, and coach/administrator in international competition.

Newton was an all-state performer as a football quarterback, baseball pitcher, and

UK Director of Athletics

C. M. Newton

C. M. Newton was a letterman on the 1951 Kentucky national championship team.

basketball guard/forward at Ft. Lauderdale (Fla.) High School. He could have played football at Tennessee under Coach Bob Neyland, or basketball at Oklahoma A&M under Coach Hank Iba, but instead followed the lure of Adolph Rupp and chose a basketball scholarship at Kentucky.

"It was the best decision I ever made," Newton said. "Coming to Kentucky gave me exposure to Coach Rupp and Coach Bryant (UK football coach Paul "Bear" Bryant). I had a tremendous undergraduate experience, both as a student and an athlete."

Newton was a reserve in basketball and was a letterman on UK's 1951 national championship team. He also continued as a baseball pitcher and was the ace moundsmen for Wildcats' baseball teams that advanced to the NCAA Tournament. He also quarterbacked his intramural football team to two campus championships, prompting a report in the Louisville Courier-Journal that "Newton - next to (All-America quarterback) Babe Parilli - is the best passer on campus."

From 1951 to 1953, Newton's life was a whirlwind. He married his high school sweetheart, Evelyn Davis. He graduated from UK with a degree in physical education. He signed a baseball contract with the New York Yankees and pitched in the minor leagues. During the off-season, he coached the basketball and baseball teams at Transylvania College in Lexington. And, to scratch up extra money, he officiated basketball games, an experience that he said, "gave him a tremendous appreciation for the rules."

Newton had been a member of ROTC at UK and was commissioned into the Air Force in 1953 as a lieutenant. He was the athletic officer for Andrews Air Force Base in Washington, D. C., at a time that the military was placing great emphasis on athletics.

"I was, basically, the athletic director for the base," Newton said. "I got to take the PE major I'd had at Kentucky and put it to work. It was a tremendous educational experience. I organized the base athletics, and with the resources of the government behind us, we built facilities for baseball, softball, and golf. Had it not been for pro baseball, I would have stayed in the Air Force."

Newton returned to pro baseball in 1956, but the arrival of daughters Deborah and Tracy put C. M. and Evelyn at a crossroads. When Transylvania called, asking him to return to Lexington, Newton reluctantly hung up his spikes.

"The thing that made that decision was lifestyle," Newton said. "Had we not had children, I probably would have stayed in baseball. It was hard to give up that dream, but it was a very difficult family lifestyle."

Newton was head basketball coach and chairman of the physical education department at Transylvania, but at various times also coached the baseball, tennis, and soccer teams. ("I also wanted to coach golf, but I couldn't qualify," Newton joked.)

Newton has been quoted that his time at Transylvania was perhaps his happiest.

"It was a great family time," Newton said. "Our children were born here. We bought our first home. All the things that go into family life started here."

"And, Transy was really good to me. They had a strong academic program. I loved coaching. I would have been content to stay there and coach and teach."

Newton handled his coaching duties extremely well. Despite the handicap of limited scholarships, against very challenging schedules, Newton fashioned a 12-year record of 169-137. His best season came in 1962-63, when the Pioneers went 20-8 and advanced to the NIAA National Tournament.

Change was on the horizon in 1968 when Bear Bryant - now head football coach and athletic director at Alabama - called Adolph Rupp, looking for a new head basketball coach to revive a downtrodden program. Rupp looked no farther than the cross-town school and advised Bryant to hire Newton.

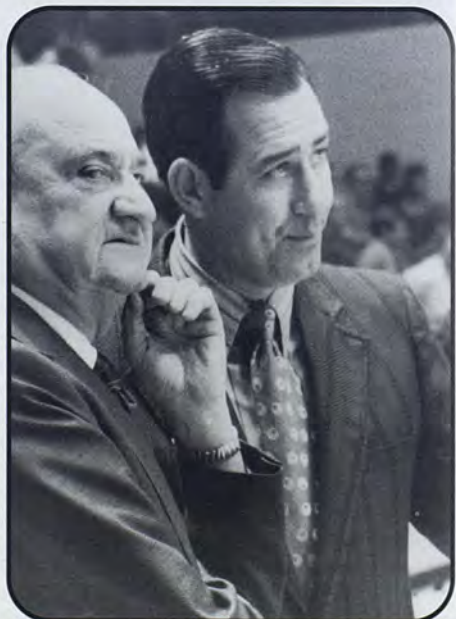

During his 12 years at Alabama, Newton orchestrated a complete turnaround in the Crimson Tide's basketball fortunes, compiling a sparkling 211-123 record. He won three consecutive SEC championships in 1974, 1975, and 1976, the only non-Kentucky coach ever to achieve that feat. Alabama played in two NCAA Tournaments and four National Invitation Tournaments.

A happy Bryant remarked that, "C. M. Newton is a winner, and that's important, but more than anything else, he wins or loses with class, and that's more important."

The success, however, did not come overnight. Newton's first team went 4-20, 1-17 in the SEC. Then, he created controversy by racially integrating the team with the signing of Wendell Hudson, an African-American forward from Birmingham.

The signing of Hudson had the public backing of Bryant, which greatly smoothed the way. It wasn't easy of course, but the integration of the team went fairly seamlessly - a situation in which Newton and Hudson graciously have given each other the credit.

"Integrating the program was the key thing," Newton said. "It had importance not only at Alabama, but also around the league. We took in-state talent and won nationally. That opened the door for a lot of African-American youngsters.

"Winning three conference championships was a high point for me, to win there was very gratifying, but I'm also proud of the fact that a very high percentage of our youngsters graduated. Our guys did the schoolwork and won on the court.

"With the success of the football team and our success, it was a golden era at Alabama. Those were fun years."

Newton was named SEC Coach of the Year three years at Alabama, and with few horizons left to conquer, Newton resigned at the end of the 1980 season to accept a job as assistant commissioner of the Southeastern Conference.

"Working at the SEC was another great experience. Dr. McWhorter (Commissioner Boyd McWhorter) was such a unique man. He had such a solid understanding of the academic-athletic mix that has to take place, and he did it right without being a 'do-gooder.'"

Newton's goal was to be commissioner when McWhorter retired, but after one year a very persuasive Vanderbilt athletic director, Roy Kramer, talked him into a return to coaching.

"I had not intended to coach again, but there was something special about a school with real tradition but was struggling," Newton said. "Vanderbilt is absolutely bent on doing it right. It reminded me of a bigger Transylvania. The challenge excited me and appealed to me."

Newton gradually rebuilt Vanderbilt, posting a 129-115 record in eight seasons, bringing his career totals to 509 wins and 375 losses. His coaching acumen was perhaps at its sharpest at the Nashville school. Opponents learned that one of the worst scenarios that could occur was to be locked in a close game with the clock ticking down, as Newton's Commodores posted an amazing record of 32-16 in games decided by three points or less. His last two years were his best, advancing to the NCAA Tournament and being named SEC Coach of the Year both times. Only a bizarre loss, on a technical foul because of tennis balls thrown by a fan, separated Newton from another SEC championship in 1989, his last year as a coach.

During the 1988-89 season, Newton privately agonized over the troubles at his alma mater, and when UK President David Roselle called, Newton was willing to return to his old Kentucky home.

In addition to his accomplishments noted earlier as UK athletics director, Newton has steadily grown more prominent on the national scene. Newton was a member of the National Association of Basketball Coaches Board of Directors for a total of 11 years, including three years at Alabama and all eight years at Vanderbilt. He was a member of the NCAA Rules Committee from 1979-85, including five years as chairman. It was during Newton's watch on the rules committee that the two most important rules changes of the modern era - the shot clock and the three-point shot - came into existence.

Newton was a member of the NCAA Division I Basketball Committee, overseeing the NCAA Tournament, from 1992-99, including the last two years as chair of the group. In 1998, a survey done by the San Antonio Express-News proclaimed Newton "the most powerful man in college basketball."

Newton's influence also has extended internationally. While at Alabama, he began doing coaching clinics in Guatemala as part of the "Partners With America" program.

"When I saw the hunger for basketball outside our country, I got hooked," Newton said.

Newton got involved with ABAUSA (now USA Basketball), the nation's governing body for international play. In 1983 and 1987, Newton took his Vanderbilt squads to the Republic of China (Taiwan) to represent the United States at the R. William Jones Cup International Tournament, winning the gold medal in 1983 and the silver in 1987. He served as team manager, a combination coaching and administrative position, on Coach Bobby Knight's 1984 U. S. Olympic team that won the gold medal - the last U. S. team comprised of collegians that won the gold.

Newton became vice-president of USA Basketball in 1988. In 1992, he became president of USA Basketball, overseeing the creation of the Olympic "Dream Team" comprised of NBA players. He continued as USA Basketball president through 1996, also pushing for dramatic growth in international women's basketball.

Internationally, Newton has represented North America on the 14-member FIBA Central Board since 1994. He is a member of the COPABA Executive Board, which oversees international basketball in North, Central, and South America.

Newton's work has been recognized with major honors. In 1999, he was given the Naismith Award by the Atlanta Tipoff Club in recognition of his service to basketball.

In 1997, Newton was given the John Bunn Award by the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame, recognizing his lifetime of contributions to the sport, and is the highest honor given by the Hall of Fame other than induction.

It was also in 1997 that Newton broke new ground by hiring Orlando "Tubby" Smith as the first African-American head coach of the Kentucky men's basketball team. Newton had integrated the Transylvania and Alabama teams, and once more, he was seen as an agent for racial equality, a description he tries to shrug away.

"Each time, integrating the team seemed like the thing to do," Newton said. "I saw youngsters with talent, and I couldn't come up with any reason not to, so why not? And (hiring) Tubby was a no-brainer. He was the best person for the job."

"I never looked at myself as a social reformer. Each time the issue arose, it pragmatically seemed the right thing to do. I learned from my parents (R. Y. and Adelia Newton) that people are people, accept them as individuals. That's the way I was raised."

The raising of Newton began in Rockwood, Tenn., where he was born on Feb. 2, 1930. At the age of nine months, the Newton family moved from Harriman, Tenn., to Fort Lauderdale. Newton is remembered in the Florida city, where he was a charter member of the Ft. Lauderdale Sports Hall of Fame, along with Chris Evert, Julius Boros, and the late Brian Piccolo. He developed his athletic talents in Fort Lauderdale, preparing for the collegiate journey that began, and returned, to Lexington.

When retirement comes, C. M. and Evelyn plan to continue living in Lexington, with C. M. serving UK as a consultant to the athletics department. Certainly, there will be more time available for his hobby of bonefishing, along with their three grown children - Deborah, Tracy, and son Martin - and five grandchildren.

Larry Ivy

Senior Associate Director of Athletics

In the last 23 years, the University of Kentucky Athletics Association has seen tremendous growth:

- The budget has increased from $3 million in 1976-77 to $36 million in fiscal year 2000;

- From nine men's sports to 22 varsity sports today, including the addition of women's sports into UK Athletics;

- From 40 full-time employees to 150.

In the competitive arena, the Wildcats have won three NCAA Men's Basketball Championships, appeared in six NCAA Final Fours and played in five college football bowl games, among numerous other accomplishments. And the one constant figure throughout this era of tremendous growth and success has been Senior Associate Athletics Director Larry Ivy.

The Huntsville, Ala., native joined the Association in 1976 as the Assistant Athletics Director. He had previously served at UK since 1969, joining the University staff as the youngest Director of Housing in the nation at age 26.

In his new role in athletics, Ivy oversaw the fiscal duties of the Association, a duty that has mushroomed during his tenure. In 1989, with the hiring of Athletics Director C.M. Newton, Ivy was promoted to Associate Athletics Director for Internal Affairs, serving as Newton's top assistant.

Four years later, he earned his current title of Senior Associate Athletics Director, and has established himself as one of the most knowledgeable college administrators in the nation.

Today, Ivy oversees the day-to-day operations of the Association in the absence of the Athletics Director. He also handles operations for the men's basketball and football programs at UK, and serves as game management director for both sports. In addition, he assumes responsibility for the operation of all facilities, maintenance, grounds, ticket office, accounting, purchasing and data processing.

A master organizer, Ivy has served as tournament manager for nine rounds of the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament held in Lexington - including the 1985 Final Four - and for three Southeastern Conference Men's Basketball Tournaments. Ivy has served on numerous committees for the SEC, and currently is chairman of the SEC Men's Basketball Tournament Ticket Committee.

A defining moment for Ivy occurred at the 1995 NCAA Convention, when he was recognized as the 1994 NCAA Business Manager of the Year by the College Athletic Business Managers of America (CABMA), the highest honor given by the group. The national award recognized Ivy's outstanding achievement in managing the finances of the UK Athletics Association.

Ivy, a UK Fellow, earned his undergraduate degree from the University of Alabama in 1967 and a master's in business administration from there in 1968. He and his wife Dorene have two children, Kim Ivy and Rob Manchester.

Kathleen DeBoer

*Associate Director of Athletics/
Senior Women's Administrator*

Kathleen DeBoer is in her 16th year at the University of Kentucky, including her seventh year as Associate Director of Athletics.

DeBoer is the director of the Athletics Association's Blue and White Fund and supervises the fundraising and development activities of the department. She has been instrumental in raising funds for UK's recently completed softball/soccer complex and the expansion of the Ohio Casualty Center for Academic and Tutorial Services. DeBoer is also in charge of personnel matters for the Athletics Association and acts as the department liaison with Alumni Affairs and University Development.

In 1997 she was appointed as the Southeastern Conference representative to the NCAA Budget and Finance Cabinet, where she serves on the administrative committee and chairs the finance committee.

Prior to her promotion, DeBoer was the Assistant Athletics Director for UK's non-revenue sports and the women's volleyball coach. In her nine seasons with the volleyball team, DeBoer led her Wildcats to an impressive 212-96 record, including three Southeastern Conference titles, two SEC Tournament championships, and the 1991 National Invitational Volleyball Tournament championship. DeBoer, the 1987 Tachikara National Coach of the Year, took UK to the Final Eight in 1987 and the NCAA Final 16 in 1988, 1990 and 1992. Several of her assistants and former players moved on to head coaching positions at other Division I schools, including Mary Wise at Florida, Sharon Dingman at Butler, Mary Jones at Wake Forest and Yvette Moorehead at George Washington.

DeBoer spent four seasons as volleyball coach at Ferris State University prior to coming to UK. She led Ferris State to a pair of Great Lakes Conference championships. She was an advisor to the 1996 U.S. Olympics Volleyball Team and chaired the search committee for the 2000 Olympic Games coach.

DeBoer also is active on the UK campus and in the Lexington community. She served on the United Way Board of Directors and is a popular speaker at conferences and awards programs.

DeBoer received her bachelor's degree from Michigan State, where she lettered in volleyball and basketball. She has been honored several times by her alma mater, including the 1999 MSU Scholar-Athlete Alumni Award and the 1989 Nell Jackson Outstanding Alumna Award. DeBoer also has earned an MBA degree while at Kentucky.

DeBoer is married to Mark Pittman of Lexington.

Bob Bradley

Student Services*

Bob Bradley was promoted to Associate Athletics Director in the summer of 1997.

As Assistant Athletics Director of Student Services since 1977, Bradley has managed the daily operations of the Athletics Department's academic-athletics advising program.

During his tenure as Assistant Athletics Director, Bradley oversaw the opening of the Center for Academic and Tutorial Services (CATS) in 1981, the first academic center for student-athletes in the nation. Under Bradley's direction, many UK student-athletes have been honored for their academic achievements, both on conference and national levels. In 1989, UK won the College Football Association's prestigious academic achievement award, given to the university with the highest graduation rate among its football players.

Bradley is a past president of the National Association of Academic Advisors for Athletics (N4A) and currently serves on the executive board of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), a division of the Center for the Study of Sport in Society. Bradley has twice been honored as "Academic Advisor of the Year," once in 1989 by the College Football Association and again in 1992 by the N4A.

Thanks to a one million dollar donation from the Ohio Casualty Insurance Group, UK opened a new academic center for student-athletes in 1998, continuing the University's national prominence as a university that places the student-athlete at the heart of the program. In addition, UK has been selected as a regional site for the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS). Bradley serves as the Director of the new NCAS Regional Office.

As Associate Athletics Director, Bradley also supervises the career development program, develops a sports counseling program, implements life-skills programs for student-athletes and assists in departmental fundraising activities.

Bradley is a former high school English teacher, counselor and coach. He and his wife Robin have a one-year-old son, Rob.

Cropp and his wife, Mary Ann, have two grown children, Karen and David, and two grandchildren.

Alvis Johnson

Assistant Director of Athletics/Administration

Alvis Johnson became UK's Assistant Athletics Director for Administration in 1998.

Johnson's four primary duties include: planning, implementing, and monitoring student-athlete employment under the new guidelines approved by the NCAA; working with the student body to promote student attendance at all sports; assisting in supervising the use of the 40 suites that will be part of the Commonwealth Stadium expansion; and the administration of the athletics department's contract with Nike.

Johnson came to UK from Harrodsburg (Ky.) High School, where he handled multiple responsibilities as director of athletics, football head coach, track head coach, and social studies teacher from 1973-98. He had a 194-77 record as head football coach, compiling a winning percentage of 71.6 percent. His teams won several district and regional titles and were runners-up in three state championship games. Johnson's track teams won six state championships, were runners-up twice, and his individual performers won 48 state titles.

Johnson won numerous Coach of the Year honors, including state Coach of the Year in football and track. Among his many honors is the Distinguished Service Award for Amateur Football, given by the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame in 1994.

In his work as athletics director, Johnson was highly active in national and state governing bodies. Among others, his extensive administrative experiences included being president of the Kentucky High School Athletics Association Board of Control; chairman of the KHSAA executive committee; member of the National Federation of State High School Associations Board of Control; president of the National Federation of State High School Associations; and member of two NCAA/high school joint committees.

Johnson's classroom work also was recognized when he was a finalist for the National Teacher of the Year in 1996. Prior to his stint at Harrodsburg, Johnson taught and coached football, track, and wrestling for three years at Christian County (Ky.) High School. Johnson holds bachelor's and master's degrees from Western Kentucky University.

Alvis and his wife, Rosetta, have two sons - Derrick, a sophomore offensive lineman on the UK football team; and Dennis, who is a sophomore defensive end with the Wildcats.

From UK's first All-American, Clyde Johnson, to its most recent, Mike Pfeifer; from Professor A.M. Miller to Hal Mumme; from old Stoll Field to modern Commonwealth Stadium; from the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association to the Southeastern Conference; and with all the ensuing changes, Kentucky football holds a unique and storied tradition that began in 1881.

UK football holds a captivating list of firsts: UK was the first Southeastern Conference team to introduce football, which it did in 1881; UK played in the first and only Great Lakes Bowl in 1947, defeating Villanova, 24-14; Kentucky tackle Bob Gain was awarded the 1950 Outland Trophy, making him the first player from the SEC to claim the honor; the Wildcats' Nat Northington was the first African-American player to sign with a Southeastern Conference institution and the first to play in a league contest — vs. Ole Miss in 1967. And in 1989, UK became the first SEC school to win the coveted College Football Association Academic Achievement Award for highest graduation rate.

In 108 seasons, Kentucky has participated in 1037 contests and owns 511 wins, 482 losses and 44 ties. The 511 victories rank 41st among Division 1-A programs in most wins. UK's overall winning percentage is .514.

Kentucky football has won two Southeastern Conference championships and appeared in nine bowls, claiming the CFA Academic Achievement Award on May 8, 1989. The Wildcats owned a graduation rate of 90 percent after 18 of 20 of their 1983 incoming freshman signees left UK with a diploma.

UK football has had 13 National Football League first-round draft choices, one Outland Trophy winner, 19 first-team All-Americans, 10

Academic All-Americans, 54 first-team All-SEC players and 204 Academic All-SEC selections.

Kentucky football got its start on Nov. 12, 1881. Kentucky, known in those days as A&M College, Kentucky State College and/or State University of Kentucky, defeated Kentucky University by the clumsy score of 7 1/4 to 1. The game of football resembled more of a rugby form and the scoring procedure is still unclear. Though football came to Kentucky in 1881, it quickly vanished after the three-game season. UK finished 1-2 in the inaugural campaign, but the lid was shut on UK football for the next nine seasons.

Football returned to the University of Kentucky in 1891, when UK defeated Georgetown College, 8-2, on April 10, 1891. The sport would not again be interrupted until the 1943 season because of World War II.

The first known head football coach at Kentucky was Professor A.M. Miller, a Princeton graduate. Miller began the 1892 season as head coach and led UK to a 2-2-1 ledger through five games. He was replaced by John A. Thompson at the conclusion of the 1892 campaign.

Some successful years in the early 1900s dot the UK record book. Kentucky finished 7-1 in 1903 under Coach C.A. Wright; 9-1 in 1904 under Coach F.E. Schact; 9-1-1 in 1907 with Coach J. White Guyn, and 9-1 in 1909 under E.R. Sweetland.

1881...Kentucky ends first collegiate season at 1-2.

1881...Kentucky scores first victory on Nov. 12 over Kentucky University by a clumsy score of 7.2 to 1.

1892...A.M. Miller becomes first head football coach.

1896...UK is a member of Southern Inter-collegiate Athletics Association.

1905...St. Louis applies largest defeat to UK by a 82-0 count.

1908...J. White Gwyn ends longest UK coaching tenure to date (3 years) with 17-7-1 record.

1909... "Wildcats" adopted as official nickname.

The greatest UK team of that era was the 1898 squad, known simply to Kentuckians as "The Immortals." To this day, the Immortals remain the only undefeated, untied, and unscored upon team in UK football history. The Immortals were coached by W.R. Bass and ended the year a perfect 7-0-0, despite an average weight of 147 pounds per player. Victories came easy for this squad, as the Immortals raced by Kentucky University (18-0), Georgetown (28-0), Company H of the 8th Massachusetts (59-0), Louisville Athletic Club (16-0), Centre (6-0), 160th Indiana (17-0) and Newcastle Athletic Club (36-0).

Besides Bass, two of the most successful coaches in the early stages of UK football were E.R. Sweetland and Harry Gamage. Sweetland compiled a 23-5 mark in three seasons (1909-10, 12). His best year was 9-1 in '09. Gamage, on the other hand, had the longest tenure of any head coach during the first 43 years of Kentucky football. Gamage took the reigns of the UK program in 1927 and remained until following the 1933 campaign. In between, Gamage led the Wildcats to a combined 32-25-5 record. His best season was 6-1-1 in '29.

One of Gamage's brightest moments came during the 1930 season. During the 57-0 blanking of Maryville, UK running back Shipwreck Kelly rushed for a school-record 280 yards in leading the Cats.

More than a decade after Gamage had left UK, a young man by the name of Paul "Bear" Bryant arrived on the scene at Lexington in 1946. Bryant quickly grabbed the UK program by the collar and turned the Cats into a national power.

Bryant took UK to eight consecutive winning seasons (1946-53) and helped the Wildcats claim their first Southeastern Conference championship in 1950. He also sent UK squads to four bowl games which included the 1947 Great Lakes Bowl, 1950 Orange Bowl, 1951 Sugar Bowl, and the 1952 Cotton Bowl.

The biggest win in UK football history came under Bryant. After leading Kentucky to its first SEC title and a 10-1 regular-season record, UK found itself matched with national champion Oklahoma in the 1951 Sugar Bowl. The Wildcats scored early and held off the Sooners, 13-7, breaking Oklahoma's 31-game winning streak which is currently the seventh-longest in NCAA history.

Also under Bryant, tackle Bob Gain became the first UK and SEC player to win the Outland Trophy in 1950. Other standouts in the Bryant era included George Blanda, All-American Babe Parilli, and eventual UK coach Jerry Claiborne.

Bryant left Kentucky following the 1953 season. He compiled an impressive 60-23-5 record in eight years. Bryant's 60 victories are still a UK football record for head coaches.

Blanton Collier had the uneasy task of following in Bryant's footsteps. Collier took over the Kentucky football program in 1954 and promptly led the Wildcats to a 7-3 record during his initial campaign.

Collier stayed eight years at UK as well, etching a 41-36-3 record from 1954 to 1961. Kentuckians best remember Collier for his 5-2-1 record against arch-rival Tennessee. He coached All-Americans Lou Michaels (1957-58) and Howard Schnellenberger (1955) at UK. Charlie Bradshaw became the head mentor at UK in time for the 1962 season. Bradshaw, a UK graduate who lettered four years (1946-49), managed only a 25-41-4 record in seven seasons. One highlight of his coaching career featured an upset of No. 1-ranked Ole Miss early in the 1964 season. Bradshaw's Cats held off the Rebels, 27-21, in Memorial Stadium at Jackson, Miss., and ranks as one of UK's all-time biggest victories.

John Ray entered the scene in 1969 as head coach. In four years, Ray was 10-33. His biggest win came during his first year as Kentucky again victimized Ole Miss and Archie Manning. The Cats upset the Rebels, 10-9, at Lexington.

The Fran Curci era began in 1973, the same year Kentucky moved from ancient Stoll Field/McLean Stadium to spacious Commonwealth Stadium. Though Curci had only one winning campaign during his first three years, things got interesting beginning with the 1976 season. UK ended the '76 year with an 8-3 record and its second SEC championship.

Kentucky helped secure its second league title on the strength of a 62-yard touchdown pass from Derrick Ramsey to Greg Woods to beat Tennessee, 7-0, at Knoxville, Tenn. The victory clinched a berth in the Peach Bowl against North Carolina, UK's first postseason appearance in 25 years. Before a UK contingent estimated at 25,000, the Cats blanked the Tar Heels, 21-0.

The following year, Kentucky went on NCAA probation. Despite an early season loss at Baylor, the Wildcats rolled to an impressive 10-1 record doing it the hard way. Kentucky defeated Penn State (24-20) at University Park, Pa., defeated LSU (33-13) at Baton Rouge, La., blanked Georgia (33-0) at Athens, Ga., beat Florida (14-7) at Gainesville, Fla., and defeated Tennessee (21-17) at Lexington.

In the Curci era, players like Sonny Collins (UK career leader with 3,835 yards rushing), All-Americans Warren Bryant and Art Still and multi-talented Derrick Ramsey, wore the blue and white.

Curci stepped down following the 1981 season. In all, Curci worked nine years as UK head coach (longest of any UK football coach) and was 47-51-2 overall.

Jerry Claiborne answered the call of his alma mater in December of 1981 and was named the school's 31st head football coach. Claiborne had Coach Bryant led UK to eight consecutive winning seasons and four bowl games.

1914...Jim Park scores 5 TDs and throws for 5 TDs in 81-3 victory over Earlham.

1921...UK becomes member of Southern Conference.

1924...Charles Hughes returns interception 100 yards vs. Alabama.

1930...Shipwreck Kelly rushes for UK-record 280 yards against Maryville.

1933...Ralph Kercheval launches 78-yard punt vs. Georgia Tech.

U N I V E R S I T Y O F K E N T U C K Y

played at UK from 1946-49 and was an assistant coach under Bryant at UK in 1952-53.

His first campaign, 1982, was murderous from a schedule standpoint. The '82 UK schedule was rated as the nation's second-toughest and featured the likes of Oklahoma, Clemson, Auburn, LSU, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, Kansas and Kansas State. The Cats were caught in the process of rebuilding and stumbled to an 0-10-1 record.

The winless mark would not deter Claiborne, however. In fact, his 1983 squad tied for the nation's most improved program with a regular-season record of 6-4-1. As a reward, the Hall of Fame Bowl offered an invitation and UK accepted to give the Cats their sixth bowl appearance.

Kentucky improved in 1984, finishing with a 9-3 record which included a thrilling 20-19 victory over Wisconsin in the '84 Hall of Fame Bowl. The nine victories were the most by a UK squad since the 1977 season.

After the '84 campaign, Kentucky strung together 5-6, 5-5-1, 5-6, 5-6, and 6-5 records to close out Claiborne's career. He stepped down with a 41-46-3 record in eight seasons at UK. Claiborne and Bryant, to this date, ended their careers as the only two coaches to win at least five games in seven consecutive seasons.

During Claiborne's tenure, Kentucky captured its first national title by winning the 1989 CFA Academic Achievement Award. UK led the SEC in Academic All-SEC Honor Roll selections (68) during the Claiborne era, including a league record of 17 players named to the 1989 Academic All-SEC Honor Roll.

Individually, quarterback Bill Ransdell played under Claiborne and left as UK's all-time leader in passing and total offense. Mark Higgs departed as the school's second-leading rusher and tackle Oliver Barnett set a UK record with 26 quarterback sacks.

On Jan. 8, 1990, Kentucky began a new era by hiring its 32nd head football coach in Bill Curry.

Curry led Kentucky back to post-season play for the first time in nine years as the 1993 Wildcats finished third in the SEC Eastern Division (fourth overall) and qualified for the Peach Bowl in Atlanta, Ga., when the Wildcats lost to Clemson, 14-13, to finish 6-6 on the season.

In 1994, the Wildcats faced intrastate rival Louisville for the first time in 70 years and defeated the Cardinals 20-14 in front of a record 59,162 fans in Commonwealth Stadium.

The 1995 season was highlighted by tailback Moe Williams, who rushed for 1,600 yards, broke three SEC records, and broke or tied 15 school records. Williams had 429 all-purpose yards in a win at South Carolina, the second-highest single-game total in NCAA history.

Kentucky has maintained the high level of achievement in the classroom which was started by Jerry Claiborne. In 1996, UK led the league with 20 players on the SEC Academic Honor Roll, the 10th time in the past 15 years that UK led or tied for the league lead in most players honored.

Fans responded with great enthusiasm following the hiring of Coach Hal Mumme. UK set an attendance record in 1997 by averaging 59,110 fans per home game. The new "Air Raid" offense helped break or tie 51 school records and 15 Southeastern Conference records.

Mumme returned Kentucky to the bowl scene in 1998 when the Wildcats won seven games, including a win at LSU that marked the team's first road win over a ranked opponent in 21 years. Quarterback Tim Couch was a first-team All-American, SEC Player of the Year, and a finalist for the Heisman Trophy while rewriting the SEC and UK record books. Wide receiver Craig Yeast became the leading pass receiver in SEC history. Kentucky capped its season by playing Penn State in the Outback Bowl on Jan. 1, 1999, the school's first New Year's Day bowl game in 47 years.

Former Wildcats quarterback Derrick Ramsey completed 8-of-10 passes during the alumni portion of the 1998 Blue/White Spring Game. Ramsey led the 1976 Wildcats to the SEC championship.

1914...Largest UK victory, 87-0, over Wilmington.

1915...UK beats Tennessee 6-0 in Wildcats first Homecoming game.

1916...UK's football playing field dedicated as Stoll Field.

1924...Concrete grandstands at Stoll Field dedicated as McLean Stadium.

1927...Harry Gamage takes over as head coach and remains for 7 seasons, longest tenure of any UK coach until Paul Bryant.

1936...Bob Davis rushes for 246 yards and scores 30 points in win over Maryville.

1936...Bert Johnson hits Bob Davis on 84-yard TD pass vs. Xavier, longest in UK early era.

1937...Bob Davis rushes for 267 yards and scores 30 points in win over Washington & Lee.

C H R O N O L O G Y • 1 8 8 0 - 1 9 9 8

Below is a closer look at some of the traditions and history which has molded the past 108 seasons of Kentucky football. Some of the anecdotes were derived from the book, "The Wildcats," which was written by former UK Sports Information Director Russell Rice.

1A AND 1B

During the course of his legendary career, Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant was known as an innovator of introducing changes in the game of football. One change Bryant introduced during his tenure at Kentucky was the use of a unique number system to identify twins Harry and Larry Jones, who both lettered three years (1950-52) with the Wildcats. Harry wore 1A and Larry wore 1B. Harry led the Wildcats in all-purpose yardage in 1951 with 964 while Larry led UK in kickoff returns (21.1 avg) in 1952.

ALUMNI GAME

Wildcats Coach Hal Mumme started a new tradition in 1997 by instituting an alumni game as part of the Blue-White Spring Football Game festivities. The alumni open the spring game by playing one quarter of touch football. A unique twist is that the score counts as part of the varsity game.

BLUE AND WHITE

The University of Kentucky adopted blue and white as its official colors in 1892. Originally, UK students had decided on blue and yellow prior to the Kentucky-Centre football game on Dec. 19, 1891. The shade of blue came about when a student asked the question, "What color blue?" Richard C. Stoll, who lettered on the 1893-94 football teams, pulled off his necktie and held it up. The students adopted that particular shade of blue in Stoll's necktie. A year later, UK students dropped yellow for white.

PAUL "BEAR" BRYANT

Paul Bryant is still the most successful coach in UK football history. Bryant spent eight years at UK (1946-53) and produced a 60-23-5 (.710 pct.) record. The 60 victories are the most by any UK football coach. He led the Wildcats to four bowl games and their first South-eastern Conference title in 1950. He coached such UK stars as George Blanda, Jerry Claiborne, Bob Gain, Babe Parilli, Doug Moseley, Wilbur Jamerson, and Steve Meilinger.

CHEERLEADERS

by the Universal Cheerleaders Association. The cheerleaders have won the UCA national title in 1985, 1987, 1988, 1992, 1995, 1996, 1997, 1998 and 1999, and have been the runners-up on four occasions. Saleem Habash is coach of the cheerleaders and T. Lynn Williamson is the cheerleader advisor. A total of 40 students comprise the squad, 16 of whom represent the school at the championship. In addition, the Wildcat mascot, portrayed by Gavin Duerson, finished third nationally in the mascot division of the competition.

JERRY CLAIBORNE

After lettering three years (1946-49) as a player and serving two seasons (1952-53) as an assistant coach at Kentucky, Jerry Claiborne returned to his alma mater in 1982 as UK's 31st head football coach. Claiborne stepped down after 28 years as a collegiate head coach in 1989. He led the Wildcats to two bowls and four non-losing seasons. During his era, Kentucky placed more players (68) on the Academic All-SEC Honor Roll than any league school, including a record 17 in 1989. Claiborne also led UK to a national academic title by capturing the 1989 CFA Academic Achievement Award. His eight-year UK record was 41-46-3. Overall, Claiborne finished 21st among Division I coaches with 179 career victories and 179-122-8 in all games. He will be inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in Dec. 1999.

CFA ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

The University of Kentucky became the first Southeastern Conference institution to win the College Football Association Academic Achievement Award after claiming the prestigious honor in 1989. The Academic Achievement Award is given to the CFA institution with the highest graduation rate of its football program based on a five-year period. UK had graduated 90 percent (18 of 20) of its incoming freshman signee class of 1983, thus earning the honor in May, 1989. A year earlier (1988), UK finished second with a graduation rate of 90.5 percent. Kentucky earned honorable mention honors in 1988, '91, '93 and '94, for having graduated better than 70 percent of its players.

BLANTON COLLIER AND THE STAFF

Blanton Collier had the challenge of following Paul Bryant as head football coach at the University of Kentucky. But, Collier posted a fine 41-36-3 record in eight seasons at UK. Kentuckians best remember Collier for his record against arch-rival Tennessee which stood at 5 wins, 2 losses, and 1 tie. Standouts such as Howard Schnellenberger, Lou Michaels, Tom Hutchinson, Bobby Cravens, Calvin Bird and Irv Goode played under Collier. One fascinating item in Collier's tenure was the football coaching staff he assembled in 1959. The 1959 UK coaching staff included Collier, Ed Rutledge, Howard Schnellenberger, Eral Allen, Don Shula, John North, Bob Cummings, and Bill Arnsparger.

FRAN CURCI

The Fran Curci era (1973-81) was one of ups and down at the University of Kentucky. Curci remained at UK for nine seasons, the longest tenure of any UK football coach, and posted a 47-51-2 record. The ups consisted of sharing the 1976 Southeastern Conference title with Georgia, a 21-0 blanking of North Carolina in the '76 Peach Bowl, and a 1977 squad which boasted a 10-1 record and No. 5 national ranking. The down was probation which forced the '77 squad to miss a certain bowl invitation.

DIGIURIO SCHOLARSHIP

The Trent DiGiuro Memorial Scholarship was established in the autumn of 1994 in honor of the Wildcat offensive guard who died in July of that year. The scholarship is awarded each year to a walk-on football player who has completed his eligibility, maintained a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.5, and has exemplified the dedication, determination, hard work, and leadership typified by Trent DiGiuro. If there is no suitable walk-on candidate that year, the scholarship will go to a team manager or trainer who meets the above criteria. The scholarship was established by DiGiuro's family and friends. The 1999 winner of the scholarship is tight end Cheddi Acham.

FORWARD PASS

The first forward pass attempted by a University of Kentucky football player was thrown on Oct. 13, 1906, by quarterback Earl Stone as the Wildcats faced Eminence Athletic Club. This was the first year the forward pass was legalized by national rules. Accounts from this early contest do not indicate if the first forward UK pass was completed.

GOVERNOR'S CUP

The Governor's Cup was created in 1994 as the trophy for the winner of the Kentucky-Louisville game. Donated by Kroger at a cost of $23,000, the Governor's Cup stands 33 inches tall and weighs 110 pounds. The trophy's base and upright columns are hand-milled black marble. The glass components are comprised of Optic grade crystal. All metal parts are 23-karat, gold-plated brass. The cup itself is solid pewter with a 23-karat gold-plated finish. The Governor's Cup was designed by Kendall Costner and sculpted by James Corcoran of Bruce Fox, Inc. The UK-U of L series was renewed in 1994 with the Wildcats winning the game, 20-14.

HOMECOMING GAMES

As in the case of most institutions, Homecoming football games are special. Kentucky is no exception. Alumni and old friends converge on the UK campus each fall for Homecoming Day, highlighted by a Kentucky football game. The Homecoming Queen and her court are presented in horse-drawn carriages which gives the event a distinct, Kentucky flavor. The first Homecoming Day occurred on Nov. 25, 1915, as Kentucky defeated Tennessee, 6-0. Though records are sketchy, Kentucky has hosted a Homecoming game every year since 1946 and owns a 41-12-0 record in those 53 contests.

THE IMMORTALS

Simply known as "The Immortals," the 1898 University of Kentucky football squad still remains as the only undefeated, untied, and unscored on Wildcats club in school history. The Immortals outscored opponents 180-0 while posting a perfect 7-0-0 record. Roscoe Severs served as team captain under coach W.R. Bass. The closest of all seven games was a 6-0 victory over Centre College.

CAWOOD LEDFORD

The legendary "Voice of the Wildcats" was none other than Cawood Ledford. For 39 years, Cawood called Wildcats football and basketball. His voice alone symbolized UK Athletics. Cawood called his last UK football game vs. Tennessee on Nov. 23, 1991, and retired from the microphone following the 1991-92 basketball season.

MINUS NINETY-THREE

The University of Kentucky holds the Southeastern Conference record for fewest yards allowed rushing in a single game. Kentucky limited Kansas State to a minus-93 yards on the ground as UK defeated Kansas State, 16-3, on Sept. 19, 1970, at Lexington. Kentucky defenders sacked KSU quarterbacks Lynn Dickey (2) and Max Arreguin (5) a total of seven times while intercepting three of their passes. Ironically, KSU outgained UK in total offense 214-107 as Dickey and Arreguin combined for 307 yards in the air.

1948...Clayton Webb intercepts 3 passes in win over Xavier.

1949...Santa Clara turns back UK in Orange Bowl.

1949...Kentucky blanks Georgia 25-0 on Oct. 8 in the Cats 500th game.

1949...UK intercepts 6 passes for NCAA-record 240 yards vs. Ole Miss.

1951...UK caps 8-4 year with Cotton Bowl win over TCU.

1956...UK appears on network (NBC) television for first time.

1951...Babe Parilli finishes third in Heisman Trophy race.

1954...Blanton Collier replaces Paul Bryant as head coach.

1957...Lou Michaels is fourth in Heisman Trophy voting.

1967...Northington is first black player to play in SEC vs. SEC game.

THE FIRST NIGHT GAME

The University of Kentucky was one of the first institutions to play intercollegiate football at night. The first UK home night game was played on Oct. 5, 1929, at Stoll Field as Kentucky defeated Maryville, 40-0. Kentucky did not play more than one home night game per season until 1946.

NIGHT GAMES

The University of Kentucky began holding its October home football games during the evening hours in 1949. UK and Keeneland Race Course, located in Lexington, have enjoyed a close relationship through the years and assist in giving UK faithful an opportunity to enjoy two of the Commonwealth's best-loved events in October — football and horse racing. With the traditional post time at Keeneland for the thoroughbred races at 1 p.m., UK began moving its October home games to night during the 1949 season. The only occasion UK has not conducted its October home games in the evening is to accommodate television. Kentucky's all-time record in night games is 97-95-4.

NAT NORTHINGTON

Nat Northington of Louisville became the first black player to sign with the University of Kentucky and a Southeastern Conference institution. Northington signed a national letter-of-intent with UK in December of 1965. He later became the first African-American football player to play in an SEC vs. SEC game, appearing in the UK-Ole Miss game at Lexington on Sept. 30, 1967.

OUTLAND TROPHY

Two-time All-American Bob Gain is the only player in University of Kentucky football history to be awarded the Outland Trophy, signifying the best interior lineman in collegiate football. Gain was awarded the 1950 Outland Trophy after helping lead UK to its first Southeastern Conference title and a 10-1 regular-season record. Besides being the first UK player to claim the award, Gain was also the first SEC player to be given the award.

PRINCE CHARLES OF WALES

The Kentucky Wildcats gave Prince Charles of Wales his first taste of American football on Oct. 22, 1977. That's right, Prince Charles' first football game was the UK-Georgia matchup at Athens. Prince Charles was introduced to UK Coach Fran Curci and All-American Art Still at halftime. After looking at the 6-6 Still, Charles said, "You're a tall one aren't you?" Still and Co. blanked the Bulldogs on this day, 33-0, on their way to a 10-1 record.

RED DOC, BLACK DOC

A pair of cousins named William Rodes played football for the University of Kentucky during the early 1900s. To distinguish one from the other, one was nicknamed "Red Doc" and the other "Black Doc." William "Red Doc" Rodes lettered three years (1909, 11-12) as a 140-pound halfback and defensive end. William "Black Doc" Rodes lettered two years (1915-16) as quarterback. Black Doc was considered by many to be one of the best open-field runners in that era. He also placekicked and personally delivered UK's 6-0 victory over Tennessee in 1915 with field goals of 45 and 43 yards.

RUSSELL RICE

Longtime UK sports information director Russell Rice is the walking, talking historian when it comes to Wildcats Football. Rice retired from the UK Athletics Department in 1989 after serving 18 years as sports information director. He came to UK in 1967 as assistant SID under Ken Kuhn, then was named sports information director in 1969. Rice authored the book, "The Wildcats, Kentucky Football," which details Kentucky football and its history. At his retirement party, Rice was given a lifetime "Press Pass" to the Commonwealth Stadium press box.

STOLL FIELD/MCLEAN STADIUM

Stoll Field/McLean Stadium was the first home for Kentucky football. The stadium was located adjacent to Memorial Coliseum and served as UK's football home since 1916. The University Board of Trustees voted to name the playing field "Stoll Field" and the actual grandstand structures as "McLean Stadium," thus the often confusing double names. Stoll Field was named in honor of the late Judge Richard C. Stoll, a prominent alumnus, trustee and benefactor of UK. Stoll Field was dedicated on Oct. 14, 1916. McLean Stadium was dedicated on Nov. 1, 1924, in memory of Price Innes McLean, a regular center on the 1923 UK squad who died as a result of injuries sustained in the Kentucky-Cincinnati game on Nov. 6, 1923. The final seating capacity of Stoll Field/McLean Stadium was 37,000 during its last year of use, 1972.

Stoll Field/McLean Stadium was home to Kentucky football for 56 years (1916-1972). The seating capacity was 37,000 when the Wildcats played their final game inside the stadium in 1972, defeating Vanderbilt 14-13 on November 11.

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY CHRONOLOGY • 1880-1998

THE THIN THIRTY

When Blanton Collier stepped down as head football coach at Kentucky following the 1961 season, UK promptly named former Wildcats player Charlie Bradshaw as its 28th coach. Bradshaw inherited a squad of 88 players left from Collier's 5-5-0 team in '61. Bradshaw promised his new UK squad hard work and talked of training to an absolute peak of condition. His conditioning tactics took their toll as more than 50 players left the squad, leaving 30 to open the season against Florida State and prompting the name "Thin Thirty." The Thin Thirty finished 3-5-2 on the season with victories over Detroit (27-8), Vanderbilt (7-0) and arch-rival Tennessee (12-10). The ties were against Florida State (0-0) and Georgia (7-7).

TURNAROUNDS

One of the biggest turnarounds in collegiate football happened at the University of Kentucky during the 1982 and 1983 seasons. Jerry Claiborne had replaced Fran Curci as head coach prior to the '82 campaign. Claiborne inherited a program in shambles and faced the nation's second-toughest schedule which featured Oklahoma, Clemson, Auburn, LSU, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, Kansas and Kansas State. Not surprisingly, Kentucky finished 0-10-1 in 1982 with only a 13-13 tie with Kansas keeping the Wildcats from an 0-11 slate. However, Claiborne turned the heat up in 1983 and went to work. UK reeled off consecutive wins against Central Michigan (31-14), Kansas State (31-12), Indiana (24-13), and Tulane (26-14) to start the season. The Cats also defeated LSU (21-13) and Vanderbilt (17-8) to finish the campaign with a 6-4-1 record. The turnaround, which tied Memphis State for the biggest turnaround in 1983, earned Kentucky a berth in the 1983 Hall of Fame Bowl.

VICTORY KICKS

The University of Kentucky defeated the Louisville YMCA, 12-6, in 1900. What is so unique about this contest is Kentucky did not run a single offensive play. Instead, Kentucky punted on first down each time it had the football and eventually scored on a pair of fumbles by the Louisville YMCA club which had occurred in their own end zone.

WILDCATS NICKNAME

The nickname "Wildcats" became synonymous with UK shortly after a 6-2 football victory at Illinois on Oct. 9, 1909. Commandant Carbusier, then head of the military department, told a group of students in a chapel service following the game that the Kentucky football team had "fought like wildcats." The nickname grew in popularity and was adopted by the university.

WINNING STREAK

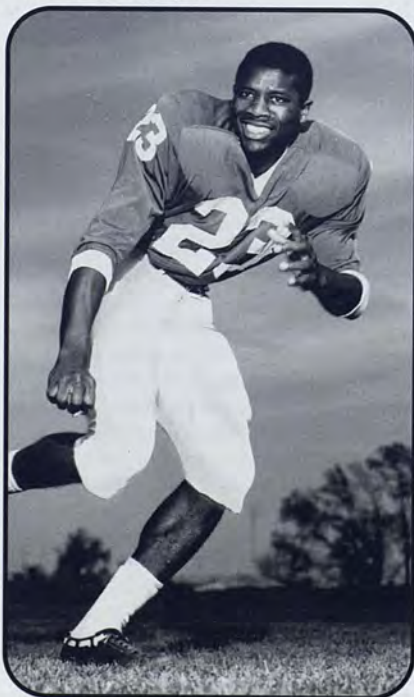

For the most part, the most famous winning streak in Kentucky football history is the one the Wildcats ended. The stage was set as UK faced Oklahoma in the 1951 Sugar Bowl. Kentucky was coming off its first Southeastern Conference title and brought in a 10-1 record. Oklahoma entered as national champions and riding a 31-game winning streak. A pair of Wilbur Jamerson scores - a 22-yard pass from Babe Parilli and a one-yard run - was all UK needed in picking up a 13-7 upset of the Sooners and thus ending the 31-game streak. Today, the 31-game winning streak by Oklahoma ranks as the seventh-longest in NCAA history.

THE YEAR (1977-78)

Perhaps the most successful year in UK Athletics occurred during the 1977-78 academic year at the University of Kentucky. The 1977 Wildcats football squad, under Fran Curci, raced to a 10-1 record and ended the year ranked No. 5 by The Sporting News. Highlights were victories over North Carolina (10-7), West Virginia (28-13), Penn State (24-20), LSU (33-13), Georgia (33-0), Florida (14-7) and Tennessee (21-17). On the basketball side, UK wrapped up its fifth NCAA title by defeating Duke, 94-88, at St. Louis. The UK basketballers ended the campaign with a 30-2 record under Joe B. Hall.

THE YEAR (1950-51)

An argument to the most successful year in UK Athletics is the 1950-51 academic year. UK football, under Paul Bryant, ended the 1950 regular season with a 10-1 record and ranked No. 7 nationally by both A.P. and U.P.I. The Wildcats then proceeded to snap national champion Oklahoma's 31-game winning streak with a 13-7 victory in the Sugar Bowl. On the basketball front, Adolph Rupp gave UK its third national title by defeating Kansas State, 68-58, at Minneapolis, Minn. The Wildcats ended the year 32-2. Current UK Athletics Director C.M. Newton was a letterman on that squad.

Nat Northington was the first African-American football player to sign with a Southeastern Conference school and in 1967 was the first to play in an SEC vs. SEC game.

1947 The Kentucky Wildcats made their first appearance on the bowl scene in the 1947 Great Lakes Bowl and came away with a 24-14 victory over Villanova before a crowd of 14,908 at Cleveland Municipal Stadium.

Kentucky, in its second year under head coach Paul "Bear" Bryant, finished at 8-3 on the season with the victory.

Quarterback-placekicker George Blanda gave Kentucky an early 3-0 lead in the first quarter. Blanda connected on a 27-yard field goal to put the Cats up and it remained that way until halftime.

In the third quarter, UK's Jim Howe scampered 29 yards for a score. Blanda added the PAT and Kentucky led 10-0 after three periods.

Bill Boller scored both Kentucky touchdowns in the fourth period, romping 15 yards on a handoff from Blanda and racing 49 yards to paydirt with an interception. Blanda added both PATs to round out the Kentucky scoring.

Villanova also added a pair of fourth-quarter touchdowns, but it was not enough as Kentucky captured its first bowl victory in school history.

Orange Bowl

Santa Clara 21, Kentucky 13

1950 Kentucky committed three turnovers and let a seven-point halftime lead slip away in dropping its first major bowl game, 21-13, to Santa Clara in the 1950 Orange Bowl before a crowd of 64,816.

The Wildcats, 9-3, scored their first touchdown early in the second quarter as a result of a Santa Clara turnover. UK's John Netoskie recovered at fumble at the Wildcat 49 to set up Kentucky's first score. The Wildcats drove 51 yards in 14 plays as Wilbur Jamerson hammered over from two yards. Bobby Brooks added the PAT to make it 7-0.

Kentucky wasted a golden scoring opportunity late in the second quarter when Babe Parilli found Bill Leskovar for a 45-yard completion to the SC 3 with time running out. Leskovar and runningmate Don Phelps each were stopped short on their respective rush attempts and the clock ran out before UK could score. The Wildcats led 7-0 at halftime.

UK coach Paul "Bear" Bryant said afterward he should have sent in a pass play just before the half. "If it failed," he said, "the clock was killed then we could have tried a field goal."

A short, 9-yard punt by Phelps set up Santa Clara's first score in the third quarter. After taking over on the SC 46, Bronco quarterback John Pasco hit Larry Williams on a 25-yard pass. Santa Clara eventually scored on a one-yard sneak by Pasco to tie the game, 7-7.

Santa Clara scored again later in the third period, thanks in part to a pass interference call against Kentucky. Hall Haynes went over from 4 yards to make it 14-7 after three quarters.

Parilli led Kentucky right back, hitting Emery Clark on a 52-yard touchdown strike. Brooks, however, missed the tying PAT, breaking a personal streak of 18 straight, as Santa Clara led 14-13 with 12 minutes left in the contest.

Santa Clara managed to hold off the Cats and added an insurance score with less than a minute left, a 16-yard TD run by Buster Wraith.

Sugar Bowl

Kentucky 13, Oklahoma 7

1951 Kentucky arrived on the national football scene and stunned national champion Oklahoma, 13-7, to capture the 1951 Sugar Bowl before 82,000 at New Orleans.

The Wildcats, 11-1, displayed a tough defense and opportunistic offense in snapping Oklahoma's 31-game winning streak, the longest in the nation at that time. More than 13,000 Kentucky fans made the long trip to New Orleans to watch the Southeastern Conference champions pick up their school record 11th win.

Under the direction of coach Paul "Bear" Bryant, Kentucky continually confused the favored Sooners with different defensive looks. The Wildcats used three tackles much of the time, causing OU quarterback Claude Arnold to hasten his playmaking.

Inflicting the most damage on the Sooners was Walt Yowarsky, a tackle who had played less than five minutes on the defensive side of the football in 1950. Yowarsky operated at left end, next to Outland Trophy winner Bob Gain, and repeatedly sliced into the Sooner backfield to break up passes and to make Arnold hurry his hand-offs and laterals.

Yowarsky recovered a fumble on the OU 22 that set up UK's first touchdown. On the very next play, Babe Parilli hit Wilbur Jamerson in the right corner of the end zone for the touchdown. Gain added the PAT to make it 7-0 in the first quarter.

Kentucky marched 81 yards in the second quarter to go up 13-0. Jamerson dove over from the one to cap the drive, but Gain missed wide on the PAT.

The Wildcat defense, ranked number two in the nation, showed Oklahoma why late in the third quarter. The Sooners drove 67 yards with the second-half kickoff, sitting at the UK 3 with a first-and-goal. Yowarsky helped UK turn back the Sooners, throwing an OU runner for a five-yard loss on third down and Oklahoma eventually turned the ball over on downs.

Yowarsky, voted the game's MVP, thwarted another OU threat in the fourth quarter as he recovered a fumbled punt.

Oklahoma did score with seven minutes to play as Billy Vessels hit Merrill Green on a 17-yard pass for the touchdown. Jim Weatherall added the PAT.

The Wildcats managed to hold on to the football for all but one play the rest of the way to claim a stirring 13-7 win.

Cotton Bowl

Kentucky 20, TCU 7

1952 Quarterback Babe Parilli threw for two touchdowns to lead the Kentucky Wildcats to a 20-7 victory over the TCU Horned Frogs in the 1952 Cotton Bowl before a crowd of 75,349 at Dallas, Texas.

Parilli, who completed 8 of 20 passes for 85 yards, tossed both touchdown strikes to Emery Clark. With the victory, the Wildcats ended the season at 8-4.

Kentucky got on the scoreboard first, as Parilli found Clark for the first of two TDs. Parilli hit Clark with a five-yard toss to culminate a 53-yard scoring march. Harry Jones added the PAT and Kentucky led 7-0 after one quarter.

In the second period, UK got its second touchdown when Parilli and Clark hooked up again. This time, Parilli found Clark on a 13-yard TD strike to cap a 57-yard drive. Jones missed on the PAT attempt and UK settled for a 13-0 lead in the second period with a little over 10 minutes left.

The Wildcat defense made that 13-point lead stand up until halftime as the Horned Frogs drove four times deep into UK territory. Led by All-American guard Ray Correll, the Wildcats turned TCU away on drives to the UK 4, 24, 5 and 2-yard lines to take a 13-0 lead at intermission.

TCU's Bobby Jack Floyd sliced the UK lead to 13-7 when he galloped 43 yards on a sweep. Floyd's run capped an 80-yard scoring drive which took only four plays. Keith Flowers added the PAT with 1:12 left in the third period.

Kentucky ended any thoughts of a TCU comeback, thwarting the only two Horned Frog offensive drives in the fourth period and scoring an insurance touchdown as well. Ed Hamilton sealed the UK victory with a three-yard score off left tackle with 3:33 left. Jones added the PAT for the final 20-7 score.

Peach Bowl

Kentucky 21, North Carolina 0

1976 Kentucky tailback Rod Stewart scored three touchdowns to lead the Wildcats to a 21-0 blanking of North Carolina before a sellout crowd of 54,132 in the 1976 Peach Bowl at Atlanta, Ga.

The Wildcats, after a 25-year absence from the post-season bowl scene, returned in fine fashion as Kentucky completely smothered the Tar Heels. Kentucky outgained North Carolina 334-108 in total yards, limiting the Tar Heels to just five first downs and forcing five UNC turnovers.

After a scoreless first half, Kentucky went to work in the third period after UNC quarterback Matt Kupec fumbled at the Tar Heel 21. UK's James Ramey recovered and the Wildcats were in business.

Seven plays later, Stewart busted over from the one for the touchdown. John Pierce added the PAT and Kentucky led 7-0 after three quarters.

Stewart sent the 37,000-plus Kentuckians, who had followed UK to the Peach Bowl, into a frenzy with his second touchdown early in the fourth quarter. The Wildcats marched 57 yards in 9 plays as Stewart capped the drive with a 13-yard gallop behind All-American tackle Warren Bryant. Pierce was good on the PAT and Kentucky led 14-0 with 13:01 left to play.

The Big Blue had to go only 47 yards for their final score. Kentucky faced a fourth-and-one from the UNC 3 with a little over three minutes remaining. Once again, Stewart (104 yards on 19 carries) got the call and he picked up both - the first down and the touchdown. Pierce was true on the PAT and UK had put the game away.

Stewart tied the Peach Bowl record for most touchdowns and scoring with the 3 TDs and 18 points. He was named the game's MVP. The Most Valuable Defensive Player of the game was UK linebacker Mike Martin, who helped hold the Tarheels to just over 100 yards.

Hall of Fame Bowl

West Virginia 20, Kentucky 16

1983 Kentucky won much of the statistical battle but lost the war in dropping a tough 20-16 decision to the West Virginia Mountaineers in the 1983 Hall of Fame Bowl in Birmingham.

The Wildcats, in a bowl for the first time since 1976, out-gained West Virginia 306-288 in total offense and held the edge in first downs 19-18 and passing yards 216-88. But 17 second-half points by West Virginia were too much for the Wildcats to overcome.

West Virginia scratched first as placekicker Paul Woodside connected on a 39-yard field goal late in the first quarter.

Kentucky countered with 10 points in the second stanza to take a 10-3 lead at halftime.

The Wildcats marched 54 yards in eight plays for their first score. Facing a third-and-three from the WV 26, Kentucky used some razzle-dazzle as Tony Mayes swept right, then threw-back to quarterback Randy Jenkins in the left corner of the endzone for the TD. John Hutcherson added the PAT and UK led 7-3 with 10:59 left in the second period.

Jenkins hit two big passes late in the second quarter to help set up a 32-yard field goal by Hutcherson. Jenkins connected with Joe Phillips for a 19-yard pass play and then hit George Adams for a 14-yarder as Hutcherson connected with 38 seconds left in the half.

WVU kicker Paul Woodside fooled everyone to begin the second half. Woodside tried an on-side kick to start the half and then recovered it to give the Mountaineers the football at the UK 48. Eight plays later, QB Jeff Hostetler found Rich Hollins for a 16-yard TD strike. Woodside added the PAT and it was 10-10 with 11:10 left in the third quarter. West Virginia scored twice in a span of two minutes early in the fourth quarter to take a commanding 20-10 lead. Hostetler capped off a 10-play, 81-yard drive with a 2-yard scoring toss to Rob Bennett to make it 17-10 with 11:15 left to play.

Two plays later, West Virginia took over after an interception of a Jenkins pass at the UK 16. The interception set up a 23-yard field goal by Woodside as the Mountaineers went up 20-10 with 9:18 remaining.

Kentucky freshman quarterback Bill Ransdell led the Wildcats back, marching UK 92 yards in 11 plays following the kickoff. Ransdell hit Phillips for a 13-yard scoring toss to make it 20-16 with 5:50 left. Hutcherson missed the PAT.

The Wildcats got one more shot, but could get no further than the UK 37.

Hall of Fame Bowl

Kentucky 20, Wisconsin 19

1984 Kentucky's Joey Worley booted a career-long 52-yard field goal with just under nine minutes remaining to give the Wildcats a thrilling 20-19 victory over the Wisconsin Badgers in the 1984 Hall of Fame Bowl in Birmingham.

Worley, a freshman, helped Kentucky overcome a nine-point deficit in the second half with his school and bowl record field goal.

Wisconsin jumped on top early, scoring twice in the first quarter. Todd Gregoire nailed a 40-yard field goal just under four minutes into the game and Michael Howard hit Thad McFadden with a 3-yard TD pass. Gregoire added the PAT and the Badgers led 10-0 with 5:34 left in the opening period.

Gregoire added another field goal, this one from 27 yards, to make it 13-0 with 7:05 left in the second period.

Kentucky got on the board after safety Paul Calhoun intercepted a Howard pass to give UK possession at the Badger 42. It took Kentucky just five plays to score as Marc Logan went over from nine yards. Worley added the PAT to cut the deficit to 13-7 with 1:29 left in the half.

Wisconsin was not through. The Badgers used four running plays, two passes and a costly 15-yard penalty to move the football to the UK 3 with two seconds left in the half. From there, Wisconsin decided on a Gregoire field goal (20-yarder) to take a 16-7 edge at halftime.

Kentucky narrowed the gap to 16-10 on a 22-yard field goal by Worley with 11:28 left in the third quarter. But Gregoire responded with a 40-yarder two minutes later to move the count back to nine, 19-10.

Behind UK quarterback Bill Ransdell, the Wildcats marched 82 yards in 11 plays later in the quarter to get within two, 19-17. Ransdell hit Logan on a screen pass to cover the final 27 yards and with the Worley PAT, UK was back in it with 26 seconds left in the third quarter.

The next time Kentucky got the ball, Ransdell moved the Cats into position for Worley's 52-yarder. Starting from the UK 22, tailback Mark Higgs got the call four consecutive times, then it was Adams' turn the next four plays. Facing a fourth-and-two at the UW 34, Worley nailed the game-winner with 8:55 left.

Wisconsin came back and marched to the UK 8 with less than two minutes left. With the Badgers facing a fourth-and-six, Gregoire was called on for his fifth field goal attempt. This time, the snap from center was bobbled and UK had sealed the victory.

Peach Bowl

Clemson 14, Kentucky 13

1993 The Wildcats met the 24th-ranked Clemson Tigers in the 26th annual Peach Bowl and came within one minute of winning their sixth bowl in eight tries. But a Clemson TD in the closing seconds sent UK home with a 14-13 loss.

Kentucky took the opening kickoff and marched down the field to the Clemson two-yard line, where what appeared to be a QB Pookie Jones-to-WB Alfonso Browning TD was instead a turnover when Browning fumbled the ball while attempting to extend it over the goal line.

Clemson took over on its own one and proceeded to march 99 yards for the game's first score, a two-yard TD plunge by TB Emory Smith. The PAT gave the Tigers a 7-0 lead. Clemson ran the ball 15 times and attempted only three passes in the drive.

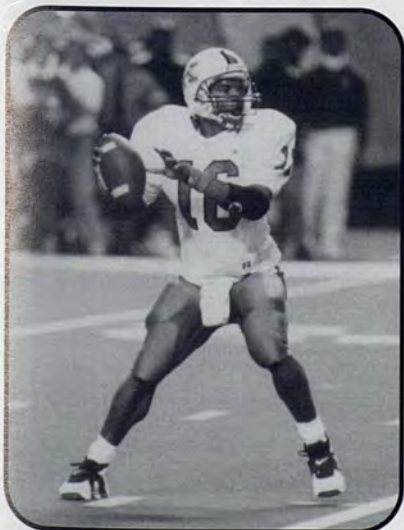

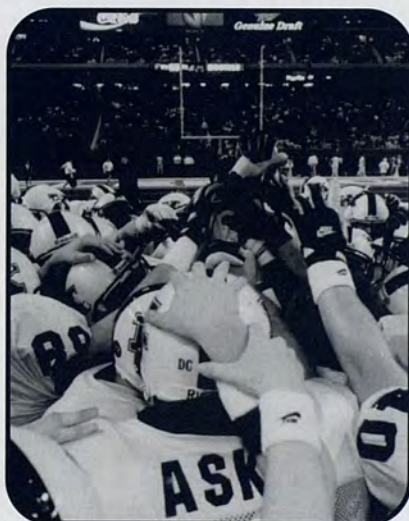

Kentucky was stopped again at the one-yard

UK captured the lead early in the fourth quarter when Jones hit WR Mark Chatmon with a five-yard TD pass, making it UK 10, Clemson 7. Nickels added another FG, this one from 26 yards, to extend UK's lead to 13-7. But after Dan Ariza's 55-yard punt pinned the Tigers inside their own 18-yard line, QB Patrick Sapp hit Smith with a 57-yard screen pass to move Clemson into scoring position. With less than a minute remaining, LB Marty Moore intercepted a Sapp pass, but fumbled it back, giving Clemson a second chance. The Tigers capitalized when Sapp hit WR Henry Smith with the game-winning 21-yard TD pass. Kentucky got the ball back with less than 20 seconds remaining, but could move no farther than its own 40.

Outback Bowl

Penn State 26, Kentucky 14

1999 Playing on New Year's Day for the first time in 47 years, the Kentucky Wildcats jumped out to an early lead, but the Penn State Nittany Lions rallied for a 26-14 victory in the Outback Bowl in Tampa, Fla.

Although the game was played in Tampa, the Wildcats certainly felt at home. Heavy ticket demand gave the Outback Bowl its first sellout ever, as more than 40,000 UK fans were packed among the 66,005 patrons in Raymond James Stadium.

Kentucky got on the board first with 7:36 remaining in the first quarter. At the PSU 36-yard line, under heavy pressure, quarterback Tim Couch lofted a rainbow into the end zone that wide receiver Lance Mickelsen caught for a touchdown.

Later in the opening period, UK stretched the lead to 14-3 with a 64-yard drive, capped by a 16-yard TD pass from Couch to halfback Anthony White. Key plays on the drive included a 22-yard pass from Couch to wide receiver Kevin Coleman and a 30-yard aerial to Mickelsen.

From the second quarter, however, Penn State chipped away. Quarterback Kevin Thompson hit flanker Joe Nastasi with a 56-yard touchdown bomb. A second field goal from Travis Forney narrowed the UK advantage to 14-13 at halftime.

The Nittany Lions took the lead for good in the third quarter on two more field goals by Forney, giving him four on the day. Penn State put the game away in the fourth quarter with a 19-yard end-around TD run by Chafie Fields.

Meanwhile, the PSU defense shut out the Wildcats the last three quarters. Kentucky continued to move the ball, but three scoring opportunities came up empty - one on an interception, one on a missed field goal, and the other when the Wildcats were held on downs.

Kentucky actually out-gained Penn State, 441 yards to 420. UK might have done even better, but the Wildcats offensive line was missing three senior starters, all of whom were replaced by freshmen.

Couch paced the attack by completing 30 of 48 passes for 336 yards and two TDs, completing his streak of at least 300 passing yards and at least one TD pass in every game this season. Running backs Anthony White and Derek Homer caught seven balls each. White totaled 101 yards on the day, with eight rushes for 61 yards and seven receptions for 40 yards.

Lance Mickelsen made a beautiful leaping catch for a 36-yard touchdown reception.

Bishop's Theft Gives UK Victory

DARRYL BISHOP of Louisville, whose final season was 1973, remains the UK leader in career interceptions with 14 . . . One of his most notable interceptions took place on Nov. 6, 1971, at Dudley Field in Nashville . . . With UK and Vanderbilt knotted at 7-7 and less than 50 seconds to play, Kentucky elected to punt facing a 4th-and-8 situation from its own 44 . . . Walter Overton made a fair catch at the Commodore 30, giving Vandy a first down . . . After QB Steve Burger lost four yards on the first play, the Commodores elected not to use a timeout . . . Then as time expired, Burger lofted a pass toward receiver Gary Chesley . . . The ball never got to Chesley as Bishop picked off the aerial and raced 43 yards for the winning score, giving UK a 14-7 victory on the game's final play.

1999 Network Radio/TV Affiliates

When talk arises about sports in the Commonwealth of Kentucky, chances are the talk surrounds the University of Kentucky Wildcats.

Once again, the University of Kentucky will package one of the most comprehensive radio and television networks among Division I-A institutions. Both radio and television networks will blanket the Commonwealth and touch much of the nation.

Sports Communications, Inc., which owns the radio rights for UK football and men's basketball, had compiled a radio network of 80 stations as this book went to press. More stations will be added before the season begins.

WVLK-AM/FM of Lexington again serves as the flagship station for the UK Football Radio Network. Two stations on the network feature a clear-channel 50,000-watt signal, including WHAS (840 AM) in Louisville and WSAI (1530 AM) in Cincinnati.

As a member of the Southeastern Conference, Kentucky participates in the three national and regional television agreements signed by the league. The SEC contract with CBS provides for a regionally- or nationally-televised SEC Game of the Week. Kentucky had two games televised by CBS last season.

ESPN and ESPN2 also have a contract with the SEC and pick up a number of league games. Three of Kentucky's games last season were telecast on ESPN2. Kentucky's Outback Bowl game was shown by ESPN and drew the third-highest viewer rating of all bowl games on cable television. Looking ahead to the upcoming season, Kentucky's game at Mississippi State will be part of ESPN's Thursday night football series.

Another Southeastern Conference television package is produced and regionally syndicated by Jefferson-Pilot Sports. Each league school makes at least two appearances on JP Sports during the 1998-99 contract period. Kentucky had one game on JP Sports last season, guaranteeing that the Wildcats will be picked up at least once by JP in the 1999 season.

All totaled, the Wildcats appeared eight times on live national or regional television in 1998 - a school record.

In addition to the SEC TV pacts, the university has negotiated its own contract for televised games. The UK Football Television Network features full-game, tape-delay action of all Wildcats home and selected away games that are not televised by CBS, ESPN, ESPN2, or JP Sports. The network serves nine over-the-air stations and four cable systems in and around the Commonwealth. Sports Communications, Inc., administers the network with WKYT-TV of Lexington as the telecasts' producer.

For the 1999 football season, the UK

Radio/Television Broadcast Team consists of eight members, including Tom Leach, Jeff Van Note, Dick Gabriel, Dave Baker, Larry Glover, Rob Bromley, Mike Dodson, and one more person to be named.

Leach begins his third season calling the radio play-by-play. His play-by-play efforts are quite popular, highlighted by what has become his well-known call - "TOUCH-DOWN KENTUCKEEEE!" - following Wildcats' scores. A 1983 graduate of Kentucky, Leach is in his 11th season as a member of the UK broadcast team. Previously, he had anchored the halftime and postgame scoreboard shows on the UK Radio Network.

Leach currently serves as news/sports director for radio station WVLK-AM/FM in Lexington and hosts the station's nightly sports talk show. He began as a news/sports reporter for WVLK in 1984. Leach, a native of Paris, Ky., is a three-time winner of the Associated Press "Best Sports Program" award. He also won an Eclipse Award in 1993 for his thoroughbred racing coverage and is known for his knowledge of the racing industry.

Former UK letterman Jeff Van Note (1966-68) enters his sixth season as the expert analyst on the UK radio broadcasts. Van Note, who had an 18-year NFL career with the Atlanta Falcons, also has done analysis on the Falcons' and the Tennessee Oilers' networks.

Dave Baker, a native of Franklin, Ohio, begins his 11th year on the UK broadcast team. He is involved with the programming of "Countdown to Kickoff," the one-hour pregame radio show.

Baker has spent 17 years on the sports staff of WKYT-TV in Lexington. He began at WKYT in 1982 following his graduation from Georgetown (Ky.) College. He was named WKYT's weekend anchor in 1984 and played an instrumental part in the founding of his stations' award-winning "Sports Spectrum," a 20-minute comprehensive sports show on Saturday evenings. Baker also hosts a popular Sunday morning radio talk show.

Gabriel, a 1978 graduate of Kentucky, enters his 11th year as a member of the UK broadcast team. He works in the dual capacity of sideline reporter for both the UK Radio and Television Networks, an intriguing task he has handled during the 1992-93 and 1995-97 seasons. Previously, he spent four years (1989-91, 1994) on the broadcast team solely as sideline reporter for the UK Radio Network.

Gabriel, sports manager for WKYT-TV, came to Lexington from Dallas, Tex., where he was executive producer of Host Communications' Southwest Conference Football Radio Network. In addition, Gabriel often fills in for Leach as host of WVLK's nightly sports talk show.

As a student at UK, Gabriel was named the Outstanding Journalism Graduate in 1978. He called play-by-play for Wildcats football and basketball games on student radio station WBKY and served as sports editor for the Kentucky Kernel, UK's student newspaper. Following graduation, he served as sports director for WVLK AM/FM in Lexington.

Larry Glover joined the radio crew in 1998. He provides the postgame scoreboard reports and assists in the production of the pregame and postgame shows. Glover is in his third year as a news and sports reporter at WVLK. He is a native of Hawesville, Ky., and a graduate of UK.

On the delayed television broadcasts, play-by-play is provided by Rob Bromley. Bromley is set for his 20th year on the UK Television Network. He has also handled the roles of analyst and sideline reporter in the past. Bromley also has served as producer and co-host of the Kentucky football and men's basketball coaches' television shows.

Bromley has been a member of the WKYT-TV sports staff for 20 years, including the past 17 as sports anchor. Bromley is a graduate of Butler University in Indianapolis and worked as a sports anchor in Lima, Ohio, prior to joining the WKYT-TV staff in 1977.

Bromley will have a new expert analyst this season as his partner for the past five seasons, former UK quarterback Derrick Ramsey, has taken over the athletic director's post at Kentucky State University. A new analyst had not been selected as this media guide went to press.

Radio play-by-play announcers for Kentucky football have included (from left) Ralph Hacker (1992-96), Cawood Ledford (1953-91), and Tom Leach (1997-present).

Working behind the scenes to pull the broadcasts together is the job of Mike Dodson, who enters his sixth year as a member of the UK broadcast team. Dodson, director of broadcast operations of the UK Radio and Television Networks, is the technical engineer for all game-day Wildcats football.

How the TV Games are Selected

A question received frequently at the UK Athletics Association is, "How do we know which Kentucky games are going to be on live TV?"

As a member of the Southeastern Conference, Kentucky participates in the league's TV contracts with CBS, ESPN, ESPN2, and Jefferson-Pilot Sports. Those networks have purchased the rights to televise SEC games.

How are the games selected?

First, the networks select a few games in advance of each season. For example, this year's Kentucky at Mississippi State game already has been selected as part of ESPN's Thursday night package and will be televised live on Nov. 4.

The networks select the remainder of their games on a 12-day advance basis. For example, the games that will be televised Saturday, Sept. 25, are selected on Monday, Sept. 13 - that is, 12 days in advance of the game.

Kentucky Wildcats

The Next Mission

Coach Hal Mumme with son Matt at 1999 University of Kentucky graduation ceremonies. Matt also was a quarterback on the Wildcats football team.

Dear Student-Athlete,

I want to personally welcome you to the University of Kentucky and am proud to present the 1999 Kentucky Wildcats football team. I am honored to share this media guide with anyone who reads it. It will show clearly the great commitment to the quality and quantity of results that are the trademark of all that makes UK a national and international force in education and athletics in the new millennium.

Our coaching staff and I challenge all high school freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors to raise their sights and work harder than ever before in all facets of their lives. Great events and great lives require passion, commitment, and endurance. We challenge all of you to improve in all three areas.

This last May, June and I had the opportunity of seeing our son and oldest daughter graduate from college. There aren't words to describe the great honor and joy these moments bring to parents. My years as an educator have taught me that the greatest tool for any young person is to stretch their mind and soul by obtaining a truly great education.

I would like to share with you why I believe in UK for the total collegiate experience.

1) UK is a leader on the national and international scene for the new millennium. The University is at the forefront of numerous social, legal, medical, economic, agricultural, artistic, and athletic endeavors that any of you face in the future. You are in an extremely competitive arena and the future demands an individual who is equipped to compete on not just a regional or national level, but in a truly international arena.

UK has been rated as one of the "best buys" in college education. The new library is in operation and is the standard by which campus libraries will be measured for decades. UK's nationally ranked schools of Medicine, Engineering, Agriculture, and Business have successful athletes in them and graduating from them. In this issue, we have created a special section on the many entrepreneurs that this commonwealth has, as an example of the true spirit that makes Kentucky great.

The Ohio Casualty Center for Academic and Tutorial Services (CATS) is the model for the future, functioning and producing now.

In short, UK has the faculty, facilities, environment, resources, and most important, the commitment to make any UK degree nationally marketable and international in scope.

2) UK is an athlete's dream. No one can compare to UK for the total athletic experience. Our expanded stadium is just one jewel in the crown of the outstanding facilities that are here for our athletes. Please make time to tour these facilities. I'm sure you'll be impressed that not only are the facilities unique, but they are extremely functional.

3) UK has an ideal collegiate environment. Lexington and the University of Kentucky are extremely safe and are really great places to live. College life needs to be fun and it needs to be uncluttered. UK and Lexington are clean, beautiful, and they exude the graceful pride that shows as a result of the people in the community.

4) UK is about people and has the best people to accomplish all of its goals. Wherever you look, whenever you're on or near campus, you see a lot of special people. People who are fans, coaches, teachers, students, administrators, and residents who are the true secret to our success. They are the reason we can answer the 'why and how' we have experienced the great success we've enjoyed and will enjoy in the future.

5) UK offers any student-athlete the following:

- Nationally marketable degree
- Outstanding faculty
- Unparalleled academic support
- Exceptional athletic facilities and schedules
- Playing in the Southeastern Conference
- The safety of the Commonwealth
- The people who can make it happen.

UK football players are trained to compete for national prominence both on and off the field. They are trained to be responsible and productive citizens. We commit to them the people, resources, and facilities that will allow them to compete in the national and international arenas of the next century.

When you choose Kentucky, you become a member of the greatest extended family around.

May God grant you the courage, perseverance, and joy that college life should bring.

Hal Mumme
Head Football Coach

"The University of Kentucky places strong emphasis on developing the skills, the character, and the intellect of all our student-athletes. Head football coach Hal Mumme and his staff work very hard to motivate their players on the playing field, in the classroom, and in the community to be the best they can be. UK provides facilities that help inspire students to become well-rounded athletes and successful scholars. We invite student-athletes to join our teams at UK and to experience the pride of being part of UK's first-class athletic and academic programs."

Dr. Charles Wethington Jr.
President
University of Kentucky

"I always welcome the opportunity to talk about the University of Kentucky. I hope that many high school athletes will choose to live the 'Kentucky experience' as Wildcat football players. The 'Kentucky experience' emphasizes the proper balance between athletics and academics.

"Academically, graduation is an expectation for those who complete their eligibility. The CATS program provides the support system necessary to reach that goal.

"Our coaches and support personnel help our student-athletes realize their athletic potential. They have the opportunity to become the best college football players possible during their career.

"Our program is made-to-order for student-athletes who are serious about football and academics."

C. M. Newton
Director of Athletics

Dear Student-Athlete,

You are among the generation that can say they witnessed an end of one millenium and the beginning of another. You are very fortunate to be alive today and living in the greatest country the world has ever known. Certainly, it can only be to your advantage to make the most of your high school and college years.

How can you make the most of your time in high school and college? Here's what I have learned in more than 30 years as a player and coach: You have to be before you can do, and you have to do before you can have.

- Be:
- Honest
 - Hard-working
 - Tireless
 - Deliberate
 - Successful in school, home, and on the field

- Do:
- Things exactly right
 - The small things

- A little extra
- All you can
- Everything with pride and honor, in school, at home, and on the field

- Have:
- Faith in the system
 - Respect for teachers, coaches, and the game
 - Love for parents, God, and life
 - The courage and honor to walk tall

The equation for a college scholarship is simple: you have to be academically ready to graduate, living according to the standards and ethics that should be a by-product for a true athlete, and perform with your talents in a manner that succeeds and inspires. You have to be a part of the team and maintain that the only way you can achieve your goals is if the team achieves theirs.

Great things don't happen by accident. Check out UK and make it the standard by which you measure all other schools and athletic programs.

Wishing you the best,
Claude Bassett
Recruiting Coordinator

Kentucky by the Numbers

Running back Derek Homer rushed for 137 yards in this game against Tennessee. He was chosen for the 1997 Freshman All-SEC team.

Free safety Willie Gary was named to the 1997 Freshman All-America and Freshman All-SEC teams.

At Kentucky, we believe in taking freshmen and immediately putting them in the game.

"It's exciting to go out there, fresh out of high school, and get a chance to play against the best in the nation. Not many freshmen get a chance to play in the SEC."

— Jermaine White, wide receiver

Then come play at Kentucky!

Take the 1997 season, for example. Except for the offensive linemen and one injured player, all 11 of the other signees played as true freshmen. Three of them, free safety Willie Gary, kicker Seth Hanson, and fullback Derek Homer, went on to earn SEC or national honors.

The 1998 season was more of the same. A total of 15 true freshmen saw action for UK's Outback Bowl team and all 15 played enough to earn a varsity letter. True freshmen David Johnson and Dennis Johnson, along with redshirt freshman Matt Brown, won Freshman All-America accolades.

"Some programs make you sit out (your first season), but Coach Mumme feels that if you can produce and help the team win, great. If you can help the team win right away, he'll play you."

— Kendrick Shanklin, halfback

"Coming from high school to major college football, it's a great feeling to play right away and have people cheering for you. It makes you feel good to know you're good enough to compete at that level."

— Dougie Allen, wide receiver

As a true freshman in 1998, strong safety David Johnson made a number of big plays and was chosen Freshman All-SEC and first-team Freshman All-America.

"When Coach Mumme told me I had a chance to play, I believed him. He's a man of his word. He gave me a chance to play and it was up to me to make the most of it."

— David Johnson, strong safety, Freshman All-American

Offensive tackle Matt Brown was named to the 1998 Freshman All-SEC team and third-team Freshman All-America.

"Coach Mumme and his staff made a complete turnaround in one year. I could have gone to Florida State, which was already established, but I thought I could play early at UK and still win. With the coaching staff, you know you're going to be productive and I knew that Coach Bassett would bring in great players. The facilities are great. I loved the players when I visited. I thought college players would be cocky, but everybody here was down to earth. That impressed me."

Why the High School All-Americans Come to UK

"Basically, I came to Kentucky because it is a program on the rise. Hal Mumme is a great coach and they have a good staff. When I came on my visit, everybody worked together as a team - the coaches, managers, trainers, everybody. I really liked that. I looked at Michigan, Nebraska, and (Texas) A&M, but I picked UK."

— Defensive back Terrence Calhoun of Austin, Tex., 1998 High School All-American who was called "one of the state's top five overall athletes" by PrepStar magazine.

"I got a good feeling when I visited Kentucky. When I visited other schools, players treated me differently. At Kentucky, I got treated more as family, from coaches, players, everybody. And even after I signed, Kentucky stayed in contact and that made me feel even better. People are starting to recognize Kentucky as a football school. Kentucky is on the move up."

— Wide receiver Brad Pyatt of Arvada, Colo., 1998 High School All-American, on why he chose Kentucky

"The first thing I really liked about Kentucky was the CATS program. They keep you on track academically. Football-wise, I liked the way the team practiced, the facilities, the style of offense - everything. Coach (Tony) Franklin recruited me. He let me know everything about the program. He made me a believer and I had to come see for myself if everything he said was true - and it was."

— Tight end Bobby Blizzard of Hampton, Va., 1997 High School All-American, on why he chose Kentucky.

One word describes the offensive and defensive playing systems at Kentucky . . .

In Coach Hal Mumme's two seasons at Kentucky, UK's "Air Raid" offense has produced record numbers of points and yards. Last season, the Wildcats rolled up an average 534.2 yards and 37.9 points per game, easily the best in the Southeastern Conference.

"I don't think you can preach 'attack' all the time with the players and then, as a coach, not go out there and do it."

— Coach Hal Mumme, explaining why he often refuses to punt on fourth down.

And, if you like to take chances in order to win football games, then UK is the place for you. The Wildcats have gone for it on fourth down 77 times during Coach Mumme's two seasons - far more than any other team in the SEC.

If you're a defender and love to make "The Big Play," then Kentucky is the place for you.

Kentucky plays a daring, aggressive system of defense. It's based on penetration - attacking the offense - and the Wildcats have made their share of big plays. In 1998, Coach Mike Major's defensive unit made 88 tackles behind the line of scrimmage, most ever in statistics available since 1985. And, the defensive unit also proved it can play offense by scoring six times on its own last season.

"It's attack football. We attack offensively. We attack defensively. It's just now getting exposure, but we've been doing it this way a long time. What we tell our players is this: 'Don't just stop a play, make a play.'"

— Mike Major, defensive coordinator

Attack!

Wide receiver Quentin McCord (right) lunges into the end zone for another Wildcats touchdown. The UK offensive attack produced a school-record point total in 1998.

Linebacker Jeff Snedegar (left), shown here causing a fumble, is an example of UK's attack attitude on defense. Snedegar's career totals include 20 tackles for loss, seven quarterback sacks, seven pass breakups, two interceptions, four fumbles caused, and countless opponents bruised.

Wildcats Wear Nike

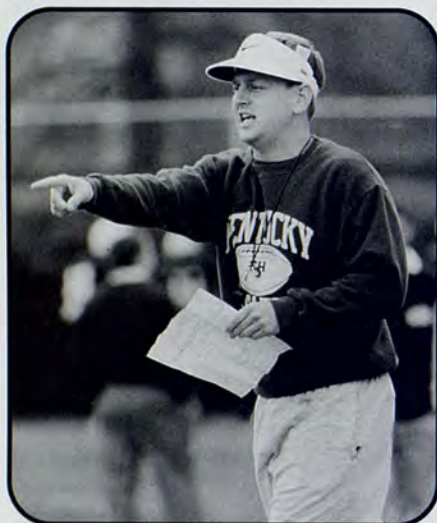

Across the nation, only 14 schools have an exclusive all-sports contract with Nike, the athletic apparel and equipment manufacturer. Kentucky is one of those 14 schools.

UK signed a five-year deal with Nike in 1997. The Wildcats' uniforms, shoes, shorts, sweatshirts, and other athletic clothing are provided by Nike. Thanks to Nike's extensive research and product development, UK athletes stay on the leading edge with the quality and style of their gear.

All 22 UK sports teams will use Nike shoes and equipment through the 2001-2002 school year. UK will receive more than $11 million in clothing, equipment, and cash during the contract.

Wildcats merchandise also is being seen around the world as never before, thanks to the strength of Nike's national and international marketing.

Learn From the UK Coaches at Summer Camp!

UK quarterbacks coach Chris Hatcher personally has helped develop two NFL first-round draft picks. All of the Wildcats coaches are actively involved in the UK summer camps.

One way to make the most of your ability is to receive instruction from the Wildcats' coaching staff at the UK summer football camps.

As interest grows in UK football - and enthusiastic campers themselves spread the word - the number of players attending has grown rapidly.

In the summer of 1999, a total of approximately 2,800 players took advantage of the UK coaches and facilities at summer camp. That was a big increase from the 826 campers who participated in 1997 and the 1,872 who camped with the 'Cats in 1998.

UK offers a variety of camps during the month of June, from players age eight through players who have not yet begun their senior year in high school. Contact and non-contact camps are offered, along with specialized quarterback and offensive line schools and team passing tournaments.

A special feature of the camps is the direct involvement of the UK coaching staff. At some schools' summer camps, large numbers of outside coaches are brought in and the host coaches have minimal involvement with the campers. Not at UK. From registration until the end of camp, the UK coaches are directly involved with the campers.

"As a coaching staff, we set aside the month of June to work with campers," Coach Hal Mumme said. "We believe that it is important to invest our time in young football players."

For specific dates, costs of camp, and other camp information, call the UK football office at 606-257-3611 or write to UK Summer Football Camps, Commonwealth Stadium, Lexington, Ky., 40506.

Walk-Ons Play at UK

Another unique feature of Kentucky football is the junior varsity team.

At most schools, the majority of walk-ons spend their time watching from the sidelines, holding tackling dummies, or perhaps playing on the scout team. At UK, walk-ons play in games.

The junior varsity team is comprised primarily of walk-ons in addition to a few scholarship players. The team forms at the beginning of the fall semester and practices for a month before playing a five-game schedule.

"This gives the players the opportunity to show that they can play at UK," Coach Hal Mumme said. "A player gets to run our offense and our defense instead of running some other team's plays on the scout team. And, if they don't make the varsity, the players can transfer to a Division I-AA or Division II school and know that they had a chance at a I-A program."

UK tight ends coach Sonny Dykes is the head coach of the JV team.

Here is the 1999 UK junior varsity schedule:

Sun.	Oct.	3	Maryville	Away	5:00
Thurs.	Oct.	7	Hargrave Military Academy	Home	7:00

Attendance Booming at Kentucky!

The Wildcats fans have responded in record numbers to the excitement of Kentucky football under Coach Hal Mumme.

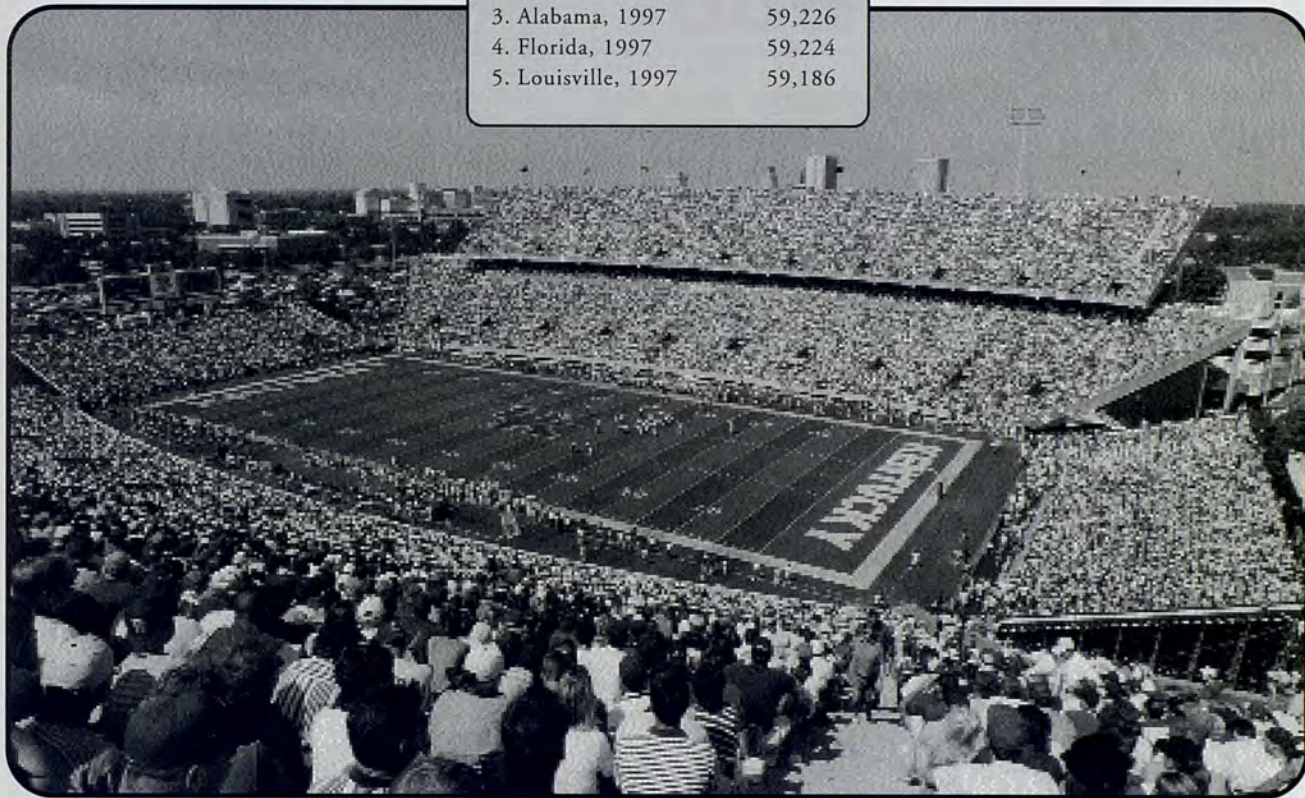

In 1997, UK set a school record with an average attendance of 59,110 fans per game. Kentucky ranked in the nation's top 25 in attendance for the first time since 1981.

Four of the Top Five Crowds in Commonwealth Stadium History Came in 1997

Opponent	Attendance
1. Tennessee, 1997	61,076
2. Louisville, 1996	59,384
3. Alabama, 1997	59,226
4. Florida, 1997	59,224
5. Louisville, 1997	59,186

In addition, four of the top five single-game crowds in school history came during the 1997 season, topped by the 61,076 that turned out for the Tennessee game.

Those records are expected to be shattered in 1999 when UK opens the expanded Commonwealth Stadium.

Fans have turned out in record numbers to see the Wildcats under Coach Hal Mumme. Attendance records are expected to be shattered again this season following the expansion of Commonwealth Stadium.

Hi, Mom, We're on TV!

Being a Wildcat ensures plenty of television exposure.

As a member of the Southeastern Conference, Kentucky has television contracts with CBS, ESPN, ESPN2, and Jefferson-Pilot Sports to broadcast the Wildcats' games.

Media interest in the Wildcats generated eight appearances on national or regional television in 1998 - a school record for most TV appearances. Seven games were carried nationally, two on CBS, one on ESPN, three on ESPN2, and one on the Fox Sports Network.

In addition, any Kentucky games not televised live are carried on a delayed basis by the UKTV Network.

Want to be on a team that reduces your risk of injury - and has you most ready for game day on Saturday - by playing it smart in practice? That team is Kentucky.

Hal Mumme's practice schedule greatly reduces the risk of injury.

UK Practice Schedule

Reduces Risk of Injury

Coach Hal Mumme follows the National Football League model of being ready for game day by limiting contact work in practice. This is how UK's practices are scheduled:

- Hitting in practice is limited to work on technique; there is no tackling to the ground.
- There are only four full-contact scrimmages during spring practice, including the spring game.

Obviously, many football injuries come when joints are twisted during tackling or in pile-ups at the end of plays. These practice plans greatly reduce the number of these injuries.

How did the plan work last season? Let the numbers speak for themselves:

	1996*	1998+	% fewer
Number of players who missed at least one game because of injury	18	8	-55.6 %
Number of injuries forcing a player to miss at least one game or practice	73	37	-49.3 %
Number of injuries forcing a player to miss seven or more days	30	4	-86.7 %
Number of heat-related illnesses	10	4	-60 %
Total number of new (non-recurrent) injuries	63	24	-61.9 %

* 1996 featured a traditional practice schedule with heavy hitting during spring practice and during the season

+ 1998 featured Hal Mumme's NFL-style practice schedule of no tackling to the ground during the season and only four full-contact scrimmages during the spring

SEC Football A Tradition of Excellence

In the ever-changing world of collegiate athletics, the tradition of excellence in the Southeastern Conference has remained constant.

Winning - on and off the field - is an SEC trademark. Since 1951, SEC teams have won 14 national championships, including three in the decade of the '90s. The 12 schools currently in the SEC have appeared in 292 post-season bowl games - the most of any conference in the country. The SEC has posted a

"I love playing in the SEC. It's the best conference in the country by far - the best coaches, the best athletes, the best fans. I'll remember the experience forever. It's fun each and every week."

— James Whalen, tight end

The Southeastern Conference

winning non-conference record every year since 1933 with the exception of one season (1979).

Off the field, 1,076 football players have made the SEC Academic Honor Roll in the 1990s. The SEC has had 120 of its own football student-athletes named to the Academic All-America first team since 1954. And, last season, Georgia's Matt Stinchcomb was named the GTE Academic All-American of the Year.

The NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship, given to student-athletes who maintain a cumulative 3.0 grade point average during their collegiate careers and perform with distinction in varsity football, has been awarded to 63 former SEC gridiron standouts.

What will the 1999 season bring to the Southeastern Conference? Several things are for sure - fans will pack SEC stadiums in record numbers to watch exciting college football and conference teams will enjoy a record-number of national television exposures. It promises to be another great year of SEC Football in 1999!

five million fans passed through the turnstiles at SEC stadia. A total of 5,059,534 fans attended 73 games in 1998, an average of 69,309, also tops in the nation. SEC stadia were filled to an average of 99.64 percent of capacity for each home game in 1998, highest in the nation.

SEC Football Televised by CBS, ESPN, JP

For the fourth straight season in 1999, CBS will be the national network provider of Southeastern Conference football. CBS will televise a minimum number of 12 games per year through the year 2000. The network also will carry SEC men's and women's basketball games. The SEC and CBS have extended their current contract through the 2008-2009 season. The new agreement will expand CBS Sports' current SEC football commitment and provide exclusive national network broadcasts of SEC home games throughout the season.

The SEC also has contracts with ESPN and ESPN2 for national cablecasts. Jefferson-Pilot Sports also regionally syndicates an "SEC Game of the Week."

SEC to Send Seven Teams Bowling

The SEC will send at least seven of its teams to post-season bowls in 1998. The conference champion will be part of the Bowl Championship Series, which includes the Rose, Sugar, Orange and Fiesta Bowls. The CompUSA Florida Citrus Bowl has the SEC's second selection while the Cotton, Outback and Peach Bowls has the third through fifth choices of SEC teams. The Independence and Music City Bowls will have the sixth and seventh choices of SEC teams in no particular order.

Here is the 1999 SEC bowl arrangement:

Bowl	Selection
• Bowl Championship Series (Sugar, Fiesta, Orange, Rose)	Champion
• CompUSA Florida Citrus Bowl Jan. 1, Orlando	Second
• Southwestern Bell Cotton Bowl Jan. 1, Dallas	Third
• Outback Bowl Jan. 1, Tampa	Fourth
• Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl Dec. 30, Atlanta	Fifth
• Sanford Independence Bowl Dec. 31, Shreveport	6th/7th
• Music City Bowl Dec. 29, Nashville	6th/7th

SEC Dominates AP Top 10 in the 1990s

The SEC has dominated the AP Top Ten poll during the 1990s. The SEC has had its teams in the AP Top Ten 20 times since the 1990 season. The Big 12 is second with 16. The SEC has had at least two of its teams finish in the final AP Top Ten every year since 1991.

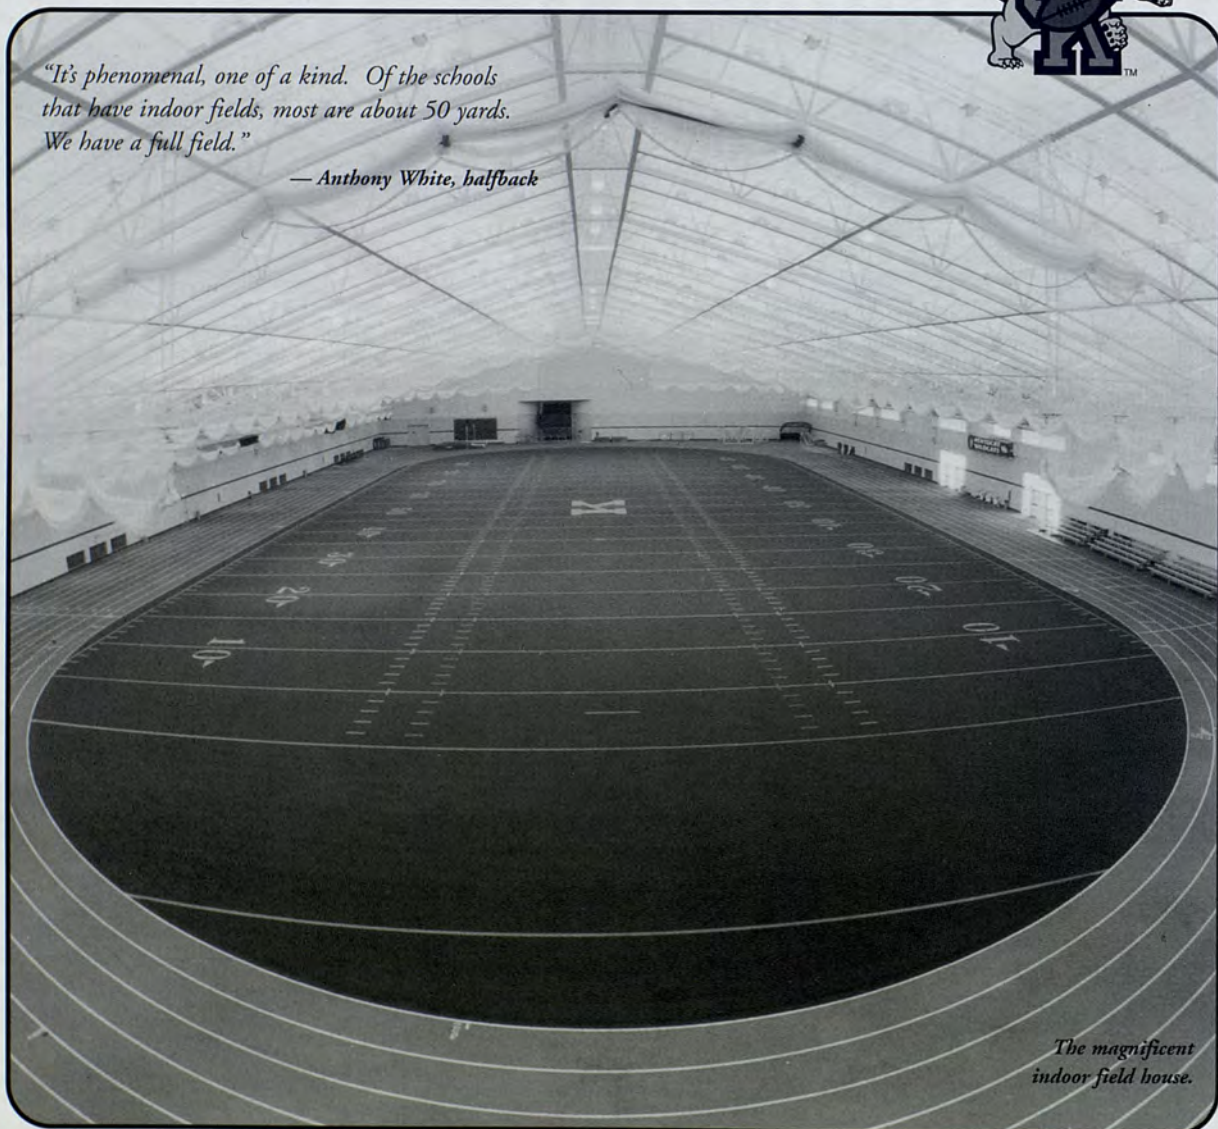

The finest indoor practice facility in the nation is on the campus of the University of Kentucky.

"It's phenomenal, one of a kind. Of the schools that have indoor fields, most are about 50 yards. We have a full field."

— Anthony White, halfback

Even when the weather turns cold, there's a place where Kentucky football is hot.

That place is the Nutter Field House, a marvelous $8.5 million structure that is the home of the Wildcats on occasions of inclement weather.

The Nutter Field House has many benefits for the football team. First, it is the team's headquarters during the off-season winter conditioning program. When other teams are shivering in cold weather, or trying to run inside in cramped conditions, the Wildcats have a spacious, climate-controlled place for conditioning. Each athlete receives the maximum benefit from his workout.

Second, the Kentucky football team never has to miss a practice, or have the effectiveness of practice reduced, because of bad weather. The indoor facility is always ready.

Third, the field house assists in game preparation. When Kentucky plays an opponent whose field is artificial turf, the Wildcats can practice on the surface and be ready to play on Saturday.

Fourth, the players have a place to sharpen their individual skills whenever the Wildcats aren't practicing as a team.

"I don't think anyone has better facilities than Kentucky," Coach Hal Mumme says. "The Nutter Field House is the big diamond in the midst of a lot of jewels."

"Because of the field house, our guys can work out for football all year-round, regardless of the weather. It's critical in our off-season program."

Even more than an indoor practice field, the field house can accommodate the year-round needs of 12 Kentucky sports — football, baseball, softball, gymnastics, men's and women's indoor and outdoor track, men's and women's golf, and men's and women's soccer.

"In my opinion, we already have in place the finest coaches in the country," UK Athletics Director C. M. Newton said. "The indoor facility means we have the ability to attract the finest student-athletes.

"This multi-purpose building has been a tremendous boost to all of our programs."

The Nutter Field House, which was dedicated in a ceremony on Sept. 2, 1993, covers more than 132,000 square feet and is located adjacent to the south end zone of Commonwealth Stadium. It is named for E.J. Nutter and his family for their support of and service to the university.

The Nutter Field House paid immediate dividends to the Kentucky football program. In its first year of existence, it served as the team's practice headquarters when the team earned a berth in the 1993 Peach Bowl.

The indoor facility features an actual playing field of 108,000 square feet, including a full-size artificial turf football field. The football field is surrounded by a six-lane, 290-meter track which expands to nine lanes down the straight-aways. Areas for field events are also included for the pole vault, high jump, and long jump. A 9,000-square foot gymnastics room is located in the front of the building and serves as the UK GymCats' home.

One of the most unique features of this multi-million dollar showplace is the electronic netting system. This system allows for different combinations of sports to practice safely, at the same time, by dividing the playing field. The nets can be lowered to separate the entire playing field from the track, or form four batting cages for baseball or driving ranges for golf. The playing field can be divided in halves to create two football, soccer, or baseball playing areas.

UK president Dr. Charles Wethington noted that the facility is used by the faculty, staff, and students, as well as varsity athletes.

"This facility is very significant, not only to UK athletics, but to the entire University of Kentucky community," Wethington said. "The indoor facility should aid us in taking our football program to another level."

The height of the indoor facility is 72 feet at its apex. This height allows punting, and field goal targets sewn into the nets permit realistic PAT/field goal kicking during practices.

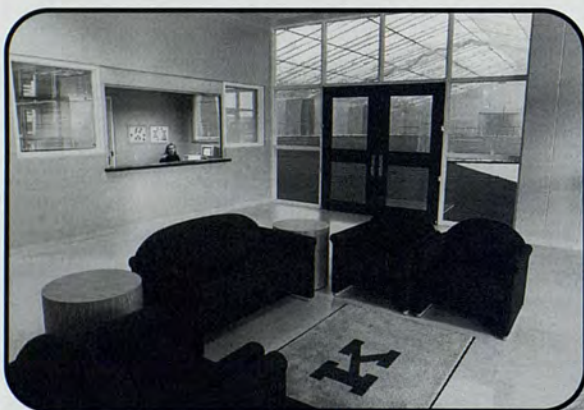

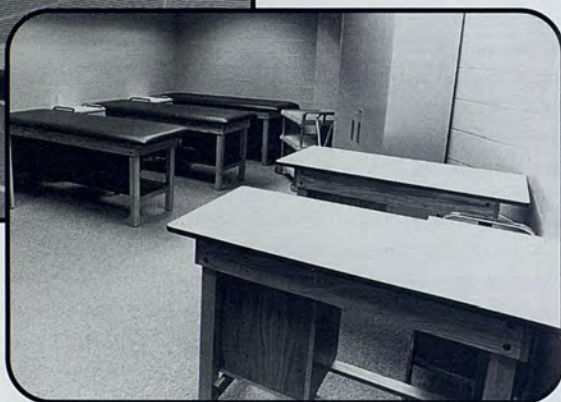

Also included in the facility is 3,000 feet of office space for the facility manager, receptionist, and coaches. The building also includes another 4,000 square feet of storage space.

Expansion has arrived at Commonwealth Stadium as the Wildcats and their fans look ahead to their 27th year in the lair of the Wildcats.

Both ends of the stadium have been enclosed, along with the construction of 40 suites, 10 in each corner of the stadium. The total number of seats is expected to be approximately 68,000.

A total of $24 million has been allocated for the stadium. Phase I of the project was completed during the summer of 1997. Several of the restroom areas were renovated and water service for the entire stadium was expanded.

Since its opening, Kentucky has played 162 games within the friendly confines of Commonwealth Stadium. And indeed, an 90-68-4 record and a .561 winning percentage is evidence that Commonwealth is a home field advantage for the Wildcats.

Excellent attendance figures also have gone hand-in-hand with Kentucky football and Commonwealth Stadium. The Wildcats have averaged 54,362 fans in those 162 contests at Commonwealth Stadium. In fact, 8,806,594 spectators have witnessed Kentucky football at Commonwealth Stadium - that's more than twice the population of Kentucky.

The five-millionth person to attend a UK football game at Commonwealth Stadium was Jack Crowe of Lexington. Mr.

Crowe walked through the gate as number 5,000,000 at 1 p.m. on Oct. 3, 1987, as Kentucky played host to Ohio.

The enthusiasm generated by Coach Hal Mumme and his "Air Raid" attack boosted attendance. The Wildcats averaged a record average of 59,110 fans in 1997. A single-game record of 61,076 were on hand for the UK-Tennessee game, thanks to the addition of temporary bleachers in the north end zone.

An enclosed press box, which seats 110 members of the media, is located between the decks of the stadium's west side. Included in the press box area are 10 private booths (five for VIPs), a photography deck, and two dining areas. The press box is serviced by two elevators.

Commonwealth Stadium has been home for the Kentucky Wildcats since 1973.

When constructed in 1973, Commonwealth Stadium had a capacity of 57,800. It was completed at a cost of $12 million by the firm of Huber, Hunt, and Nichols. The stadium and parking areas rest on an 86-acre plot that was once part of the UK Experimental Station Farm Grounds.

The stadium was officially opened on Sept. 15, 1973, as the Wildcats moved into their new home after spending 48 years at Stoll Field/McLean Stadium

One of the nation's showcase football facilities rests on the southeast corner of the University of Kentucky campus.

The modern E.J. Nutter Football Training Facility ranks among the best in the country. Built at a cost of $5.7 million, the facility officially became the home of Kentucky Wildcat football in September 1987.

The Nutter Center, as it is called on the UK campus, encompasses over 48,000 square feet. It is located on Sports Center Drive, just across Cooper Drive from Commonwealth Stadium.

"You'll be hard-pressed to find a place that is better or more functional for players and large, personal lockers for every Kentucky football player, the Nutter Center is highlighted by a 9,000-square foot weight room. The weight room has 100,000 pounds of free weights alone in addition to numerous strength and conditioning machines.

The Nutter Center also has 11 meeting rooms, a state-of-the-art video and editing room for coaches' film, equipment and training rooms, staff and player lounges, a 60-yard sprint track, sauna and jacuzzi, an aerobics room, and three racquetball courts.

A touch of Kentucky history is on display in the foyer area. The memorabilia case holds UK trophies from such games as the Great Lakes Bowl, the Sugar Bowl, the Cotton Bowl, the Peach Bowl, and the Hall of Fame Bowls. The case also displays UK's

There are so many things that are helpful to players — racquetball courts, whirlpool, and so on. It's one of the top places in the nation."

The facility is named in honor of Ervin J. Nutter, a UK alumnus who contributed one million dollars to start the fund-raising campaign. The Nutter gift to the UK Athletics Association was one of the largest gifts ever received by the UKAA.

"The University has been a great inspiration to me," Nutter said. "I do not feel as if I've given anything away. I'm just repaying what the University has done for me."

Nutter, a graduate of Hamilton (Ohio) High School, entered the UK College of Engineering and worked his way through college as an electrician. He left UK before graduation and passed the State of Ohio's examination for stationary engineers, becoming the youngest licensed stationary engineer in the state.

He worked three years for Procter and Gamble's Power Division before returning to UK to receive his bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering in 1943.

After serving with distinction with the engineering division at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Nutter became president of Elano Corporation. He later became president of Acme Screw Products of Dayton, Ohio.

While his unprecedented gift represented Nutter's love for the UK athletics program, his love for the University as a whole is well-documented.

Players enjoy a spacious, comfortable locker room.

Nutter served two terms (1966-68) as president of the UK National Alumni Association and four years as chairman of the UK Development Council Board.

Another important part in building the Nutter Center was the donation of $300,000 by Seth Hancock, a central Kentucky horseman. Hancock also played a key role in raising the necessary dollars for the facility as chairman of the united effort to raise $2.7 million from private donors.

The ceremonial dedication of the Nutter Center took place on Sept. 11, 1987, with Nutter, Hancock, Jerry Claiborne (then UK head coach), Cliff Hagan (then UK athletics director), and former UK president Otis Singletary in attendance.

What kind of impact is being made by Marc Hill, UK Strength and Conditioning Coach, in his first year on the job? Let the players tell you.

"Coach Hill is so practical about everything we do. Everything we do in the weight room, even the smallest detail, pertains to what we do on the field."

— Marlon McCree, linebacker

"I came in at about 178 pounds, and now I'm up to 197. The psychological part of lifting weights really helps. When it comes game time, I'm as prepared as anybody else. Coach Hill is doing a great job."

— David Johnson, strong safety

"I think Coach Hill's workouts will make us into a championship team. He chooses exercises that pertain to football. Each player's workout schedule is personalized to what he needs."

"We have one of the best weight rooms in the country. Coach Hill does a great job. He really knows what he's talking about. He gives us a lot of individual workouts. He'll really help the team."

— John Rader, linebacker

"I like what Coach Hill is doing because everything is football related. He's also a good person. He treats you like you want to be treated. You get your work done and still have fun."

Coach Marc Hill works with George Massey on the dumbbells.

Hill came to the University of Kentucky in Feb. 1999 from the University of Arizona, where he worked with the football and men's basketball teams. His efforts in the weight room helped Arizona be a perennial bowl contender in football and the basketball team won the 1997 NCAA championship. As one of Hal Mumme's former players at Iowa Wesleyan College, Hill is a natural fit for Kentucky.

"Hiring Marc is a good tie-in for us because he knows how we like to do things," Mumme said when Hill was hired. "At Arizona, he worked with Dan Wirth, who was our strength coach at Iowa Wesleyan. Arizona has been one of the strongest teams in the country. Marc is a great addition to our program."

Hill's blueprint for success contains the following items:

- overall development of the athlete through weight lifting and cardiovascular training;
- plyometric training, which increases agility by teaching muscles to contract more quickly, efficiently, and powerfully;
- extra emphasis on areas needing the most strength gains;
- specific exercises tailored to each player's position; and
- nutrition education so that players get maximum benefit from their workouts.

"We believe in a system that trains the complete athlete," Hill explains. "Everybody wants to be stronger, faster, leaner, and more powerful. We achieve that through upper and lower body work and Olympic-style lifting."

"As a strength and conditioning staff, we also have to individualize the needs of each athlete so that they achieve their maximum genetic potential. We have position-specific exercises for each player. In the weight room, we mimic the movements the players do on the field."

Hill's strength and conditioning team includes assistant Scott Brincks and two graduate assistants, Keith Comeforo and Jamie Givens. The strength staff not only works on the physical aspect of football, but also the mental.

"We're here to motivate players and also teach them to motivate themselves," Hill says. "We teach motivation and time organization, things that carry over into all aspects of their lives."

The staff operates in one of the nation's best weight rooms, a facility that is reserved exclusively for football.

For starters, the Nutter Center's weight room is 9,000 square feet in size. In free weights alone, UK has 100,000 pounds of equipment - 75,000 pounds of free weights and 25,000 in dumbbells. There are also seven Olympic lifting platforms.

To complement the free weights, UK has an abundance of Nautilus equipment, stationary bicycles, and treadmills.

UK Coach Hal Mumme believes in the value of walk-ons - non-scholarship players - on his team.

Medical Staff and Services

In the game of football, there is no substitute for proper health care and medical treatment.

UK football is blessed to have a first-class medical staff, led by Head Athletics Trainer Jim Madaleno and Assistant Trainer Jeff Allen.

The UK training staff is comprised of six full-time trainers, additional graduate assistants, and approximately 20 student assistants. The trainers work closely with UK's six team physicians, Dr. David Caborn, Dr. Kim Clawson, Dr. Darren Johnson, Dr. Scott Mair, Dr. John Perrine, and Dr. H. Spencer Turner. A variety of consultants, covering every medical specialty, are available. Altogether, the medical team handles the needs of athletes in 22 sports at UK.

"Jim Madaleno is the best in the business. He's proved that wherever he's been," says Coach Hal Mumme, who worked with Madaleno at Valdosta State. "We trust Jim implicitly. His decisions are never questioned by our coaching staff. No one decides who will practice or play except the trainers.

"In Jim, we have a trainer who's gotten Lawrence Taylor and Phil Simms ready to play in the Super Bowl," says Mumme, referring to

— Dennis Johnson, defensive end

"When I sprained my ankle, they gave me immediate attention and got me back playing very quickly. I have a lot of confidence in our trainers."

The UK trainers work in a superb area. The Nutter Center training room covers more than 5,000 square feet and includes ample space for taping and treatment. Inside the training room is a modern rehabilitation area and whirlpool therapy area, as well as physicians' and trainers' offices.

Equipment

The University of Kentucky football equipment room is under the able direction of veteran Equipment Manager Tom Kalinowski.

Kalinowski is in his 25th year at UK, including four years as a student manager and 21 years in his current role. Kalinowski and his staff of approximately 12 student managers are involved in the daily maintenance of the student-athletes' equipment.

Proper fitting of equipment is a key component of injury prevention, and Kalinowski personally fits each player with the appropriate equipment — helmet, shoulder pads, shoes, etc. — according to height, weight, and position. Much of the uniforms and practice gear is supplied to UK through its contract with Nike.

Maintenance, repair, and cleaning of equipment is also vital in the prevention of injury, and the UK staff performs those duties on a daily basis.

Ohio Casualty Center for Academics and Tutorial Services (CATS)

One of the cornerstones in the philosophy of University of Kentucky Athletics is a commitment to academic success.

Wildcats football players have done more than their share to achieve that goal. Here is a list of their accomplishments:

- Since 1980, Kentucky has placed 204 players on the Southeastern Conference Academic Honor Roll, more than any other league school in that period;
- In 1996, Kentucky had 20 players qualify for the SEC Honor Roll - a league record;
- Kentucky won the 1989 College Football Association Academic Achievement Award for having the highest graduation rate among Division I-A football programs. UK was the first SEC school to win the award and the Wildcats achieved honorable mention status in four other years.

"One of the strengths of Kentucky football has been the academic performance of our players," Coach Hal Mumme says. "Our coaching staff is dedicated to recruiting student-athletes who will succeed in the classroom as well as on the field. We are thankful to have such a great support system available for players."

Much of the credit for UK's academic success goes to the Athletics Association's academic support system - the Center for Academic and Tutorial Services, or simply, "CATS."

UK opened CATS in 1981, the nation's first academic center dedicated exclusively to student-athletes. Over the years, as the services offered by CATS have grown, so did the need for additional space.

As a result, UK has built a new facility - the Ohio Casualty Center for Academic and Tutorial Services, thanks to a one-million dollar grant from the Ohio Casualty Insurance Group. The new Ohio Casualty Center opened in 1998 at a total cost of $2.4 million.

The new CATS, constructed in Memorial Coliseum, includes:

- 20,000 square feet of space - more than double the size of the former CATS facility;
- a computer room housing 35 computers;
- a study area which accommodates 90-100 people;

"One thing that really stands out about my time at Kentucky is CATS. Mr. Bradley, Barb Deniston, and the staff did a great job. We had access to computers, tutors, study halls ... It was very nice to have those resources available. Academically, it was great."

— Dermontti Dawson, former Wildcat and current All-Pro center with the Pittsburgh Steelers

Marvin Major (left) and Mike Webster proudly pose during graduation ceremonies. Major is now working as a tutor in CATS, helping other student-athletes achieve their academic goals.

- 24 tutoring rooms;
- a career development and life skills resource center;
- a community outreach office; and
- offices for the staff.

Certainly, a facility is a good start, but any program - especially in academics - is only as good as the people who run it. And UK is fortunate to have outstanding leaders in its academics support system.

Bob Bradley, Associate Athletics Director for Student Services, oversees the CATS program. Bradley was named National Academic Advisor of the Year in 1989 and 1992.

"The people in the CATS program are really helpful. They make the adjustment to college easier. They teach you time management, study habits, the things you need to succeed. It's something every school needs."

— Lee Wesley, linebacker

CATS has a full-time staff of 10. In addition to Bradley, they are:

- Barb Deniston,
Director of Academic Services;
- Mike Haley, Lisa Buchanan, and Amy Craiglow, Academic Counselors;
- Beth Stice, Student Development Coordinator;
- Shawna Bowyer, Coordinator of Academic Skills;
- Michael Stone, Executive Assistant for the National Consortium of Academics and Sports; and
- Ann Sampson and D' Ann Blankenship,
Staff Assistants.

CATS also employs six graduate assistants and numerous tutors, both from the University and the surrounding community. UK has budgeted more than $1,000,000 for the operation of CATS in the coming year.

"We are extremely proud of what we have accomplished in the academic arena," Bradley says. "The CATS program is focused on winning in the classroom. We look at each student-athlete's individual needs, set goals, and develop strategies to attain those goals. Our center provides our student-athletes with a definite advantage over student-athletes at many other institutions. Our goal is to show that we care about the student as well as the athlete."

For the CATS staff, showing you care means more than helping athletes maintain eligibility, graduate, or win awards. The academics staff also prepares student-athletes for life after college with the Wildcat Career Development Program.

The Career Development Program helps student-athletes look to the future through a step-by-step process which includes:

- Mentoring and internships, which help

The UK Athletics Association began the "Society of Character" in 1999, a select group of student-athletes based on commitment to academics, athletics, personal development, career development, and service. Ten UK student-athletes were inducted into the society in 1999, including football players (from left) Jimmy Carter, Jermaine White, and Jeff Zurcher.

- career counseling;
- resume writing; and
- forming a career plan.

The Wildcat Career Development Program works closely with the University's Career Planning and Placement Center in order to provide additional assistance when needed.

"College is a big jump for any student. CATS helps you with your schedule and tutors. It has to be the best in the nation. It's great."

The William T. Young Library

$58 Million Facility Opens its Doors

In addition to providing the finest in athletic facilities, the University of Kentucky also provides student-athletes with the best in academic facilities. The latest addition to the educational landscape at UK is the $58 million William T. Young Library, which opened a year ago.

- Size: The new library covers 365,350 square feet - more than six football fields. The building is five stories high, plus a basement.

- Shelf capacity: If laid end-to-end, the book-shelf space would stretch 198,828 linear feet - that's more than 37 miles of shelf space. The shelves will house 1.2 million books.

- Seating capacity: The new library can seat more than 4,000 patrons at one time, a 355 percent increase over the old library. The seating on the fifth floor of the new library equals the capacity of the former library.

new library will have an electrical outlet and a computer jack connected to the university's computer system.

It is a privilege to be a student-athlete at a major university. Among the benefits that each student-athlete accrues are significant learning experiences that teach important life lessons. None is more important than learning to give back to the individuals and community that have supported and cheered the student-athlete.

The University of Kentucky has a community and school outreach program that, when initiated, was intended to provide support for young people. The program was viewed as a "one-way" effort, with the student-athlete giving and the community and schools receiving. What actually happened was far more than that.

As UK's "Cats That Care" community and school outreach program has grown over the years, one of the most notable results is the manner in which the student-athletes learn about themselves and grow emotionally. They really do receive by giving.

The Athletic Department's community outreach program began in 1990 when, in cooper-many worthwhile programs and team and individual projects, some of which are listed below:

AMERICORPS: ATHLETES IN SERVICE TO AMERICA -

This program, which began in 1995, addresses the issues of school success and violence prevention in hopes of keeping youth on the right track. It is sponsored by the UK Athletics Association, the Center for the Study of Sport in Society, and AmeriCorps, a national service project designed to help communities meet their education, public safety, human, or environmental needs through service. Ten former UK student-athletes are assigned to two elementary schools, one middle school, and one high school. The corps members work between 30-35 hours each week, serving as mentors, facilitators, and instructors. The corps members also conduct interactive workshops in the areas of media literacy, conflict resolution, cultural diversity, and the prevention of violence matched with elementary students correspond throughout the academic year. As a pen pal to an elementary student, athletes encourage students to read.

D.A.R.E. GRADUATION SPEAKER - Student-athletes give motivational speeches to youth as part of the Drug Awareness Resistance Education Program.

HOSPITAL BREAKFAST WITH SANTA - Each year, UK student-athletes assist the UK Hospital with a special Christmas breakfast for children at the hospital.

KENTUCKY EXCEL MENTOR PROGRAM - UK student-athletes serve as mentors for high school students participating in the Kentucky Excel Program. Kentucky Excel provides college scholarships for students who complete the program.

PARTNERS FOR YOUTH - UK student-athletes helped the Partners for Youth organization hold a summer festival for Lexington children.

SCHOOL SPEAKER - Student-athletes visit a number of local schools, speaking to children on a variety of topics, including the importance of an education, staying off drugs and promoting reading.

SCHOOLHOUSE ROCK - An "academic pep rally" in which UK student-athletes encourage youngsters in academic and social skills. More than 2,000 fourth- and fifth-graders, representing approximately 15 schools, came to Memorial Coliseum for the first Schoolhouse Rock in April, 1997.

Cats That Care

UK's Community Outreach Program

ation with the College of Education, UK student-athletes "adopted" the fifth-grade class at a local school. The program matched student-athletes one-on-one with the school children. The children set goals and the student-athletes monitored their progress and assisted the students in achieving the goals. The program was highly successful and continues today.

"Cats That Care" has expanded to include

schools, community agencies, and summer youth programs.

BUDDY PROGRAM (College of Education) - Student-athletes serve as role models for elementary students at local schools. Athletes help younger students develop self-esteem through weekly interaction.

CELEBRITY VISITOR TO HOSPITAL - Student-athletes visit patients at local hospitals, including rehabilitation facilities and veterans hospitals.

COMPREHENSIVE CARE - Student-athletes talk to 12-15-year-old emotionally disturbed youths about goal-setting.

COPI-CAT PEN PAL - Student-athletes who are

Jeff Zurcher (49), George Massey (97), and Matt Layow (41) perform a skit at the "Schoolhouse Rock" academic pep rally, an annual event for approximately 2,000 fourth- and fifth-grade students.

"The best program we have going at our school."

—School Teacher

"I like my buddy a lot. She helps me with my homework."

—Elementary School Student

"Please do not ever stop this wonderful program. It is one of the most beneficial that our students have ever experienced."

—School Teacher

"On Thursday, March 5, 1998, a UK football player presented his thoughts and ideas with regard to leadership to a group of approximately 50 fourth- and fifth-grade students. He presented himself very well and quickly established rapport with our students. We found him to be sincere and genuine. We are proud to have him as a representative to our Commonwealth."

Rick Mattox, Principal of Mapleton Elementary (Mount Sterling, Ky)

"It was a pleasure working with your two Athletes in Service to America Corps Members. They had a great deal of knowledge to offer in their conflict resolution workshop. You have a phenomenal program."

Christine Faas, AmeriCorps Center for School Success

"Please thank the athletes that talked to our students on their visit to UK. The field trip was a wonderful opportunity for the children to experience academic and athletic success at UK."

Cathy Stuphen, Family Resource Coordinator

"The program is so beneficial to our school, community, and most of all to our students who don't have much hope because of the lack of role models."

—School Teacher

"We as teachers often say the same things the college students do, but they listen to them many times when they don't hear us. I look forward to this great program each semester."

—School Teacher

"Thanks for all your help! UK athletes have helped Bluegrass Impact to provide innovative ideas to meet the needs of families who have children with severe emotional problems. The athletes always make the kids feel better and bring a smile to their faces."

Libby Feindley, Bluegrass Impact

"Copi-Cat is a wonderful program. It's the best way to get my children to read books."

—Elementary School Parent

"If our students want to do something important in life, they have to study as much as play. UK has one of the highest graduation rates and we emphasize that."

—School Teacher

"We talk about a lot of things. He (UK student-athlete) helps me to understand why I should get a good education."

Entrepreneur - One who organizes, operates, and assumes the risk in a business venture in expectation of gaining the profit.

Kentucky football coach Hal Mumme is known for taking risks and having them pay off, but he certainly isn't the first Kentuckian to "make it big" by taking chances.

From the time of frontiersman Daniel Boone, Kentucky always has been known as a commonwealth of pioneers and individualists. This fierce legacy of independence has helped Kentucky produce some of the nation's most successful and noteworthy entrepreneurs.

It is the great entrepreneurs of this country that have been the creators and builders of almost every success story, in business, sports, or other areas of society. Entrepreneurs are people willing to build big dreams, while committing themselves to achieve those goals and not

Certainly, Coach Hal Mumme and the Kentucky program show the entrepreneurial spirit - witness the dramatic turnaround of UK's football fortunes, the national attention

The Kentucky football team is searching for players who have championship dreams, along with the talent and commitment it takes to make those dreams come true.

Those who are in the process of choosing a place for their college education are invited to be a part of the excitement and the entrepreneurial spirit that is the University of Kentucky.

Newton and Coach Hal Mumme at the press conference announcing Orberon's $1.6-million-dollar gift for the construction of a new football office complex that will be attached to the current Nutter Training Center. Orberon has had enormous success in Excel Communications and the recent success of the Wildcats inspired his gift.

William T. Young has achieved remarkable success in several fields, including food manufacturing, storage, trucking, soft drink bottling, and horse racing. A native Lexingtonian and UK graduate, Mr. Young's founding gift of $5 million started fundraising for the magnificent University library that bears his name.

UK graduate John Y. Brown built Kentucky Fried Chicken into the largest food service company in the world and won the National Entrepreneur of the Year Award. He was Governor of Kentucky from 1979-83.

Kim Hatch Burse has been prominent in government and business. She is President and Chief Executive Officer of Louisville Development Bancorp, Inc. Burse, who earned bachelor's and master's degrees at UK, was a member of the Governor's Cabinet as Revenue Secretary for the Commonwealth of Kentucky. She is a member of the UK College of Business and Economics Hall of Fame.

Chris Sullivan is President and Chief Executive Officer of one of the nation's most successful restaurant chains, Outback Steakhouse, which has been recognized as one of the Top 20 small businesses in America by Forbes magazine. As a Kentucky graduate, Sullivan was especially proud when the Wildcats played in the 1999 Outback Bowl.

Derrick Ramsey combined his background in athletics and his administrative experience gained at the University of Kentucky to become Director of Athletics at Kentucky State University. Ramsey is a former UK quarterback and a 10-year NFL veteran.

Perhaps UK's most recognizable sports fan is actress Ashley Judd. Judd became attached to the Wildcats while attending UK and has become one of the nation's brightest movie stars.

Though the above words were written by one of Kentucky's favorite sons, any one of the millions of visitors to the Bluegrass State each year might nod in agreement.

Kentucky embodies the very essence of America, from majestic mountains and forests to vast sparkling lakes, from rolling acres of farm and pastureland to the hustle and bustle of metropolitan centers. And around every turn in the road, Kentucky's colorful past, which helped shape our country's character, is preserved and maintained for all to enjoy. The result is a state so diverse in travel and recreational opportunities that one is hard-pressed to name its equal.

If asked to describe Kentucky, one word that quickly comes to mind is horses. The Bluegrass region of Lexington and central Ken-ry of our nation. Legendary pioneer Daniel Boone laid out Kentucky's second settlement at Fort Boonesborough and nearby, a hundred years later, the Shaker religious sect prospered at picturesque Shaker Village of Pleasant Hill.

Abraham Lincoln was born in Hodgenville (the one-room cabin is part of a National Historic Site). The plantation home that inspired Stephen Foster to write "My Old Kentucky Home" still stands at a state park of the same name. And the region that 200 years ago gave birth to one of Kentucky's most famous exports — bourbon whiskey — is dotted with world-famous distilleries.

Kentucky Facts:

What the Pros Say About UK

Marty Moore - New England Patriots

"At Kentucky, I learned a lot about discipline, hard work, and what it takes to play in this league, but they wanted you to get your education before you thought about playing pro football. Playing at UK was a great experience for me."

Moore is in his fifth season with the Patriots and has played in the Super Bowl.

Doug Pelfrey - Cincinnati Bengals

"Like a lot of other kids in Kentucky, I grew up wanting to play for the Wildcats. I was lucky enough to live out my childhood dream to play for UK. Academically and athletically, UK is a great institution."

Pelfrey enters the 1998 season ranked No. 10 on the NFL's all-time field goal accuracy list (78.9 percent).

Dermontti Dawson - Pittsburgh Steelers

"I enjoyed immensely my time at Kentucky. The basics I learned at UK helped me get started in the NFL. UK helped showcase what I could do as a player ... Academically, it was great."

Dawson is an All-Pro center and has played in the last seven Pro Bowls.
